Huge Crowds Greet Senator

DiSalle Predicts Big Victory For Kennedy In Ohio

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle predicts Ohio on Nov. 8 will give Sen. John F. Kennedy "the greatest majority it ever has given a presidential candidate."

"And if Ohio is what he needs," DiSalle said there Tuesday night, "Senator Kennedy will be the next president of the United States."

The energetic Democratic nominee made a whirlwind, 13-hour motorcade tour of the northeastern sector of the state, speaking five times—at Painesville, Lorain, Mansfield, Akron and Canton.

For the first time he gave this forecast: Ohio will vote for Kennedy.

As Kennedy got set to board his private, two-engine plane at the airport Tuesday night, he told a newsman:

"It was a good day, the best day of the campaign."

The big story was crowds. Kennedy drew them in giant gobs all along the 200-mile route. DiSalle estimated 600,000 to 700,000 Ohioans swarmed to see the handsome New Englander turn on his charm in a bid for the state's 25 electoral votes. It was his second excursion in the Buckeye State in three days.

Buoyed by the reception he received in Cleveland and its suburbs, the usually cautious Kennedy ventured this prediction to the crowd in Lorain:

"I must say that I think Ohio is going Democratic in the November election—and it's going to lead the United States."

A swarm of supporters met Kennedy in Mansfield, where he spoke at Public Square before an estimated 15,000. Then came a flight to Akron, where the Massachusetts senator hit the jackpot as far as crowds were concerned.

Mayor Leo Berg said more than 50,000 turned out for a wild welcome, saturating every foot of the five-mile route from the airport to the armory where Kennedy delivered a speech.

In his Canton speech, Kennedy dealt with unemployment and the need for the federal government to do more about improving the nation's economy.

"Mr. Nixon has said that unemployment is inevitable in a free economy," Kennedy said. "I don't believe it. I believe that our free enterprise system is strong and productive enough to provide jobs for all who want to work."

It is the responsibility of the federal government, Kennedy said, "to see that plants and men are not idle—that our country does not waste its resources of human skills."

Ohio Sen. Frank J. Lausche was touched by the response for Kennedy as he swept through Cleveland. The former five-time Democratic governor was in the car with Kennedy and DiSalle. Lausche said later:

"I can't describe to you the

Khrushchev Handed Defeats On Red China, Congo Issues

Mr. K Says He's Willing To Meet Ike

Makes It Plain He Won't Take First Step For Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev says he's willing to be locked up in a room with President Eisenhower until white smoke—the signal of agreement—floats out of the chimney.

The atheistic Soviet premier quickly snapped up this College of Cardinals idea when it was suggested Tuesday night. He peddled it again during his round of socializing at diplomatic receptions.

"Although I am not a Catholic, I am familiar with the procedure, and I agree," the bouncy Khrushchev told his first host of the evening, Uruguayan U. N. delegate Eduardo Victor Haedo, who initially broached the scheme.

The Uruguayan referred to the Roman Catholic Church's method of picking its Pope. The cardinals are locked inside the Vatican for their deliberations. Not until white smoke pours from the chimney of their stove does the outside world know they have agreed on a new Pope.

After Khrushchev retold the story with gusto at a Czechoslovak reception, a newsman suggested the Kremlin chief under this method might find himself rooming with Eisenhower for quite a spell.

"If they lock you in, what can you do?" Khrushchev replied.

And, Khrushchev added, he is prepared to waft the smoke signal from the Indian peace pipe a New Yorker gave him last week.

Prospects of an Eisenhower-Khrushchev get-together actually seemed more remote than ever. Khrushchev, blaming Eisenhower for the collapse of their 1959 Camp David harmony, made plain he would not move first for another meeting. Eisenhower left town determined not to see Khrushchev until the Soviet leader changes his tune.

Khrushchev did assure newsmen that if the United Nations isn't revamped to his liking, "We won't start a war — sleep in peace."

His Efforts To Oust Dag Seen Failing

Most Of African Nations Reported Behind U.N. Chief

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev went down to defeat today on two of his major objectives in the United Nations — the admission of Red China and an immediate, full-scale debate on "aggression in the Congo."

His efforts to undermine Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold also appeared to be winning little or no support.

In wrangling that went on until early morning the 21-nation steering Committee set back Khrushchev in two critical actions.

First, the committee recommended for the 10th year not to put the question of seating Communist China on this year's agenda for the General Assembly. The Assembly still must ratify the action, but ratification seemed assured.

Second, the committee stopped a Soviet drive to put a debate on events in the Congo before the Assembly. The Soviet proposal contained the phrase, "aggression in the Congo and the creation there of a breeding ground of tension."

This was one of the main grounds on which Khrushchev had assaulted Hammarskjold. He used the word "stooges" and accused the secretary-general of abusing his office — to the advantage of the west — in the way he handled the Congo crisis.

Khrushchev's powerhouse drive to marshal neutralist support against Hammarskjold apparently has failed, a U.S. spokesman said.

Andrew Berding, assistant secretary of state, said at the end of President Eisenhower's stay in New York: "We feel that the great majority of the African nations, whether the older members or new member of the United Nations, are in strong support of Mr. Hammarskjold."

The Steering Committee voted 12-7, with one abstention, not to put the seating of Red China on the agenda this year. The United States made the resolution to shelve the question.

Hancock Jury About To Get Assault Case

Defendant Unable To Remember Night Of Chester Attack

The trial of Harry M. Beck neared the jury today in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland as the defense presented its final two witnesses.

Beck, 41-year-old Georgetown steelworker, is being tried on charges of burglary with intent to commit a felony and felonious and malicious assault upon a young Chester woman in Aug. 28, 1959.

The defense hammered this morning at the mental capacity of the defendant and called to the stand a psychological and guidance service director from Lisbon and an East Liverpool man who had seen Beck the night of the crime.

Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton rested the state's case Tuesday afternoon at 2:29. The jury heard testimony yesterday from two county sheriff's deputies and a New Cumberland squire concerning a reputed confession signed by Beck.

Judge J. Harold Brennan was expected to charge the petit jurors sometime this afternoon and a verdict may be returned today by the 12-member panel.

Beck is accused of entering the apartment of Miss Peggy Joan Stoltz, 24, and beating her with his fists and a pistol. Taking the stand yesterday, Beck testified that he was unable to remember his whereabouts on the night of the attack.

First witness to testify today for the defense was Cornell P. Monda, director of psychological and guidance service in the Lisbon school system.

Monda, who had examined Beck, testified that the Georgetown man had the "mentality of a third grade student and an 8-year-old child." He added that Beck "did not have the capacity to comprehend or respond intelligently on sworn statements."

Monda was followed on the stand today by Alvie McLaughlin, 631

Negroes Cite Registrars On Voting Issue

Civil Rights Group In Louisiana Hears Of Discrimination

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louisiana Negroes today are scheduled for the second day to bare a web of devices in which they claim vote registrars are systematically catching them to deprive them of their right to vote.

"It's pure prejudice on the part of the registrar as to why there are not as many Negroes registered as there could be," testified Ernest N. Francis Jr., a Jackson Parish undertaker.

The U. S. Civil Rights Commission, a fact-finding body, is ending a two-day hearing on complaints of voter discriminations in Louisiana.

Only 28 per cent of eligible Louisiana Negroes are registered, the commission said. That compares with 82 per cent of eligible white voters.

Negroes—a vast majority from rural north Louisiana parishes—told the commission Tuesday they sometimes waited in line all day to register. White applicants merely walked in ahead of them, they said.

When the Negroes got in, a slight error—like "circling a word instead of underlining it"—often disqualified them, witnesses testified.

Others told the commission they were told there were no registration blanks available, or the registrar was out. Or they did not report their age correctly to the year, month and day. Or they hadn't properly identified themselves.

Cooler Weather Due With 45-50 Low Seen

Autumn arrived about a week ago and cooler weather is beginning to pervade the Tri-State District with a low of 45 to 50 degrees forecast for tonight.

The overnight low this morning was 63 after Tuesday's high of 76.

First frost usually arrives by Oct. 7.

The weatherman has been trying to produce rain for a week and he settled today with a forecast of a few afternoon showers to top off what was to be a cool day. The high range was forecast at 65 to 70 degrees.

Thursday will continue cool but sunny.

Dresden Ave. Crash Hurts 3 Men In 2 Cars

East Palestine Area Motorist Will Face City Police Charge

Three men were injured in a two-way crash Tuesday afternoon in the 1700 block of Dresden Ave., police reported.

Admitted to City Hospital were: Roy Ward, 64, of East Palestine R. D. 2, in "fairly good" condition today with injuries of the right elbow and left leg, and Joseph R. Bates, 30, of Tuckertown, N. J., a hitch-hiker riding in the other car, who is in "good" condition with lacerations of the face and head.

Police said Ward's auto, a 1955 sedan, was involved in a collision with a 1960 "compact" operated by Robert Puckett, 24, of Hammondsville. Puckett was released after hospital treatment for abrasions and bruises of the forehead.

When he is released from the hospital, Ward will face a Municipal Court hearing on a citation for driving left of center, officers said.

Puckett was outbound on Dresden about 35 miles an hour and Ward was inbound, traveling about 10 miles an hour, when the crash occurred at 1:11 p. m., police said.

Puckett told police Ward made a turn in front of him. Puckett said he applied the brakes and swerved, but was unable to avoid a collison, as Ward's car was in his lane.

Ward told police he extended his arm from the car window to signal a turn to a truck which was following him. He said he was watching the truck and was unaware of the approach of Puckett's car until the moment of impact.

Police listed Ward's car as a total loss. There was damage to the front and right side of Puckett's car, officers said.

Wellsville Woman Hurt In Lisbon Area Crash

Mrs. Marjorie McCarron, 1760 Chester Ave., Wellsville, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a car-truck mishap on Route 164 near Lisbon Tuesday.

Mrs. McCarron, who suffered bruises and abrasions of the face and knees, reported her car was struck by a truck. She was admitted at 2 p. m.

Congo Leaders Invited

Parley On Peace Called By Mobutu

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Col. Joseph Mobutu dispatched 26 of his aides today into the provinces to invite political leaders to a roundtable conference that he hopes will end weeks of government chaos.

Among the scheduled air stops at the Congo's biggest cities is Elisabethville, where Mobutu's mission will try to persuade Moise Tshombe, premier of secessionist Katanga Province, to join the roundtable next week.

Mobutu indicated that, if his mission there fails, he himself may go to Elisabethville to talk Tshombe into joining the conference.

The roundtable has the blessing of Premier-designate Joseph Ileo. Ileo was named to head the government by President Joseph Kasavubu after the president fired Premier Patrice Lumumba. Ileo has not yet been approved by Parliament.

Mobutu, 29, the Congo's strong man, has made several efforts recently to achieve a reconciliation with Lumumba, but apparently with little success. Lumumba has been insisting on reconciliation on his terms—namely, retention of his premiership.

The Communist-supported Lumumba refuses to admit he has been fired and still lives grandly in the premier's luxurious riverside residence.

Dedication To Be Friday

2 National Survey Aides To Speak At Marker Rites

Two speakers known nationally among the ranks of men who survey and map the earth's surface will appear at a ceremony here Friday at 11 a. m. for dedication of a monument marking the 175th anniversary of establishing the "point of beginning" for laying out the western public lands of the United States.

They are Rear Adm. H. Arnold Karo, director of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey and national president of the American Congress on Surveying and Mapping, and Donald A. Clement, cadastral mapping engineer for the U. S. Bureau of Land Management, a branch of the Department of the Interior.

They will speak at a program in a little roadside park at the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line, new site of a big granite monument that formerly stood hidden in a deep depression in the depths of a slag fill between the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks and the Ohio River bank.

The observance is being arranged jointly by the East Liverpool Historical Society and ACSM. The relocated monument dates back to 1881, when it was placed by a joint commission appointed by the states of Ohio and Pennsylvania to remark the boundary line established in 1786.

The ceremony Friday will commemorate the fact that it was exactly 175 years ago—Sept. 30, 1785—that Thomas Hutchins, first geographer of the United States, began the survey of uncharted wilderness land which the federal government hoped to sell to boost the debt-ridden treasury.

Hutchins' first east-west survey, which later became known as the "Geographers' Line," started from the "point of beginning" which had been established on the north bank of the Ohio on Aug. 20, 1785. Surveys made lately by City Engineer George S. Bloomgren have established that the "point of beginning" was 1,112 feet south of the spot where the relocated monument stands.

Adm. Karo is expected to discuss the significance of the "point of beginning" in relation to the American rectangular land survey system. Clement will appear as a representative of the government agency that is the successor to the old General Land Office, which once administered public lands.

His occupation title of cadastral engineer refers to the mapping of extensive areas. At present, his work is centered on mapping sections of Alaska.

William H. Vodrey Jr. of the local Historical Society will introduce Ralph Moore Berry, professor of geodesy and surveying at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, who then will speak briefly and present the other speakers.

Directors Set $82,368 Goal In Fund Drive

Black Makes Appeal For Volunteers For October Campaign

A goal of $82,368 was announced today for the October fund-raising campaign of the Community Fund Association by Chairman William A. Black.

The amount needed to carry on the work of the six agencies participating in the fund was determined by the association's Board of Trustees in planning sessions with the Budget Committee.

The allocations follow: Boy Scouts, $14,000; Girl Scouts, $11,000; YMCA, $31,000; Salvation Army, $12,000; Recreation Council, $7,768, and USO, $100. Association directors also set aside $6,500 for campaign expenses and as a "shrinkage" fund to cover unfulfilled pledges, Black said.

In discussing the figure, Black pointed out that while it is a few hundred dollars under last year's goal $83,000, actual collections anticipated fell some $10,000 short of the goal, with the six Agencies receiving approximately 87½ per cent of last year's budget allocation.

"Through extra effort on the part of volunteer solicitors and by setting our budget at the essential amount of $82,368, we have every hope of this year achieving our goal," Black explained and urged that "each of us give just a little more than in the past".

He said a series of organizational meetings will be held in the next 10 days, with quotas and working schedules for the various campaign divisions being set up.

The chairman asked that all area residents who work in or benefit from the services of any of the six fund agencies volunteer their services now to the campaign. According to Black, about 800 will be needed. Volunteers are asked to phone campaign headquarters at FUlton 5-2082 and enroll as division workers.

Board To End Voting Signup At 10 Tonight

East Liverpool voter registration for the Nov. 8 Presidential election will close tonight at 10 at the County Election Board's office on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall.

The board's staff, deluged by would-be voters this morning, expected an even heavier rush this afternoon and tonight.

A total of 202 enrolled yesterday, pushing to 11,167 the estimated total qualified for the November balloting. The board's staff registered 129 and 73 more were registered at 3 branch offices which operated Monday and Tuesday in East End, Pleasant Heights and North Side.

But the Election Board's office is the only point where voters may register today. The branch offices operated only Monday and yesterday. Seventy-one transfers—changes of address—also were handled yesterday, pushing to 415 the total listed in the current registration drive.

In yesterday's rush, 37 were registered at the East End office—the Louis-James Clothing Store on Mulberry St.—21 were enrolled at the North Side Fire Station and 15 signed at the Pleasant Heights School.

The board emphasized that East Liverpool is the only Columbiana County community in which voter registration is required.

Meanwhile, today was the first day for issuance of ballots for the Presidential and vice presidential elections for new Ohio residents who do not meet the one-year

Chester Club Hears Hall

New High School Hinted In Northern Hancock Area

The possibility of erecting a new northern Hancock County high school to serve Chester, Newell and New Cumberland was discussed by County Supt. Robert Hall at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Hall said a survey of school facilities for the county is being made by the planning division of Ohio State University, and may include a recommendation for a new senior high school for sophomores, junior and seniors for the three communities and areas.

He said the report is due shortly and he doesn't know "what they will come up with." But he said the school recommendation is a possibility.

The superintendent indicated if such a recommendation were accepted, the new school would probably be constructed about half way between Chester and New Cumberland.

He said the planning report would be submitted by the Board of Education to residents of the county for a decision.

Hall said, "Our schools are growing and we are on the move to improve the system. I think if you would inspect the schools, at any time, you would be proud of them."

The superintendent said a school bond issue will be presented to voters before July 1 for continuation of the present levy plus an increased amount, but taxpayers

Police said Ward's auto, a 1955 sedan, was involved in a collision with a 1960 "compact" operated by Robert Puckett, 24, of Hammondsville. Puckett was released after hospital treatment for abrasions and bruises of the forehead.

When he is released from the hospital, Ward will face a Municipal Court hearing on a citation for driving left of center, officers said.

Puckett was outbound on Dresden about 35 miles an hour and Ward was inbound, traveling about 10 miles an hour, when the crash occurred at 1:11 p. m., police said.

Puckett told police Ward made a turn in front of him. Puckett said he applied the brakes and swerved, but was unable to avoid a collison, as Ward's car was in his lane.

Ward told police he extended his arm from the car window to signal a turn to a truck which was following him. He said he was watching the truck and was unaware of the approach of Puckett's car until the moment of impact.

Police listed Ward's car as a total loss. There was damage to the front and right side of Puckett's car, officers said.

Congo Leaders Invited

Parley On Peace Called By Mobutu

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Col. Joseph Mobutu dispatched 26 of his aides today into the provinces to invite political leaders to a roundtable conference that he hopes will end weeks of government chaos.

Among the scheduled air stops at the Congo's biggest cities is Elisabethville, where Mobutu's mission will try to persuade Moise Tshombe, premier of secessionist Katanga Province, to join the roundtable next week.

Mobutu indicated that, if his mission there fails, he himself may go to Elisabethville to talk Tshombe into joining the conference.

The roundtable has the blessing of Premier-designate Joseph Ileo. Ileo was named to head the government by President Joseph Kasavubu after the president fired Premier Patrice Lumumba. Ileo has not yet been approved by Parliament.

Mobutu, 28, the Congo's strong man, has made several efforts recently to achieve a reconciliation with Lumumba, but apparently with little success. Lumumba has been insisting on reconciliation on his terms—namely, retention of his premiership.

The Communist-supported Lumumba refuses to admit he has been fired and still lives grandly in the premier's luxurious riverside residence.

Dedication To Be Friday

2 National Survey Aides To Speak At Marker Rites

Two speakers known nationally among the ranks of men who survey and map the earth's surface will appear at a ceremony here Friday at 11 a. m. for dedication of a monument marking the 175th anniversary of establishing the "point of beginning" for laying out the western public lands of the United States.

They are Rear Adm. H. Arnold Karo, director of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey and national president of the American Congress on Surveying and Mapping, and Donald A. Clement, cadastral mapping engineer for the U. S. Bureau of Land Management, a branch of the Department of the Interior.

They will speak at a program in a little roadside park at the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line, new site of a big granite monument that formerly stood hidden in a deep depression in the depths of a slag fill between the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks and the Ohio River bank.

The observance is being arranged jointly by the East Liverpool Historical Society and ACSM. The relocated monument dates back to 1881, when it was placed by a joint commission appointed by the states of Ohio and Pennsylvania to remark the boundary line established in 1786.

The ceremony Friday will commemorate the fact that it was exactly 175 years ago—Sept. 30, 1785—that Thomas Hutchins, first geographer of the United States, began the survey of uncharted wilderness land which the federal government hoped to sell to boost the debt-ridden treasury.

Hutchins' first east-west survey, which later became known as the "Geographers' Line," started from the "point of beginning" which had been established on the north bank of the Ohio on Aug. 20, 1785. Surveys made lately by City Engineer George S. Bloomgren have established that the "point of beginning" was 1,112 feet south of the spot where the relocated monument stands.

Adm. Karo is expected to discuss the significance of the "point of beginning" in relation to the American rectangular land survey system. Clement will appear as a representative of the government agency that is the successor to the old General Land Office, which once administered public lands.

His occupation title of cadastral engineer refers to the mapping of extensive areas. At present, his work is centered on mapping sections of Alaska.

William H. Vodrey Jr. of the local Historical Society will introduce Ralph Moore Berry, professor of geodesy and surveying at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, who then will speak briefly and present the other speakers.

Directors Set $82,368 Goal In Fund Drive

Black Makes Appeal For Volunteers For October Campaign

A goal of $82,368 was announced today for the October fund-raising campaign of the Community Fund Association by Chairman William A. Black.

The amount needed to carry on the work of the six agencies participating in the fund was determined by the association's Board of Trustees in planning sessions with the Budget Committee.

The allocations follow: Boy Scouts, $14,000; Girl Scouts, $11,000; YMCA, $31,000; Salvation Army, $12,000; Recreation Council, $7,768, and USO, $100. Association directors also set aside $6,500 for campaign expenses and as a "shrinkage" fund to cover unfulfilled pledges, Black said.

In discussing the figure, Black pointed out that while it is a few hundred dollars under last year's goal $83,000, actual collections anticipated fell some $10,000 short of the goal, with the six Agencies receiving approximately 87½ per cent of last year's budget allocation.

"Through extra effort on the part of volunteer solicitors and by setting our budget at the essential amount of $82,368, we have every hope of this year achieving our goal," Black explained and urged that "each of us give just a little more than in the past".

He said a series of organizational meetings will be held in the next 10 days, with quotas and working schedules for the various campaign divisions being set up.

The chairman asked that all area residents who work in or benefit from the services of any of the six fund agencies volunteer their services now to the campaign. According to Black, about 800 will be needed. Volunteers are asked to phone campaign headquarters at FUlton 5-2682 and enroll as division workers.

Board To End Voting Signup At 10 Tonight

East Liverpool voter registration for the Nov. 8 Presidential election will close tonight at 10 at the County Election Board's office on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall.

The board's staff, deluged by would-be voters this morning, expected an even heavier rush this afternoon and tonight.

A total of 202 enrolled yesterday, pushing to 11,167 the estimated total qualified for the November balloting. The board's staff registered 129 and 73 more were registered at 3 branch offices which operated Monday and Tuesday in East End, Pleasant Heights and North Side.

But the Election Board's office is the only point where voters may register today. The branch offices operated only Monday and yesterday. Seventy-one transfers—changes of address—also were handled yesterday, pushing to 415 the total listed in the current registration drive.

In yesterday's rush, 37 were registered at the East End office—the Louis-James Clothing Store on Mulberry St.—21 were enrolled at the North Side Fire Station and 15 signed at the Pleasant Heights School.

The board emphasized that East Liverpool is the only Columbiana County community in which voter registration is required.

Meanwhile, today was the first day for issuance of ballots for the Presidential and vice presidential elections for new Ohio residents who do not meet the one-year

Chester Club Hears Hall

New High School Hinted In Northern Hancock Area

The possibility of erecting a new northern Hancock County high school to serve Chester, Newell and New Cumberland was discussed by County Supt. Robert Hall at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Hall said a survey of school facilities for the county is being made by the planning division of Ohio State University, and may include a recommendation for a new senior high school for sophomores, junior and seniors for the three communities and areas.

He said the report is due shortly and he doesn't know "what they will come up with." But he said the school recommendation is a possibility.

The superintendent indicated if such a recommendation were accepted, the new school would probably be constructed about half way between Chester and New Cumberland.

He said the planning report would be submitted by the Board of Education to residents of the county for a decision.

Hall said, "Our schools are growing and we are on the move to improve the system. I think if you would inspect the schools, at any time, you would be proud of them."

The superintendent said a school bond issue will be presented to voters before July 1 for continuation of the present levy plus an increased amount, but taxpayers

Plymouth Offers New Look, Many Outstanding Features

Plymouth for 1961 has a completely new look of beauty and a new ride of stability.

The Fury four-door hardtop above is among the models. Plymouth is being displayed by Mackall Motors, Inc., 1503 Pennsylvania Ave.; East Liverpool Central Service, 142 W. 7th St., and Grafton Motor Sales, 327 Main St., Wellsville.

HERE ARE some of the features which the Plymouth will offer:

An alternator replaces the old-type generator, keeping the battery charging even when the car is idling in traffic with lights, radio, and windshield wiper operating. This lengthens battery life and eliminates the "won't start" complaint on cold winter mornings resulting from battery failure.

An improved carburetor needle valve saves gas because it keeps the air-gas mixture from getting too rich. It has an anti-flood feature for easier starting.

A new distributor has a nylon rubbing block at the breaker points which last longer and reduces the need for adjustment to maintain fine performance.

IMPROVEMENTS in the steering system makes steering easier.

New quiet-cushioning action built into the shock absorbers makes the ride even quieter.

New longer-lasting tires are squeal-resistant and help eliminate noise by lowering the road hum level. Life of the tread has been increased by 15 per cent.

The uni-body construction has been further refined through more precise manufacturing methods and is even more solid and quiet.

A new magnetic drive in the speedometer operates more quietly by eliminating gear noise resulting from metal-to-metal contact.

The starting system has a new solenoid shift which is quieter and longer wearing.

6 District Chiefs Invited

Dinner Slated As Prelude To Fire Prevention Week

The chiefs of 6 district volunteer fire departments have been invited to a dinner and program Monday night at 6:30 at the Travelers Hotel that will serve as a prelude to the East Liverpool area observance of National Fire Prevention Week Oct. 9-15.

The observance is being arranged by the safety committee of the Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the city's fire department and East Liverpool fire insurance underwriters.

About 20 are expected at the dinner meeting. Visiting chiefs will include Carl Durham of Newell, LaVerne Seckman of Calcutta, William Glover of Chester, Robert Jones of Glenmoor, Charles Michaels of Lawrenceville and Edwin Emmerling of Liverpool Township. The LaCroft and Dixonville departments, units of the Liverpool Township force, also are expected to be represented.

The city administration and the local fire department will be represented by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver, Chief Charles Bryan and Asst. Chief James Pelley. Glen Wilson will represent the local underwriters.

Each department's representatives will be given an opportunity to detail his community's program for Fire Prevention Week. The chiefs will be given printed material for use in the drive, including check-lists for inspection for home fire hazards and posters calling attention to the dates of the observance.

A similar general meeting of chiefs was held to kick off the 1959 observance.

Meanwhile, material for the Fire Prevention Week program is being distributed this week to be passed on to pupils in intermediate grades in the East Liverpool, Chester, Newell and Beaver Local school systems.

The youngsters will be given copies of a "fire safety check list" and asked to check their homes for potential fire hazards. In rural areas, a similar list will be used for farm fire safety inspection.

The children also will receive cartoon booklets illustrating common causes of fire. Classrooms will receive copies of President Eisenhower's Fire Prevention Week proclamation and big posters with the message: "Stop Fires, Save Lives."

Material for distribution to households includes a small placard on which parents may list vital telephone numbers when leaving their children with baby-sitters. It shows the numbers at which the sitter can reach the fire and police departments, the family doctor and the parents.

As part of the observance, the fire prevention posters will be displayed in the windows of business places. The educational material was provided by the Board of Fire Underwriters.

The Chamber's safety committee has sent letters to area industrial plants, asking if they would be interested in forming factory fire brigades. The volunteer employes could be trained by the fire department which has jurisdiction in the area where the plant is located so that an experienced force would be on hand to cope with blazes.

The Chamber safety committee is comprised of Alvin Arner, chairman, Alvin Arner Jr., Richard Lee, Harold Allison, Judson English and William Laughlin. The committee was assisted by Chief Bryan, Asst. Chief Pelley and Wilson, as underwriter's representative.

Enterprise Made The Soapboxes

The television industry's face-to-face presentation of Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy was a thumping success.

The impact was terrific. It exceeded anything in the past and opened exciting possibilities for the future.

If candidates and voters get used to this sort of thing, there may be fewer icicles at 20 paces, which was the weak point of the first show, and more slam-banging. There might even be a real debate, with no holds barred.

Resolved: That the United States must have been on the right track for the last 184 years or it wouldn't be where it is today.

Sen. Kennedy has been taking the negative side, against Vice President Nixon's affirmative statements, so it would fall to his lot in a real debate to spell out the nation's record of failure.

It is hard to believe the list is as long and abysmal as he thinks it is. There is a suspicion that he is harping on failure because he must scare his countrymen into voting for him.

But the suspicion of hypocrisy does less credit to Sen. Kennedy than a straightforward belief that he doesn't know what he's talking about.

We're inclined, therefore, to give him the benefit of the doubt and concede that he is shocked by the state of the nation.

EVERYBODY goes through this experience sometime. It's part of the gritty process of growing up. It marks the break from enchantment to reality. It's part of the hard, cold facts that realists are always urging others to be aware of.

We don't know just when Sen. Kennedy discovered that his countrymen work for a living with varying degrees of success and that they come in assorted degrees of intelligence and culture.

We don't know how long ago he became imbued with the despairing notion that many of us aren't up to the requirements of self-sufficient citizenship and need more paternalism in Washington to help us keep our noses clean.

Some of the things he says sound as if he thought the rest of us had made such a mess of building this country and its people that we should have been put into institutions, and this galls us.

Most of us have worked hard all our lives to do what was right and necessary. We slugged at our jobs, paid taxes for collective improvements such as schools and highways, thanked God for a system that didn't let politicians breathe down our necks all the time and built what we thought was a good country.

To be told now that we have been on the wrong track and will end up in the international dump unless we turn our affairs over to Sen. Kennedy and his associates is a shock.

WE ARE MOST unclear about his associates. They come in all colors and shapes. They are Americans for Democratic Action, who are the central hot-shots in the Big Brother movement in U.S. politics.

They are virtually all the union bosses, except Hoffa, although our common sense tells us there's something screwy about such unanimity. We can be sure not all the men and women who belong to the unions are for Kennedy.

There are the southern Democrats he never mentions, because they have no use for him and the ADA and the New York Liberal party and the other left-leaners. What they do have use for is patronage, so for the most part they will try to whoop Sen. Kennedy into office with their Solid South votes.

And that, of course, is the most unclear thing of all about the senator's associates. They had a numerical steamroller in this session of Congress, but the steamroller was not rolling for Kennedy in the August session, so he blames Republicans for the inability of the Democratic coalition to coalesce.

The candidate we favor for the presidency is Vice President Nixon. His idea of the way to keep building America is to continue to release the imagination, energy and patriotism of its people.

Mr. Nixon is not shocked by the state of the nation. He is pleased by what has been done so far and sanguine about the future if we continue to move in the same direction.

WHEN HE TRAVELS about the country, he sees what we do for ourselves. He looks at factories, houses, highways, public buildings and the people who built them and says, "Go get 'em!" Sen. Kennedy seems to say, "Let us go get 'em. You don't know how."

Sen. Kennedy claims the Communists are getting ready to beat the daylights out of us unless we become more like socialists.

We claim the way to beat the Communists is to keep doing what made this country the envy of the world when Karl Marx and his spielers had nothing but the soapboxes they stood on—boxes that had contained soap offered at reasonable prices to those among the unwashed who wanted to buy it. In Russia, they still have no soap.

By bringing Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy face to face, the television industry sharpened the contrast between the two candidates.

Sen. Kennedy can't see how the rest of us will survive without a Big Brother government spending and collecting more and more of the fruits of our labor.

Vice President Nixon thinks we'll do all right if we keep on using the same methods that built the country and gave it a fair share of millionaires.

We'll take Nixon for our salvation.

Meanwhile Back At The Laboratory

Under other circumstances, a report in the New England Journal of Medicine that a team of medical researchers at the University of Chicago had isolated one of the viruses blamed for the common cold would have caused as much comment as Castro's chicken-pluckers or Khrushchev's desk-thumpers.

Even as it is, there's comfort in knowing medical scientists are grinding away at their quiet task of improving the physical lot of mankind. If they seem a little lonely at the moment, it's only because there remains so much to be done in the untouched field of mental health, political division.

There will be days for most of us this winter when the misery of a cold will black out our concern with political confusion. We'll be holed up with our personal despair, with no thoughts for the current generation of group-despair specialists.

We shall think then, if we have the energy, about the possibility that medical researchers may do what they have been trying to do throughout this century — isolate the virus that causes the common cold and learn to destroy it safely when it sneaks into our bodies. They apparently have made a good start.

The name of the virus is Chimpanzee Agent. It could be the one that will make millions of us feel, look and act like sick apes before another winter has passed.

Thanks for the thread of hope, Dr. Marc Beem, Dr. F. Howell Wright and Mrs. Dorothy M. Hamre. We'll cling to it.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A laundryman, sent to the United Nations as a delegate, quit, flew back swiftly, disgusted with diplomatic routines and returned to his laundry vowing "Never again."

This is too bad. Anybody in the laundry business would seem to have special advantages in the United Nations. First the faith everything will "come out in the wash"; secondly, the organization needs men of starch.

The United Nations is a world laundromat, into which a tremendous load of dirty linen is dumped for cleansing.

Its purpose is to clean the world of hatreds, envies, suspicions and violence, tough work with or without the right soap-powders. "Come clean" could be a slogan in all languages.

There are delegates who throw flatirons around like guided missiles, turn on the cold water and burn holes in cuffs and collars just for the hell of it. But a good laundryman belongs there.

He is accustomed to dirty linen, towels from fight clubs and flatwork mixed in with delicate fabrics. This fast-retiring, delegate puts all laundrymen in a bad light. It is hoped the laundrymen of the world don't follow his example and let the U.N. diplomacy go unwashed.

"DARKEST AFRICA" is now so much in the brilliant spotlight that were Stanley to return, he would exclaim "Wrong address for Dr. Livingstone, I presume." Things have changed so much that lions, elephants and rhinos now conduct safaris to see the new types of human beings.

An Irishman, Frederick H. Boland, is president of the current United Nations General Assembly and his opening speech was one of the best in the U.N.'s history. He is a Dublin lad and when in college organized a student jazz band.

Nasser is occupying a mansion at Sands Point, L.I. It has everything but camels. May-be the word "Sands" makes an Egyptian feel especially at home.

From 50,000 to 100,000 swallows took over an entire runway at Idlewild Airport, closing it to planes. Airport folks asked Audubon Society for advice. They evidently don't know that swallows are among the most persistent, stubborn and hard-to-shoo-away birds, a fact anybody who has had them in an old barn could explain. Let a barn swallow make up its mind to nest in an airplane motor and it will not take "NO" for an answer.

Two Air Force pilots, William D. Habluetzel and John Hargreaves have spent 30 days in a moon capsule, or long enough to have made the trip, spent 13 days on the moon, and returned to earth. They lost weight but seemed to be in good shape otherwise.

Imaginary conversation in the moon-cone: "How are we doing?" "Your opinion is as good as mine." "Tell me something in confidence: How did we get into this project?" "I was about to ask you the same question." "I think we volunteered but I would like it confirmed." What day is this?" "What difference could it make to us?"

Odd Facts

Some health authorities claim it is more or less injurious to a person's health to put his mental processes to work immediately after a meal, because of the fact that this takes blood away from the digestive organs to the brain. Which, of course, is a big point in favor of the popular tropical custom of taking a siesta, or nap, immediately after the noon meal!

The distinction between a passport and a visa is that the former generally is a document authorizing a person to pass out of or into a country, while the latter is an endorsement on a passport, denoting that it has been examined and that the bearer is permitted to proceed.

The Hard Way

GE Expresses Views In Frank Letter

By Victo r Riesel

BOSTON

Sheriffs and police chiefs in communities where General Electric produces anything from outerspace rafts to refrigerators have been receiving visitors intent on philosophical discussions. For months now GE executives have been talking with the authorities about law enforcement for all, even during a strike.

Victor Riesel

In some communities, they have said to the sheriffs that there has been a double standard resulting in considerable rocking and rolling outside their plant gates.

For some time now the outspoken GE policy makers have been expecting a national strike in October. For some time they have planned to operate their installations in the face of picketing by Jim Carey's International Union of Electrical Workers.

THIS IS EVIDENT from a letter dispatched by the general manager of five departments in three GE installations in the nearby Lynn area.

It is a frank communication. It states bluntly GE believes it is the right of all workers to cross picket lines peacefully.

Similar mailings were sent to tens of thousands of workers in 57 other GE factories across the country.

"In the event that we become involved in a strike," the message says, "we plan to keep the plant open for all who have work to do.

"I think you should know that you have the right to come to work if there should be a strike even though a union picket line is set up outside the plant gates.

"Pickets have the right to ask you not to go to work, but they do not have any right to prevent you by force and violence from entering your place of work."

This was written, but not mailed, before the strike vote was set by the union for Sept. 25, a Sunday.

The company objected to the use of the Sabbath saying that only disciplined members would ballot. Then GE offered its facilities for polling right in the plant.

THE COMPANY said no one would be docked for time spent casting a ballot for or against the strike.

Furthermore, the firm called for a secret ballot instead of a stand-up or voice vote.

The union asserted this was interference and filed an unfair labor practice charge. Then the company mailed its communication.

"Whether you as an individual wish to strike is a matter for your own individual choice. That is the law," continued the letter.

"As far as picketing is concerned the law also makes it clear that a union. . .has the right to publicize the strike by placing pickets at plant entrances. These pickets have no legal right to hinder anyone who is trying to enter or leave the plant. You, therefore, have every right to cross the picket line to go to work.

"In fact, in a very real sense, if you do not cross a peaceful picket line, you have joined the strike.

"This raises the question of what you can do in the event that you come to work some morning only to find your entrance blocked by union pickets. The decision. . .is up to you but I would make these broad suggestions you might wish to take."

Then the general manager outlined a six-point proposal. The letter says try other plant gates if the police can't clear "your" usual one.

Report to the nearest police officer, says the firm, "if pickets should bar your entrance through the use of force."

Employes are then urged to make a list of people, witnesses and police to whom the non-striker has appealed.

SIGNIFICANT is the plant manager's advice to make a report in writing. The letter says, "You may wish to keep a copy. . .in case you should decide to file a suit for damages against the union."

The letter also warns that the company will discipline any employe who indulges in unlawful conduct on the picket line.

The letter says the manager wants no violence or exposure to bodily harm in attempting to cross the picket line. This is a historic document.

It will be seen as a challenge not only by Jim Carey, but by all his colleagues—and right at the height of the presidential campaign.

Letter To The Editor

I have read and re-rear your endorsement of Nixon for president. As an independent voter, I reply:

Where in the U.S. is there a more partisan politican than Nixon? That is why he has succeeded in politics. If he makes his pitch above partisanship, he will be talking away from the facts of political life that won him the nomination. He will be fanning the air as Dewey did against Truman. Taft was a partisan, and he let it be known.

What do voters need to think about? Eisenhower's use of the vice-presidency was a good precedent, but a precedent stands on its own merits. To say that Nixon's eight-year apprenticeship warrants him the presidency is false. Obviously, he has learned the mechanics of the office. If he has learned the spirit of the office from Eisenhower, then the Republicans made a poor choice and Rockefeller will stand forth as a prophet, with or without Nixon's election.

There is widespread dissatisfaction with the Eisenhower administration. In this country there are vast areas of chronic unemployment. Ask anyone who works at Crucible Steel what the situation is there. The East Liverpool area was recently downgraded as an employment center, so your newspaper reported.

There is something radically wrong with the administration's foreign policy when Japan, with its favorable trading position in the U.S., is unable, or unwilling, to receive the President of this country. I feel this is true, regardless of the Communists, who are sometimes used as whipping-boys by those who have loused up a situation.

I agree with you that Nixon is the nominee of an integrated political party. The Republican party, it appears to me, is the most integrated minority in the U.S. I supported Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956, believing he would lead the Republican party to a more liberal viewpoint. He could not beat them, so he joined them; or else he was one of them from the beginning.

Another point you mentioned was the minorities in the Democratic party. This country is made up of many minorities. A political organization in which minorities find a place to at least talk things over is better than one which has the attitude that "things will work themselves out". Nixon does not even have the "talking" acquaintance with the quote (separate and quarreling elements) unquote of the country which Kennedy does have.

When and where did Kennedy say "Socialism is the New Frontier for Americans"? I am repeating your printed innuendo.

Is it not possible that capitalism is more flexible than the rigid pattern in which it has long been held? Pershaps automation will prove this by forcing it.

Still answering you: The American Revolution was a political idea and ideal. "No representation, no taxation". The harm comes when people transfer the economic ideas together with the political ideas of that dav into the present. Man, in our technological civilization, surrounded by machinery, cannot be realistically considered an economic unit. In large industry, a man's worth per hour no longer determines his wage: what a man and his family require to live on is what counts. Let the Revolution live on in our hearts; not in our heads.

As for political leadership: A man who used every resource he had to gain the nomination of the "separate and quarreling elements" has already shown more political leadership than one who only had to inherit an "integrated party".

Unanswered Questions

By David Lawrence

What Is TV Debate Effect On Undecided Voter?

Now that the first of a series of so-called "Great Debates" between the two rival candidates for the presidency can be sized up, what is the effect upon the relatively small number of voters who are undecided?

David Lawrence

For, so far as the decided voters are concerned, they have their minds made up to such an extent that in all probability what they have heard thus far confirms their judgment. This is mostly because their decision has already been influenced by issues or prejudices about personalities or other factors in the presidential campaign.

The undecided voter is not necessarily one who is waiting to hear the issues expounded thoroughly before rendering a profound judgment on their merits.

More often the undecided voter is entirely unfamiliar with the background of a candidate or the issues and just hasn't taken the time to become informed. He rarely does until late in October.

It has often been argued that the undecided voters, while in the minority, do hold the balance of power and can swing an election. But what is it that ultimately decides them?

Is it a liking for the face of a candidate or his manner of speaking or what he says on the stump that appeals to the individual voter?

All these factors have their influence, but there is also the fickle voter—the man or woman who shifts from one nominee to the other as something is said or, on television now, as some grimace or expression of the face in answer to a question creates a doubt or a liking.

IN MANY CAMPAIGNS the remark is heard, "He looks like a president to me" or "He just doesn't look like a president."

Younger voters tend to be impressionistic and judge by looks.

The more mature voters look at things a little more carefully and tend to ask basic questions: "What will the election of a Democrat or a Republican mean to me? What kind of times will we have? Will I keep my job? Will things cost more? Will my son be drafted and have to go to war? Which candidate seems to have more experience and will know how to deal with the Russians?"

Previous canvasses of the electorate tend to show that most voters have decided on the answers to such questions long before the campaign begins.

Post-election surveys reveal that things which were often regarded as spectacular issues during a campaign did not really amount to very much in influencing the voting except perhaps in certain localities.

Just what causes 75 million voters to make up their minds to vote for one candidate or the other?

Party affiliation and tradition have much to do with it. New voters to a small degree follow their family voting record but most of them like to make up their own minds.

Often they talk in independent terms during the campaign but, on entering the voting booth, they follow the viewpoint of their friends—they are indeed to a large extent influenced by older voters.

Although Oct. 1 is approaching and the final stretch is likely to be filled with dramatic exchanges of view between the candidates and their lieutenants in the battle for votes, the biggest single issue doesn't seem to have been focused upon thus far as sharply as it probably will be in the closing weeks of the campaign.

Fundamentally, it is whether this is the time for a change in administration.

IN A SENSE this issue has been touched upon in the discussions already heard about experience and maturity of judgment, but these are only collateral points.

The bit unanswered question is whether the American people really want a change in administration in Washington in these times.

It isn't merely a change in the person occupying the White House, for President Eisenhower is moving out anyway, but whether the entire machinery of the incumbent administration shall be turned out of office and an almost entirely new crew put in charge of the ship of state.

This would mean replacement of cabinet officers and other assistants, ambassadors and ministers and various high-ranking officials throughout the government.

While another Republican president would doubtless follow in the main the Eisenhower policies, a Democratic president would be pledged by his party platform to change them radically.

Do the people want such a change and what explicitly are they being promised by way of a change in foreign policy and economic policies?

Will a desire for change be aroused after listening to or watching the "great debates"?

Are crowds and cheers or personality to be decisive? Curiosity brings out crowds, as William Jennings Bryan, the most colorful candidate of the century, found out after three defeats—it doesn't necessarily mean favorable votes.

IN THE FINAL ANALYSIS, voters decide on what the change in administration could mean for them personally.

If there is a high tide of dissatisfaction and discontent running, it doesn't matter who the opposing candidate is or whether he makes many speeches or public appearances at meetings or on television shows.

Also, if there is no such tide and only the usual campaign criticism, and the American people just don't think it is "time to change horses in midstream," as the political saying goes, the party of the administration in power will be continued by a landslide of electoral votes.

For, though many a state may be close, the election can be decided by a tiny majority within each state.

Snack-Snappers

By Truman Twill

It should not have surprised me, though it did, to learn that "snack" came from the noise a dog makes when it snaps — the noise that someone with an imaginative ear once likened to the "closing of a velvet box."

The word had set off a binge of curiosity because the newly opened jar of little goodies shaped like acorns and brown in color was labeled "Snack" and bore the word several places in the descriptive blurb about its contents. It's a good sales word.

But the curiosity binge quickly was snagged by the infinite detail of the word's meanings in "The Oxford English Dictionary," which always tells me more than I want to know. A "snack" can be a ship, a snap, a short time, a piece of fungus, a light repast, or it can be an adjective meaning clever.

What I was really interested in was the idea of snacking. The contents of the newly opened jar of acorn - shaped goodies were going down the hatch at the rate of one every two minutes.

They had been purchased as a substitute for another kind of snack which is a favorite in our house. Some households meet this snacking need with peanuts and other nuts, but in ours there has been too much gall bladder trouble for that easy way out. Candy is handy, but there's a limit to the amount of candy that can be ingested.

With a suitable snack, however, one can snack until bedtime without undue effect. And when it is considered that a great many people do this throughout many hours each day, the snack business looms larger than the durable goods industry.

The perfect snack — and "snap" goes the velvet box again — is bite-size and self-contained. Granted there are tasty snacks that comes in jars and cans, they must be spread on crackers as they are eaten, and finally there comes a time when the fuss isn't worth the flavor.

The perfect snack must be easily digestible. Years ago, an enthusiast introduced me to cracklings, the crunchy, crispy, tasteful bits of hog meat from which lard has been rendered. He brought a sackful to work one day and the two of us snacked until quitting time.

The next day I was a sodden lump of dyspepsia from that grease - saturated mass in my digestive tract. It was worse than an overdose of peanuts.

Popcorn is the best of all snacks, because there always is room for one more fistful.

All this time, I was snacking. The best technique was to take a handful of the little acorns at a time and eat them singly — one snap of the velvet box per snack. There was nothing to chew. The acorns were mostly air, but the air was flavor-packed.

By 10:30 the supply was half gone, and no one else had sampled the new snacks yet. No one except Freda, that is. Freda is our cocker-type spaniel. Everything she is or ever hoped to be she owes to snacks. Open a box, a jar, or a sack of snacks, and Freda will be there for the first round. Her capacity is inexhaustible.

Snacks agree with her. She never has been sick and in a few days will be 14 years old. If snack-makers were looking for testimonials, she is the living proof of something I've long contended is possible — that life could be sustained on snacks and it never would be necessary to eat anything less palatable. It would be expensive, granted, but it would be wonderful.

Snap, snap. Just Freda and Ole Marster living it up.

Under other circumstances, a report in the New England Journal of Medicine that a team of medical researchers at the University of Chicago had isolated one of the viruses blamed for the common cold would have caused as much comment as Castro's chicken-pluckers or Khrushchev's desk-thumpers.

Even as it is, there's comfort in knowing medical scientists are grinding away at their quiet task of improving the physical lot of mankind. If they seem a little lonely at the moment, it's only because there remains so much to be done in the untouched field of mental health, political division.

There will be days for most of us this winter when the misery of a cold will black out our concern with political confusion. We'll be holed up with our personal despair, with no thoughts for the current generation of group-despair specialists.

We shall think then, if we have the energy, about the possibility that medical researchers may do what they have been trying to do throughout this century — isolate the virus that causes the common cold and learn to destroy it safely when it sneaks into our bodies. They apparently have made a good start.

The name of the virus is Chimpanzee Agent. It could be the one that will make millions of us feel, look and act like sick apes before another winter has passed.

Thanks for the thread of hope, Dr. Marc Reem, Dr. F. Howell Wright and Mrs. Dorothy M. Hamre. We'll cling to it.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A laundryman, sent to the United Nations as a delegate, quit, flew back swiftly, disgusted with diplomatic routines and returned to his laundry vowing "Never again."

This is too bad. Anybody in the laundry business would seem to have special advantages in the United Nations. First the faith everything will "come out in the wash"; secondly, the organization needs men of starch.

The United Nations is a world laundromat, into which a tremendous load of dirty linen is dumped for cleansing.

Its purpose is to clean the world of hatreds, envies, suspicions and violence, tough work with or without the right soap-powders. "Come clean" could be a slogan in all languages.

There are delegates who throw flatirons around like guided missiles, turn on the cold water and burn holes in cuffs and collars just for the hell of it. But a good laundryman belongs there.

He is accustomed to dirty linen, towels from fight clubs and flatwork mixed in with delicate fabrics. This fast-retiring, delegate puts all laundrymen in a bad light. It is hoped the laundrymen of the world don't follow his example and let the U.N. diplomacy go unwashed.

"DARKEST AFRICA" is now so much in the brilliant spotlight that were Stanley to return, he would exclaim "Wrong address for Dr. Livingstone, I presume." Things have changed so much that lions, elephants and rhinos now conduct safaris to see the new types of human beings.

An Irishman, Frederick H. Boland, is president of the current United Nations General Assembly and his opening speech was one of the best in the U.N.'s history. He is a Dublin lad and when in college organized a student jazz band.

Nasser is occupying a mansion at Sands Point, L.I. It has everything but camels. Maybe the word "Sands" makes an Egyptian feel especially at home.

From 50,000 to 100,000 swallows took over an entire runway at Idlewild Airport, closing it to planes. Airport folks asked Audubon Society for advice. They evidently don't know that swallows are among the most persistent, stubborn and hard-to-shoo-away birds, a fact anybody who has had them in an old barn could explain. Let a barn swallow make up its mind to nest in an airplane motor and it will not take "NO" for an answer.

Two Air Force pilots, William D. Habluetzel and John Hargreaves have spent 30 days in a moon capsule, or long enough to have made the trip, spent 13 days on the moon, and returned to earth. They lost weight but seemed to be in good shape otherwise.

Imaginary conversation in the moon-cone:

"How are we doing?" "Your opinion is as good as mine." "Tell me something in confidence: How did we get into this project?" "I was about to ask you the same question." "I think we volunteered but I would like it confirmed." What day is this?" "What difference could it make to us?"

Odd Facts

Some health authorities claim it is more or less injurious to a person's health to put his mental processes to work immediately after a meal, because of the fact that this takes blood away from the digestive organs to the brain. Which, of course, is a big point in favor of the popular tropical custom of taking a siesta, or nap, immediately after the noon meal!

The distinction between a passport and a visa is that the former generally is a document authorizing a person to pass out of or into a country, while the latter is an endorsement on a passport, denoting that it has been examined and that the bearer is permitted to proceed.

The Hard Way

GE Expresses Views In Frank Letter

By Victor Riesel

BOSTON

Sheriffs and police chiefs in communities where General Electric produces anything from outerspace rafts to refrigerators have been receiving visitors intent on philosophical discussions. For months now GE executives have been talking with the authorities about law enforcement for all, even during a strike.

Victor Riesel

In some communities, they have said to the sheriffs that there has been a double standard resulting in considerable rocking and rolling outside their plant gates.

For some time now the outspoken GE policy makers have been expecting a national strike in October. For some time they have planned to operate their installations in the face of picketing by Jim Carey's International Union of Electrical Workers.

-:-

THIS IS EVIDENT from a letter dispatched by the general manager of five departments in three GE installations in the nearby Lynn area.

It is a frank communication. It states bluntly GE believes it is the right of all workers to cross picket lines peacefully.

Similar mailings were sent to tens of thousands of workers in 57 other GE factories across the country.

"In the event that we become involved in a strike," the message says, "we plan to keep the plant open for all who have work to do.

"I think you should know that you have the right to come to work if there should be a strike even though a union picket line is set up outside the plant gates.

"Pickets have the right to ask you not to go to work, but they do not have any right to prevent you by force and violence from entering your place of work."

This was written, but not mailed, before the strike vote was set by the union for Sept. 25, a Sunday.

The company objected to the use of the Sabbath saying that only disciplined members would ballot. Then GE offered its facilities for polling right in the plant.

-:-

THE COMPANY said no one would be docked for time spent casting a ballot for or against the strike.

Furthermore, the firm called for a secret ballot instead of a stand-up or voice vote.

The union asserted this was interference and filed an unfair labor practice charge. Then the company mailed its communication.

"Whether you as an individual wish to strike is a matter for your own individual choice. That is the law," continued the letter.

"As far as picketing is concerned the law also makes it clear that a union . . has the right to publicize the strike by placing pickets at plant entrances. These pickets have no legal right to hinder anyone who is trying to enter or leave the plant. You, therefore, have every right to cross the picket line to go to work.

"In fact, in a very real sense, if you do not cross a peaceful picket line, you have joined the strike.

"This raises the question of what you can do in the event that you come to work some morning only to find your entrance blocked by union pickets. The decision . . is up to you but I would make these broad suggestions you might wish to take."

Then the general manager outlined a six-point proposal. The letter says try other plant gates if the police can't clear "your" usual one.

Report to the nearest police officer, says the firm, "if pickets should bar your entrance through the use of force."

Employes are then urged to make a list of people, witnesses and police to whom the non-striker has appealed.

SIGNIFICANT is the plant manager's advice to make a report in writing. The letter says, "You may wish to keep a copy. . . in case you should decide to file a suit for damages against the union."

The letter also warns that the company will discipline any employe who indulges in unlawful conduct on the picket line.

The letter says the manager wants no violence or exposure to bodily harm in attempting to cross the picket line. This is a historic document.

It will be seen as a challenge not only by Jim Carey, but by all his colleagues—and right at the height of the presidential campaign.

Letter To The Editor

I have read and re-rear your endorsement of Nixon for president. As an independent voter, I reply:

Where in the U.S. is there a more partisan politican than Nixon? That is why he has succeeded in politics. If he makes his pitch above partisanship, he will be talking away from the facts of political life that won him the nomination. He will be fanning the air as Dewey did against Truman. Taft was a partisan, and he let it be known.

What do voters need to think about? Eisenhower's use of the vice-presidency was a good precedent, but a precedent stands on its own merits. To say that Nixon's eight-year apprenticeship warrants him the presidency is false. Obviously, he has learned the mechanics of the office. If he has learned the spirit of the office from Eisenhower, then the Republicans made a poor choice and Rockefeller will stand forth as a prophet, with or without Nixon's election.

There is widespread dissatisfaction with the Eisenhower administration. In this country there are vast areas of chronic unemployment. Ask anyone who works at Crucible Steel what the situation is there. The East Liverpool area was recently downgraded as an employment center, so your newspaper reported.

There is something radically wrong with the administration's foreign policy when Japan, with its favorable trading position in the U.S., is unable, or unwilling, to receive the President of this country. I feel this is true, regardless of the Communists, who are sometimes used as whipping-boys by those who have loused up a situation.

I agree with you that Nixon is the nominee of an integrated political party. The Republican party, it appears to me, is the most integrated minority in the U.S. I supported Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956, believing he would lead the Republican party to a more liberal viewpoint. He could not beat them, so he joined them; or else he was one of them from the beginning.

Another point you mentioned was the minorities in the Democratic party. This country is made up of many minorities. A political organization in which minorities find a place to at least talk things over is better than one which has the attitude that "things will work themselves out". Nixon does not even have the "talking" acquaintance with the quote (separate and quarreling elements) unquote of the country which Kennedy does have.

When and where did Kennedy say "Socialism is the New Frontier for Americans"? I am repeating your printed innuendo.

Is it not possible that capitalism is more flexible than the rigid pattern in which it has long been held? Pershape automation will prove this by forcing it.

Still answering you: The American Revolution was a political idea and ideal. "No representation, no taxation". The harm comes when people transfer the economic ideas together with the political ideas of that day into the present. Man, in our technological civilization, surrounded by machinery, cannot be realistically considered an economic unit. In large industry, a man's worth per hour no longer determines his wage: what a man and his family require to live on is what counts. Let the Revolution live on in our hearts; not in our heads.

As for political leadership: A man who used every resource he had to gain the nomination of the "separate and quarreling elements" has already shown more political leadership than one who only had to inherit an "integrated party".

Unanswered Questions

By David Lawrence

What Is TV Debate Effect On Undecided Voter?

Now that the first of a series of so-called "Great Debates" between the two rival candidates for the presidency can be sized up, what is the effect upon the relatively small number of voters who are undecided?

David Lawrence

For, so far as the decided voters are concerned, they have their minds made up to such an extent that in all probability what they have heard thus far confirms their judgment. This is mostly because their decision has already been influenced by issues or prejudices about personalities or other factors in the presidential campaign.

The undecided voter is not necessarily one who is waiting to hear the issues expounded thoroughly before rendering a profound judgment on their merits.

More often the undecided voter is entirely unfamiliar with the background of a candidate or the issues and just hasn't taken the time to become informed. He rarely does until late in October.

It has often been argued that the undecided voters, while in the minority, do hold the balance of power and can swing an election. But what is it that ultimately decides them?

Is it a liking for the face of a candidate or his manner of speaking or what he says on the stump that appeals to the individual voter?

All these factors have their influence, but there is also the fickle voter—the man or woman who shifts from one nominee to the other as something is said or, on television now, as some grimace or expression of the face in answer to a question creates a doubt or a liking.

IN MANY CAMPAIGNS the remark is heard, "He looks like a president to me" or "He just doesn't look like a president."

Younger voters tend to be impressionistic and judge by looks.

The more mature voters look at things a little more carefully and tend to ask basic questions: "What will the election of a Democrat or a Republican mean to me? What kind of times will we have? Will I keep my job? Will things cost more? Will my son be drafted and have to go to war? Which candidate seems to have more experience and will know how to deal with the Russians?"

Previous canvasses of the electorate tend to show that most voters have decided on the answers to such questions long before the campaign begins.

Post-election surveys reveal that things which were often regarded as spectacular issues during a campaign did not really amount to very much in influencing the voting except perhaps in certain localities.

Just what causes 75 million voters to make up their minds to vote for one candidate or the other?

Party affiliation and tradition have much to do with it. New voters to a small degree follow their family voting record but most of them like to make up their own minds.

Often they talk in independent terms during the campaign but, on entering the voting booth, they follow the viewpoint of their friends—they are indeed to a large extent influenced by older voters.

Although Oct. 1 is approaching and the final stretch is likely to be filled with dramatic exchanges of view between the candidates and their lieutenants in the battle for votes, the biggest single issue doesn't seem to have been focused upon thus far as sharply as it probably will be in the closing weeks of the campaign.

Fundamentally, it is whether this is the time for a change in administration.

IN A SENSE this issue has been touched upon in the discussions already heard about experience and maturity of judgment, but these are only collateral points.

The bit unanswered question is whether the American people really want a change in administration in Washington in these times.

It isn't merely a change in the person occupying the White House, for President Eisenhower is moving out anyway, but whether the entire machinery of the incumbent administration shall be turned out of office and an almost entirely new crew put in charge of the ship of state.

This would mean replacement of cabinet officers and other assistants, ambassadors and ministers and various high-ranking officials throughout the government.

While another Republican president would doubtless follow in the main the Eisenhower policies, a Democratic president would be pledged by his party platform to change them radically.

Do the people want such a change and what explicitly are they being promised by way of a change in foreign policy and economic policies?

Will a desire for change be aroused after listening to or watching the "great debates"?

Are crowds and cheers or personality to be decisive? Curiosity brings out crowds, as William Jennings Bryan, the most colorful candidate of the century, found out after three defeats—it doesn't necessarily mean favorable votes.

IN THE FINAL ANALYSIS, voters decide on what the change in administration could mean for them personally.

If there is a high tide of dissatisfaction and discontent running, it doesn't matter who the opposing candidate is or whether he makes many speeches or public appearances at meetings or on television shows.

Also, if there is no such tide and only the usual campaign criticism, and the American people just don't think it is "time to change horses in midstream," as the political saying goes, the party of the administration in power will be continued by a landslide of electoral votes.

For, though many a state may be close, the election can be decided by a tiny majority within each state.

Snack-Snappers

By Truman Twill

It should not have surprised me, though it did, to learn that "snack" came from the noise a dog makes when it snaps — the noise that someone with an imaginative ear once likened to the "closing of a velvet box."

The word had set off a binge of curiosity because the newly opened jar of little goodies shaped like acorns and brown in color was labeled "Snack" and bore the word several places in the descriptive blurb about its contents. It's a good sales word.

But the curiosity binge quickly was snagged by the infinite detail of the word's meanings in "The Oxford English Dictionary," which always tells me more than I want to know. A "snack" can be a ship, a snap, a short time, a piece of fungus, a light repast, or it can be an adjective meaning clever.

What I was really interested in was the idea of snacking. The contents of the newly opened jar of acorn - shaped goodies were going down the hatch at the rate of one every two minutes.

They had been purchased as a substitute for another kind of snack which is a favorite in our house. Some households meet this snacking need with peanuts and other nuts, but in ours there has been too much gall bladder trouble for that easy way out. Candy is handy, but there's a limit to the amount of candy that can be ingested.

With a suitable snack, however, one can snack until bedtime without undue effect. And when it is considered that a great many people do this throughout many hours each day, the snack business looms larger than the durable goods industry.

The perfect snack — and "snap" goes the velvet box again — is bite-size and self-contained. Granted there are tasty snacks that comes in jars and cans, they must be spread on crackers as they are eaten, and finally there comes a time when the fuss isn't worth the flavor.

The perfect snack must be easily digestible. Years ago, an enthusiast introduced me to cracklings, the crunchy, crispy, tasteful bits of hog meat from which lard has been rendered. He brought a sackful to work one day and the two of us snacked until quitting time.

The next day I was a sodden lump of dyspepsia from that grease - saturated mass in my digestive tract. It was worse than an overdose of peanuts.

Popcorn is the best of all snacks, because there always is room for one more fistful.

All this time, I was snacking. The best technique was to take a handful of the little acorns at a time and eat them singly — one snap of the velvet box per snack. There was nothing to chew. The acorns were mostly air, but the air was flavor-packed.

By 10:30 the supply was half gone, and no one else had sampled the new snacks yet. No one except Freda, that is. Freda is our cocker-type spaniel. Everything she is or ever hoped to be she owes to snacks. Open a box, a jar, or a sack of snacks, and Freda will be there for the first round. Her capacity is inexhaustible.

Snacks agree with her. She never has been sick and in a few days will be 14 years old. If snack-makers were looking for testimonials, she is the living proof of something I've long contended is possible — that life could be sustained on snacks and it never would be necessary to eat anything less palatable. It would be expensive, granted, but it would be wonderful.

Snap, snap. Just Freda and Ole Marster living it up.

Events To Begin Sunday

BPW Club Will Observe Business Women's Week

Final plans for the observance of "National Business Women's Week" were outlined at the meeting of the Executive Board of the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday night at the home of the president, Miss Helen Bibbee, of Oakmont.

Beginning Sunday, the theme for the 32nd annual event through Oct. 8 is "Symbol of the Sixties—More Women at Work," highlighting the BPW Federation's participation in the fields of health and safety, public affairs, legislation, national security, international relations and career advancement.

To mark the week locally, the club is planning a theater party and a day at City Hall. Miss Frances Jones, program co-ordinator, announced the group will go by chartered bus Tuesday to attend the performance of "Dark at the Top Of the Stairs" at the Pittsburgh Playhouse. They will meet 5:30 at the Bus Terminal and have dinner in the Lillian Russell Room of the playhouse.

Club members will take over duties at City Hall also on Tuesday. This was arranged by Mrs. Faye Wright, chairman, and the public affairs committee comprised of Mrs. Dorothy Evans, vice chairman, Mrs. Helen Bradfield, Mrs. Helen Downard, Miss Shirley Hartt, Mrs. Emma Maloney, Mrs. Leah Milligan, Mrs. Kathleen Reed and Mrs. Marjorie Stover.

There will be no safe-driving award program this year. Posters will be displayed throughout the city in commemoration of the BPW event. Publicity is handled by the public relations committee with Mrs. Clara Hall and Mrs. Jane Thorne.

Miss Bibbee conducted business with reports given by Mrs. Virginia Manypenny, recording secretary; Mrs. Mildred Urie, corresponding secretary, and Miss Helen Auld, treasurer.

An invitation was read from the Salem Club to attend its "Woman of the Year" dinner Oct. 13. Miss Bibbee will take reservations.

The newly-formed Glee Club, organized by Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, chairman, and the career advancement committee, will hold its initial meeting Oct. 7 at the YMCA. Mrs. Eileen Brown will be director and Mrs. Downard accompanist. They will meet the first and third Friday each month and anyone interested may attend.

Mrs. Nova Runyon reported on the "Guest Night" observance scheduled for Nov. 9 at the Elks Club. The international relations and membership committees will have the program.

Final plans for the observance of "National Business Women's Week" were outlined at the meeting of the Executive Board of the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday night at the home of the president, Miss Helen Bibbee, of Oakmont.

Beginning Sunday, the theme for the 32nd annual event through Oct. 8 is "Symbol of the Sixties—More Women at Work," highlighting the BPW Federation's participation in the fields of health and safety, public affairs, legislation, national security, international relations and career advancement.

To mark the week locally, the club is planning a theater party and a day at City Hall. Miss Frances Jones, program co-ordinator, announced the group will go by chartered bus Tuesday to attend the performance of "Dark at the Top Of the Stairs" at the Pittsburgh Playhouse. Club members will take over duties at City Hall also on Tuesday. This was arranged by Mrs. Faye Wright, chairman, and the public affairs committee comprised of Mrs. Dorothy Evans, vice chairman, Mrs. Helen Bradfield, Mrs. Helen Downard, Miss Shirley Hartt, Mrs. Emma Maloney, Mrs. Leah Milligan, Mrs. Kathleen Reed and Mrs. Marjorie Stover.

There will be no safe-driving award program this year. Posters will be displayed throughout the city in commemoration of the BPW event. Publicity is handled by the public relations committee with Mrs. Clara Hall and Mrs. Jane Thorne.

Miss Bibbee conducted business with reports given by Mrs. Virginia Manypenny, recording secretary; Mrs. Mildred Urie, corresponding secretary, and Miss Helen Auld, treasurer.

An invitation was read from the Salem Club to attend its "Woman of the Year" dinner Oct. 13. Miss Bibbee will take reservations.

Salineville Group Advances Plans For Historical Society

SALINEVILLE — Over 25 attended the initial organization meeting of a proposed Salineville area historical society Tuesday night at the high school cafeteria.

Robert Cole served as temporary chairman and introduced a panel which discussed various aspects of the proposed group. Atty. Warren Bettis spoke on the purpose of the meeting, Karl Lindner discussed reasons for forming a historical society, and Miss Myrtle Strabley reviewed work done by the planning committee.

Clarence Loch outlined the possible benefits of a society and Jack Baker read the proposed constitution.

Tentative plans call for quarterly meetings, a $1 yearly membership fee or $15 lifetime fee, a memorial for James Farmer, 19th Century developer of the community, and establishment of a site where records, information, relics and other historical items can be stored and displayed.

Cole appointed a nominating committee, consisting of Loch, Mrs. Blanch Baker and Howard Ahlborn, to prepare a slate for election of officers at the next meeting Oct. 25.

Plans call for later research by committee into periods of the town's history. Cole urged residents of the community with any pictures, letters or other historical items which may aid in compiling a history to list them with society members.

Glenn Waight of the East Liverpool Review spoke on Salineville's role in the Civil War, pointing out men from the village figured in the two chief military incidents in which Ohio was most directly involved — Gen. John Morgan's raid and the initial campaign of the war in West Virginia, along with the famed 1862 "locomotive chase."

Waight also described the village of the war era, adding that there is a considerable lack of assembled historical information about Columbiana County of the war period. He listed some 30 of Salineville and Yellow Creek men who lost their lives in the conflict, and gave a brief account of two Union units in where they were many Salineville men.

Refreshments were served.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An upswing in current sales trends has allowed the Frigidaire Division of General Motors to recall 525 employes. Vice President Herman F. Lehman said the firm originally had announced recall of 350.

Disallow Experiment

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Frank R. Frankoo and City Engineer K. Phillip Richley have told Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. the city cannot allow the steel company to increase the community's smoke nuisance by using a new process. The company had asked Council to authorize experiments with the oxygen-jet method of speeding up open hearth operations. City officials want a guarantee the process won't result in additional smoke and fumes.

2 Young Men Get Terms In Juvenile Case

Two East Liverpool young men, found guilty on delinquency charges, were sentenced to jail this morning by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon, who ordered a 16-year-old youth placed with the welfare department and set a later hearing for a woman connected with the case.

Joseph E. Boso, 18, of 804½ St. Clair Ave. and James Buzzard, 20, of East Liverpool R. D. 1 were sentenced to the County Jail for contributing to the delinquency of two 17-year-old boys and another 16.

Boso was sentenced to six months in jail for violation of parole and another six months for the contributing charge, while Buzzard was given six months for the contributing citation.

Boso had pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old city girl in July, and had been ordered to stay out of Columbiana County for a year. He was cited on the parole violation charge when he was found back in the county.

Mrs. Thelma Ward, 49, of 804½ St. Clair Ave. pleaded not guilty this morning to a contributing charge, and her hearing was scheduled for Oct. 6. Bond was set at $500.

Crucible Says Mill On Reduced Operation

Operations at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. are currently at a reduced level, reflecting a number of factors, a company spokesman said today.

These include construction in the hot strip mill and the generally reduced levels existing throughout the steel industry, he said.

At present, approximately 5,000 employes continue on the job at the Midland plant. Peak employment is 7,200.

Explorers Club Told Of Stone Marker Found On State Line

A stone marker, found near the Pennsylvania and West Virginia state line, at the most northern tip, was described at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday evening at the home of Harry R. Cline of Hillcrest, Wellsville.

Richard S. Thompson, secretary, said the marker has the letter "P" on one side and a "V" on the other. It is about 5 feet long and 8 inches thick and lies on its side at the water's edge.

The marker is about 500 yards east of the present state line and is right across the Ohio River from the monument the East Liverpool Historical Society moved recently.

The club made plans to move the marker since the new superdam, when completed, will cover it with water.

Thompson said the marker is in the vicinity of the old Thomas Hutchins surveying camp opposite the mouth of the Little Beaver Creek. It was here that Hutchins waited for protection of troops from Mingo Bottom to start surveys under the Land Ordinance of 1785.

Surveyors had to contend with Indian tribes — Chippewas, Wyandots, Delawares, Ottawa, Miamis, Pottowatamies and Senecas. The Indian war cry at this time was "No white man shall ever plant corn in Ohio," Thompson said.

He screened color slides of excavations in Naples, Genoa, and Pompei, which were taken when he served in the Navy 1952-1956.

Cline reported on rock shelters found in the local area. He also displayed six cases of Indian artifacts. His collection is the largest of any member of the club and perhaps of anyone in the Ohio Valley. He was worked flint from all over the world.

H. A. Dawson, president, reported that he has made some new frames of Indian arrowheads and are on display at his home, along with other Indian relics.

Jim Monte and Jim Woodrow reported excavating under a rock ledge along Little Beaver Creek. They have found pottery fragments and arrowheads. Both hope to dig throughout the winter months.

Cline gave the treasurer's report. Next meeting will be Oct. 10 at the Thompson home, 2212 Ohio Ave.

2 Young Men Get Terms In Juvenile Case

Two East Liverpool young men, found guilty on delinquency charges, were sentenced to jail this morning by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon, who ordered a 16-year-old youth placed with the welfare department and set a later hearing for a woman connected with the case.

Joseph E. Boso, 18, of 804½ St. Clair Ave. and James Buzzard, 20, of East Liverpool R. D. 1 were sentenced to the County Jail for contributing to the delinquency of two 17-year-old boys and another 16.

Soviet Seeks To End 4-Power Occupation Status Of Berlin

BONN, Germany (AP)—Western officials said today the Soviet Union is trying to pronounce the four-power occupation status of Berlin dead. The Western aides said they would not accept this attempt.

"We refuse to recognize the right of anyone unilaterally to abrogate the Berlin agreements," one official said.

Diplomats from the United States, Britain and France declined to comment officially on a Soviet note published Tuesday night. But it was clear from private conversations they took a very serious view of it.

"We feel," a French official said, "that this is the first time the Soviet Union has said so clearly the four-power status of Berlin is dead.

"It looks at first sight as if something very important has happened," he added.

The Soviet note said Communist East Germany has "full authority and freedom (involving) the whole of the territory lying under its sovereignty, including its capital."

The Communists consider East Berlin the capital of East Germany. Thus the Soviets were taking an unequivocal position that they no longer occupy East Berlin under the occupation agreement and that the Western powers and West Germany must deal with the East Germans where East Berlin is concerned.

The Soviet note, addressed to the United States, Britain and France, did not appear to be aimed at driving the Western powers from West Berlin. At one point it said that the three Western powers were "responsible for the situation in West Berlin."

2 Motorists Pay Fines For Traffic Violations

Two out-of-state motorists were fined on traffic violations today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Ralph L. Golden, 241 Pennsylvania Ave., Weirton, was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty to reckless driving. He was cited at 3:55 p. m. Tuesday by Patrolman Paul Carter, who said Golden passed a truck and another vehicle in a "no passing" zone on Dresden Ave. and then followed another car very closely for several blocks.

Henry Eddelman Jr. of Council Bluffs, Iowa, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of passing on a curve. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol Tuesday at 10 p. m. on Route 30.

Hancock

would not have to pay more than they do for the present levy.

Hall said, "Some people do not care if we have better schools, and those who are interested in improvement should get out and work for the program."

He said if it weren't for the revenue from taxes of the Weirton Steel Co., Hancock County would be in the same financial situation as other West Virginia counties without industry.

Further plans were made for the annual pancake supper the club will sponsor Nov. 2-3 at the City Hall. Howard Johnston of Chester was a guest.

R. M. McFarland was program chairman, and Alvin (Pete) Arner, president, was in charge. Officers will be elected at the next meeting Tuesday.

Neighbor Grabs Boy Who Tried To Fire Garage

Merchants and parents have been asked by Acting Fire Chief David Anderson to help keep matches away from children.

He said a garage fire was averted Tuesday evening when Al Gleckner, 1102 Avondale St., saw a 10-year-old boy stuff paper under the side of a garage and set fire to it.

The garage is at the rear of the home of Raymond Cowles, 1106 St. Clair Ave. Gleckner helped the youngster stamp out the fire. Then the boy took off, running down St. Clair Ave., and was caught by Gleckner in the 1000 block.

Police were called and they in turn notified Assistant Fire Chief James Pelley, who had questioned the boy. The boy admitted that he liked to see fires and said he had obtained the matches from a business establishment.

Anderson asked the assistance of merchants and parents to keep matches away from children. Some matches are available on store counters and parents often are forgetful at home, he said.

He pointed out that fires in the city have been caused by young children, some 6 and 7 years old and even 4 and 5.

Recent fires caused by children include a garage destroyed and three houses scorched on 1st Ave. and one in the rear of a market in East End.

West Berlin Snubs Reds' Demand Against Graham

BERLIN (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt's West Berlin government today refused a Communist demand to move American evangelist Billy Graham's big tent away from the "little Iron Curtain" dividing Berlin.

Communist Mayor Waldemar Schmidt of East Berlin made the demand in a letter to Brandt. The tent is about 100 yards from the border, and Graham's amplified voice can be heard clearly in the Red-ruled part of the city.

Schmidt said Graham's meetings—which are to continue for five more nights—are a "gross provocation." He said West Berlin authorities would be responsible for the consequences.

Graham has been preaching for two nights to packed audiences of 20,000 and more.

Soviet Seeks To End 4-Power Occupation Status Of Berlin

BONN, Germany (AP)—Western officials said today the Soviet Union is trying to pronounce the four-power occupation status of Berlin dead. The Western aides said they would not accept this attempt.

"We refuse to recognize the right of anyone unilaterally to abrogate the Berlin agreements," one official said.

Diplomats from the United States, Britain and France declined to comment officially on a Soviet note published Tuesday night. But it was clear from private conversations they took a very serious view of it.

"We feel," a French official said, "that this is the first time the Soviet Union has said so clearly the four-power status of Berlin is dead.

"It looks at first sight as if something very important has happened," he added.

The Soviet note said Communist East Germany has "full authority and freedom (involving) the whole of the territory lying under its sovereignty, including its capital."

The Communists consider East Berlin the capital of East Germany. Thus the Soviets were taking an unequivocal position that they no longer occupy East Berlin under the occupation agreement and that the Western powers and West Germany must deal with the East Germans where East Berlin is concerned.

The Soviet note, addressed to the United States, Britain and France, did not appear to be aimed at driving the Western powers from West Berlin. At one point it said that the three Western powers were "responsible for the situation in West Berlin."

2 Motorists Pay Fines For Traffic Violations

Two out-of-state motorists were fined on traffic violations today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Ralph L. Golden, 241 Pennsylvania Ave., Weirton, was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty to reckless driving. He was cited at 3:55 p. m. Tuesday by Patrolman Paul Carter, who said Golden passed a truck and another vehicle in a "no passing" zone on Dresden Ave. and then followed another car very closely for several blocks.

Henry Eddelman Jr. of Council Bluffs, Iowa, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of passing on a curve. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol Tuesday at 10 p. m. on Route 30.

would not have to pay more than they do for the present levy.

Hall said, "Some people do not care if we have better schools, and those who are interested in improvement should get out and work for the program."

He said if it weren't for the revenue from taxes of the Weirton Steel Co., Hancock County would be in the same financial situation as other West Virginia counties without industry.

Further plans were made for the annual pancake supper the club will sponsor Nov. 2-3 at the City Hall. Howard Johnston of Chester was a guest.

R. M. McFarland was program chairman, and Alvin (Pete) Arner, president, was in charge. Officers will be elected at the next meeting Tuesday.

Neighbor Grabs Boy Who Tried To Fire Garage

Merchants and parents have been asked by Acting Fire Chief David Anderson to help keep matches away from children.

He said a garage fire was averted Tuesday evening when Al Gleckner, 1102 Avondale St., saw a 10-year-old boy stuff paper under the side of a garage and set fire to it.

The garage is at the rear of the home of Raymond Cowles, 1106 St. Clair Ave. Gleckner helped the youngster stamp out the fire. Then the boy took off, running down St. Clair Ave., and was caught by Gleckner in the 1000 block.

Police were called and they in turn notified Assistant Fire Chief James Pelley, who had questioned the boy. The boy admitted that he liked to see fires and said he had obtained the matches from a business establishment.

Anderson asked the assistance of merchants and parents to keep matches away from children. Some matches are available on store counters and parents often are forgetful at home, he said.

He pointed out that fires in the city have been caused by young children, some 6 and 7 years old and even 4 and 5.

Recent fires caused by children include a garage destroyed and three houses scorched on 1st Ave. and one in the rear of a market in East End.

West Berlin Snubs Reds' Demand Against Graham

BERLIN (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt's West Berlin government today refused a Communist demand to move American evangelist Billy Graham's big tent away from the "little Iron Curtain" dividing Berlin.

Communist Mayor Waldemar Schmidt of East Berlin made the demand in a letter to Brandt. The tent is about 100 yards from the border, and Graham's amplified voice can be heard clearly in the Red-ruled part of the city.

Schmidt said Graham's meetings—which are to continue for five more nights—are a "gross provocation." He said West Berlin authorities would be responsible for the consequences.

Graham has been preaching for two nights to packed audiences of 20,000 and more.

New Ford And Falcon Are Placed On Display

Three district dealers now are displaying the 1961 line of Fords and Falcons.

They are Carroll Motor Sales, Inc., 740 Dresden Ave., East Liverpool; the Temple Motor Co., Carolina Ave., Chester, and the Wells Motor Co., 420 Broadway, Wellsville.

James O. Wright, Ford Motor Co. vice president and Ford Division general manager, says engineering and design improvements in the new Ford make it "a car that virtually takes care of itself". Improvements include:

A new grease and lubrication system that extends the normal chassis lubrication interval to 30,000 miles.

New, heavier brakes that adjust themselves.

Specially-processed underbody parts, including galvanized body panels below the doors, that resist rust and corrosion.

Aluminized mufflers that are double-wrapped for three times normal life.

A 250 per cent increase in the thickness of anodizing on aluminum surfaces for brighter, longer-lasting grille, headlamp and tail lamp trim.

The Falcon enters the model year with a proven record of all-around economy leadership, six-passenger comfort, handling ease and dependable operation, and introduces a new 101 horsepower performance option — the Falcon 170 Special engine.

"In its first year, the Falcon established itself as the standard of American compact cars," Wright declared. "No other car ever achieved the first year success to equal the Falcon's sales of nearly a half million since it was introduced in October 1959," he added.

"The Falcon has a new, convex-shaped aluminum grille, but preserves the styling and inside-outside dimensions of its predecessor," he said.

Jefferson St., East Liverpool, who had seen Beck shortly after midnight the night of the assault.

McLaughlin testified he had taken Beck in his car from the Hookstown Fair to Georgetown, and noticed no unusual marks on Beck's hands or head.

The intruder in the woman's apartment was struck by a coke bottle by John Boyd, a neighbor who heard her screams and arrived at the scene as the masked intruder was fleeing through a window.

McLaughlin also testified that he had known Beck for 15 years and had never known him to wear dungarees, a hat or high shoes, which she said the assailant wore.

Beck testified yesterday afternoon that he had never owned a gun or a knife in his life or any of the clothes that the woman described in her statements.

Questioned on his whereabouts the night of the incident, the defendant repeated that he "did not remember," and also did not remember confessing to sheriff's deputies.

While Beck still was on the stand, Prosecutor Pietranton read a report from Weston State Hospital, where Beck was examined, indicating that Beck was "fully capable in mind and body to testify before a jury."

The hospital report, signed by the superintendent, also stated that Beck was "mentally competent although he goes through some tense emotional reactions at times."

Prior to Beck's testimony, the jury heard statements from Deputy William King Jr., Deputy Arnie Durham and Squire John Herron, who were questioned by Beck's counsel on his alleged confession.

The confession was notarized by Squire Herron.

First witness for the defense yesterday was Katherine Lombard of Georgetown, who testified she had seen Beck the last time on Aug. 27, at 11 p. m. at the Hookstown Fair. Beck operated a penny-pitch stand at the fair, she said.

Under a new law, they may be permitted to vote for president and vice president only provided they will have resided in the county and their precinct 40 days by election day and are able to submit a certification from the Election Board or similar agency in the state where they formerly resided that they were qualified voters when they left the state or would have been qualified had they remained until Nov. 8.

Registration in Ohio is not necessary for these new voters, provided they meet the other requirements. Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, explained. So even though a new resident found he was unable to register, he still may be able to obtain ballots for the Presidential and vice presidential races, O'Hanlon pointed out.

The new resident's first step would be to obtain a form from the Election Board in order to seek certification from the Election Board or similar agency in the state where he formerly resided, O'Hanlon explained.

Marker Rites Will Be Friday

Prof. Berry, a member of the Board of Directors of ACSM, was one of the prime movers in his organization's participation in the ceremony here.

He came to East Liverpool in March to look over the monument site, along with W. B. Williams of the firm of Williams & Works of Grand Rapids, surveyors and civil engineers. Williams has been credited with originating plans for the commemoration ceremony and persuading fellow members of the ACSM to follow through.

A luncheon for invited guests of the Historical Society is scheduled about noon at the Travelers Hotel. Approximately 40 are expected. Dale Thompson, president of the Historical Society, will introduce Vodrey, who will serve as toastmaster.

Berry is scheduled to speak briefly at the luncheon program, explaining how the proposal to commemorate the "point of beginning" anniversary was originated several years ago.

Most of the land on which the relocated monument sits was donated by the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. Its conversion into a miniature roadside park was handled by the Beaver County Division of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department, acting on instructions from Park H. Martin, highway department secretary.

The luncheon guest list of the Historical Society includes many who have had roles in relocating the granite marker:

H. W. Kachel of the legal department of Sheet & Tube; R. H. Klucher, Pittsburgh district engineer of the Pennsylvania Highway Department, representing Martin; L. A. Guarascio, the highway department's assistant maintenance engineer in the Pittsburgh District; County Commissioners Frank Wilson, Walter A. Hunston and R. Max Gard; Commissioner Gordon Camp of Beaver County.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet; Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver; Ed Pugh of Wellsville, president of the Columbiana County Historical Society; R. A. Buttermore, superintendent of the Beaver County Division of the Pennsylvania Highway Department, and his assistant, Benjamin Bartle.

Paul C. Kuegle, retired Sheet & Tube official and area historian; Atty. Louis E. Graham of Beaver, Western Pennsylvania historian and former congressman; T. Fred Edwards, president, Atty. Francis H. Lang and E. R. Chandler, all representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Edward Salt, editor of the Sheet & Tube Bulletin.

For the state line ceremony, parking has been arranged on the Midland Slag Co.'s fill on the south side of the railroad tracks. There will be police details from Pennsylvania and Ohio to direct traffic.

New Ford And Falcon Are Placed On Display

Three district dealers now are displaying the 1961 line of Fords and Falcons.

They are Carroll Motor Sales, Inc., 740 Dresden Ave., East Liverpool; the Temple Motor Co., Carolina Ave., Chester, and the Wells Motor Co., 420 Broadway, Wellsville.

James O. Wright, Ford Motor Co. vice president and Ford Division general manager, says engineering and design improvements in the new Ford make it "a car that virtually takes care of itself". Improvements include:

A new grease and lubrication system that extends the normal chassis lubrication interval to 30,000 miles.

New, heavier brakes that adjust themselves.

Specially-processed underbody parts, including galvanized body panels below the doors, that resist rust and corrosion.

Aluminized mufflers that are double-wrapped for three times normal life.

A 250 per cent increase in the thickness of anodizing on aluminum surfaces for brighter, longer-lasting grille, headlamp and tail lamp trim.

The Falcon enters the model year with a proven record of all-around economy leadership, six-passenger comfort, handling ease and dependable operation, and introduces a new 101 horsepower performance option — the Falcon 170 Special engine.

"In its first year, the Falcon established itself as the standard of American compact cars," Wright declared. "No other car ever achieved the first year success to equal the Falcon's sales of nearly a half million since it was introduced in October 1959," he added.

"The Falcon has a new, convex-shaped aluminum grille, but preserves the styling and inside-outside dimensions of its predecessor," he said.

residence requirements for voting on all candidates and issues.

Under a new law, they may be permitted to vote for president and vice president only provided they will have resided in the county and their precinct 40 days by election day and are able to submit a certification from the Election Board or similar agency in the state where they formerly resided that they were qualified voters when they left the state or would have been qualified had they remained until Nov. 8.

Registration in Ohio is not necessary for these new voters, provided they meet the other requirements. Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, explained. So even though a new resident found he was unable to register, he still may be able to obtain ballots for the Presidential and vice presidential races, O'Hanlon pointed out.

The new resident's first step would be to obtain a form from the Election Board in order to seek certification from the Election Board or similar agency in the state where he formerly resided, O'Hanlon explained.

Jury

Jefferson St., East Liverpool, who had seen Beck shortly after midnight the night of the assault.

McLaughlin testified he had taken Beck in his car from the Hookstown Fair to Georgetown, and noticed no unusual marks on Beck's hands or head.

The intruder in the woman's apartment was struck by a coke bottle by John Boyd, a neighbor who heard her screams and arrived at the scene as the masked intruder was fleeing through a window.

McLaughlin also testified that he had known Beck for 15 years and had never known him to wear dungarees, a hat or high shoes, which she said the assailant wore.

Beck testified yesterday afternoon that he had never owned a gun or a knife in his life or any of the clothes that the woman described in her statements.

Questioned on his whereabouts the night of the incident, the defendant repeated that he "did not remember," and also did not remember confessing to sheriff's deputies.

While Beck still was on the stand, Prosecutor Pietranton read a report from Weston State Hospital, where Beck was examined, indicating that Beck was "fully capable in mind and body to testify before a jury."

The hospital report, signed by the superintendent, also stated that Beck was "mentally competent although he goes through some tense emotional reactions at times."

Prior to Beck's testimony, the jury heard statements from Deputy William King Jr., Deputy Arnie Durham and Squire John Herron, who were questioned by Beck's counsel on his alleged confession.

The confession was notarized by Squire Herron.

First witness for the defense yesterday was Katherine Lombard of Georgetown, who testified she had seen Beck the last time on Aug. 27, at 11 p. m. at the Hookstown Fair. Beck operated a penny-pitch stand at the fair, she said.

Bitter words crackled between U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth and Communist representatives before the vote.

Wadsworth indicted Communist China for aggression in Tibet and pressure on Southeast Asia.

Soviet members — quoting Fidel Castro's attack on the United States in his speech Monday — retorted that the United States was not in a position to condemn "aggression by other nations."

Marker Rites Will Be Friday

Prof. Berry, a member of the Board of Directors of ACSM, was one of the prime movers in his organization's participation in the ceremony here.

He came to East Liverpool in March to look over the monument site, along with W. B. Williams of the firm of Williams & Works of Grand Rapids, surveyors and civil engineers. Williams has been credited with originating plans for the commemoration ceremony and persuading fellow members of the ACSM to follow through.

A luncheon for invited guests of the Historical Society is scheduled about noon at the Travelers Hotel. Approximately 40 are expected. Dale Thompson, president of the Historical Society, will introduce Vodrey, who will serve as toastmaster.

Berry is scheduled to speak briefly at the luncheon program, explaining how the proposal to commemorate the "point of beginning" anniversary was originated several years ago.

Most of the land on which the relocated monument sits was donated by the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. Its conversion into a miniature roadside park was handled by the Beaver County Division of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department, acting on instructions from Park H. Martin, highway department secretary.

The luncheon guest list of the Historical Society includes many who have had roles in relocating the granite marker:

H. W. Kachel of the legal department of Sheet & Tube; R. H. Klucher, Pittsburgh district engineer of the Pennsylvania Highway Department, representing Martin; L. A. Guarascio, the highway department's assistant maintenance engineer in the Pittsburgh District; County Commissioners Frank Wilson, Walter A. Hunston and R. Max Gard; Commissioner Gordon Camp of Beaver County.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet; Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver; Ed Pugh of Wellsville, president of the Columbiana County Historical Society; R. A. Buttermore, superintendent of the Beaver County Division of the Pennsylvania Highway Department, and his assistant, Benjamin Bartle.

Paul C. Kuegle, retired Sheet & Tube official and area historian; Atty. Louis E. Graham of Beaver, Western Pennsylvania historian and former congressman; T. Fred Edwards, president, Atty. Francis H. Lang and E. R. Chandler, all representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Edward Salt, editor of the Sheet & Tube Bulletin.

For the state line ceremony, parking has been arranged on the Midland Slag Co.'s fill on the south side of the railroad tracks. There will be police details from Pennsylvania and Ohio to direct traffic.

Newell Women's Club Names Aide In Child Council

Mrs. Jacob Turner was named a representative to the "Help a Child to Health Council" when the Newell Women's Club met Monday night in the American Legion home.

Mrs. James Ryan introduced Miss Mary Lou Copestick and Miss Penny Bailey, whom the club sponsored to a conservation camp in the state.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Carl Mooney. Twenty-six attended and Mrs. George Cawthon, president, presided.

The club reported it still is taking orders for the sale of birthday calendars.

Hostesses were Mrs. Mooney, Mrs. Ruth Dement and Mrs. Turner. The tables were arranged with fall flowers and lighted tapers.

The next meeting will be Oct. 10 in the post home.

Legislature Must Raise $27 Of Every $100 To Aid Aged

CHARLESTON (AP) — If the Legislature is going to provide more money for old people to meet their medical bills with when it meets next week, it will have to raise $27.31 cents of every $100.

Unless that much is put up the federal government will come through with nothing.

The formula for the medical aid was made known shortly before Gov. Underwood, legislative leaders and Dr. Arthur S. Flemming met today to discuss the legislation to be taken up at the special session starting Monday.

Dr. Flemming, the U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, came here for the meeting to explain the law passed by the last Congress that makes possible help with medical bills for old people not receiving old age assistance, as well as more help for those that do.

There had been uncertainty about the matching formula until yesterday, when it was given to the Department of Public Assistance by Flemming's department.

The $27.31 of state money to $72.69 of federal money will hold until next July 1. Then, for two years, it will change to $29.68 to $70.32.

The formula was bad news for the 20,000 old West Virginians getting public assistance already. At one time it was thought the program for them would get $567,000 more during the fiscal year from the federal government. This would have been under the other phase of the new law.

Now that the formula is known, the estimate has been about cut in half, or down $283,500.

Dr. Flemming had planned to come in a week ago to clear up the provisions of the new law, but was forced to postpone his appearance because of bad flying weather.

To make sure he would be on hand today, he flew in last night.

Rural-Urban Day Program Details Given

County Agriculture Agent Floyd Lower announced today at Lisbon first details of the program for the annual Rural-Urban Day Wednesday, Nov. 16, at which the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce will be host to a visiting delegation of rural area residents.

A tour of industrial plants will begin at 10 a. m., followed by a luncheon program at 12:30. Other plants will be visited in the afternoon. Joining the Chamber in sponsoring the program are the County Rural-Urban Committee, Granges, Ruritan Clubs and farmers.

East Liverpool residents may obtain tickets from the Chamber while those who expect to be in the rural delegation may contact the heads of their local organizations, the Agricultural Extension Service office in Lisbon or Mrs. Donald Wollam of R. D. 2, Lower said. The deadline for reservations will be in early November, he added.

The exchange of visits is held annually to foster better understanding between farm dwellers and city residents, Lower explained. The farm groups and the city residents alternately act as hosts.

Farmers Will Host Salem Businessmen

LISBON — The program for the rural-urban tour to be held Wednesday, Oct. 12, in co-operation with the Salem Chamber of Commerce, has been announced by H. L. Reuter of Lisbon, chairman of the county rural-urban committee.

The committee is sponsoring the event in co-operation with the Agricultural Extension Service and local rural groups, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

Farmers of the Salem area will be host to the business and professional men of Salem and their wives. The afternoon tour will leave Salem at 2.

17 Receive Air View Of Highway Projects

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—A group of 17 persons, most of them representing news media, Tuesday received an air view of some $50 million worth of state highways projects either completed or under construction in northwestern Pennsylvania.

Starting at Erie, three twin-engine planes carried the group first south to the Sharon area, then east to Tionesta in Forest County and south to the Jefferson County district before returning to the Port Erie Airport.

The flights were part of a series of inspection tours sponsored by the Pennsylvania Highway Information Association in Harrisburg.

Salesman To Get Stole For Winning Contest

A salesman for D. M. Ogilvie & Co. has been awarded a certificate for a mink stole for winning an electric razor selling contest.

William G. MacLean of Hillcrest, Wellsville, was presented the certificate by Walter E. Gray, district sales manager of the Schick Electric Razor Co. as winner of the second-quarter sales contest in the East-Central District.

The Ogilvie store showed the highest percentage increase in April-May-June in shaver purchases over a like period in 1959.

Poisoning Accidents Termed Avoidable With Safety Steps

LISBON—The Columbiana County Health and Safety Council says in another release of its series on health and safety that poisoning accidents can be prevented if certain definite safety steps are taken.

Reasonable care should be exercised over the period when there are young children in a family, according to Hart F. Page, secretary of the Ohio State Medical Association.

All harmful substances should be kept inaccessible to the young child. Poisons can enter the body by eating, by inhalation, by absorption through the skin and by injection as in a snake bite.

The committee on poison control of the OMSA lists various products found around the home which are not labeled "poison" but which can poison children.

In this category are such products as floor waxes, kerosene, bleaches, paints, cleaners, etc.

Page outlined several preventive practices to avoid poison accidents as follows:

Keep all drugs, including aspirin, under lock and key with the key available only to adults.

Keep only harmless substances in the cabinet area under the kitchen sink where children can have access.

Store household preparations used daily in a high cabinet if not kept under lock and key.

Keep products such as insecticides, pesticides, paints, gasoline, herbicides, rodenticides, turpentine and kerosene locked away from children.

Periodically check all rooms and farm buildings for poison hazards.

Clean out old drugs and medications frequently.

Wash utensils used for mixing insecticides, paints, etc., immediately and thoroughly.

Do not use paints and putties containing lead for interior work.

Have sufficient ventilation when using cleaners containing carbon tetrachloride.

Never leave a child alone or out of sight when working with hazardous materials.

"Federal laws sponsored by the AMA, requiring proper labeling and listing of contents of household, commercial and industrial products, assist your physician in determining the antidotes for hazardous products when poison occurs," he said. Eight poison information centers have been established in Ohio for assistance to physicians.

Page advised that if a child obtains a harmful substance, the physician should be called at once and first aid should be given until he arrives. First aid procedures are available from several sources. Take the poison container along to the hospital for identification of the ingredients if poisoning accidents occur, he added.

Oral Arguments Asked In Assault Conviction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court called today for oral arguments in the appeal of Mike Farah, Warren rackets figure, from an assault and battery conviction last year.

The Common Pleas Court jury conviction, affirmed by an appellate court, stemmed from a fight between Farah and Jean P. Blair, then Trumbull County Republican chairman.

Farah was sentenced to four months in jail and fined $200. His appeal to the Supreme Court stayed execution of sentence pending outcome of the proceedings.

Farah said the fight outside his Warren home resulted from demands for repayment of a $500 loan to Blair. Blair denied there was any loan and blamed the incident to a political matter.

Dear friends,

If we chose, we could decide today not to add anything to our Funeral Service equipment for the next ten years. But at the end of those ten years we know we would be hopelessly behind the times.

The type of service we provide requires new equipment constantly---much more, we are sure, than the public realizes. We regard this, however, as a part of our obligation to this community.

Respectfully,

Richard C. Martin

Poisoning Accidents Termed Avoidable With Safety Steps

LISBON—The Columbiana County Health and Safety Council says in another release of its series on health and safety that poisoning accidents can be prevented if certain definite safety steps are taken.

Reasonable care should be exercised over the period when there are young children in a family, according to Hart F. Page, secretary of the Ohio State Medical Association.

All harmful substances should be kept inaccessible to the young child. Poisons can enter the body by eating, by inhalation, by absorption through the skin and by injection as in a snake bite.

The committee on poison control of the OMSA lists various products found around the home which are not labeled "poison" but which can poison children.

In this category are such products as floor waxes, kerosene, bleaches, paints, cleaners, etc.

Page outlined several preventive practices to avoid poison accidents as follows:

Keep all drugs, including aspirin, under lock and key with the key available only to adults.

Keep only harmless substances in the cabinet area under the kitchen sink where children can have access.

Store household preparations used daily in a high cabinet if not kept under lock and key.

Keep products such as insecticides, pesticides, paints, gasoline, herbicides, rodenticides, turpentine and kerosene locked away from children.

Periodically check all rooms and farm buildings for poison hazards.

Clean out old drugs and medications frequently.

Wash utensils used for mixing insecticides, paints, etc., immediately and thoroughly.

Do not use paints and putties containing lead for interior work.

Have sufficient ventilation when using cleaners containing carbon tetrachloride.

Never leave a child alone or out of sight when working with hazardous materials.

"Federal laws sponsored by the AMA, requiring proper labeling and listing of contents of household, commercial and industrial products, assist your physician in determining the antidotes for hazardous products when poison occurs," he said. Eight poison information centers have been established in Ohio for assistance to physicians.

Page advised that if a child obtains a harmful substance, the physician should be called at once and first aid should be given until he arrives. First aid procedures are available from several sources. Take the poison container along to the hospital for identification of the ingredients if poisoning accidents occur, he added.

Oral Arguments Asked In Assault Conviction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court called today for oral arguments in the appeal of Mike Farah, Warren rackets figure, from an assault and battery conviction last year.

The Common Pleas Court jury conviction, affirmed by an appellate court, stemmed from a fight between Farah and Jean P. Blair, then Trumbull County Republican chairman.

Farah was sentenced to four months in jail and fined $200. His appeal to the Supreme Court stayed execution of sentence pending outcome of the proceedings.

Farah said the fight outside his Warren home resulted from demands for repayment of a $500 loan to Blair. Blair denied there was any loan and blamed the incident to a political matter.

Martin Funeral Home, Inc.
Dear friends,
If we chose, we could decide today not to add anything to our Funeral Service equipment for the next ten years. But at the end of these ten years we know we would be hopelessly behind the times.
The type of service we provide requires new equipment constantly---much more, we are sure, than the public realizes. We regard this, however, as a part of our obligation to this community.
Respectfully,
Robert C. Martin

In West Virginia Theft Case

The $34,000 Question

CHARLESTON (AP) — Where is the $34,000?

That is the latest question in the state's biggest theft case.

Last June 19 Earl Hayes Mathews entered the darkened offices of the Department of Motor Vehicles, found a way into the vault where license plate money was kept and made off with bags full of it.

A little less than three weeks later, on July 8, he was picked up at the apartment he was sharing with a woman and taken to State Police headquarters in South Charleston. His car was brought down with him. Once it was parked there, the trunk was opened. In it were bills, bills, bills, still in the sacks in which they had been placed at the department.

While Mathews was talking with newsmen, the count of the money began in a corner room at the headquarters. The commanding officer looked on. When it was all over with, the total announced was $351,840, or more than a third of a million dollars.

Before the case was broken the estimate of the amount taken had been $290,000.

The $351,840 figure was the one that had been accepted in the months that passed before the case got before the Kanawha County grand jury.

Then Prosecutor Charles M. Walker said Motor Vehicles Commissioner J. Marshall Holcomb told him $34,000 was still unaccounted for. The news was given at the same time to Lieut. E.L. Roush of the State Police, who led the investigation of the case.

Holcomb himself would not confirm what Walker said, but neither would he deny it. He admitted, "I made a disclosure," but would provide no details.

Lieut. Roush said Holcomb apparently believed that Mathews had the money. Mathews could not be found to ask for his side of this. He is free on bond and not reachable by telephone.

The day he was picked up, Mathews said that every dollar he took was right there in the trunk of his car.

Whether the new total for the theft, of $385,000 plus, will stand is in doubt. Walker said that Holcomb told him more checking was being done at the department, and the results would not be available until Friday.

75 Attend Annual Apple Day Tour

LISBON — Approximately 75 persons attended the annual Eastern Ohio Apple Day and apple smorgasbord Tuesday afternoon and evening, sponsored by the Salem Fruit Growers co-operative, Ohio Apple Institute, women of the Columbiana-Mahoning Horticultural Societies and agricultural extension service agencies.

Wagon tours were made at the White House Farm of Jerome Hull northeast of Salem, followed by visit to the packing house and cold storage plant of the Salem fruit growers at Greenford. A barbecued chicken dinner and smorgasbord was held at the Greenford school at 6:30.

Columbiana and Mahoning rank first and second as the largest producers of apples in the state, with Columbiana's crop estimated at 300,000 to 500,000 bushels each year. Producers said this should be another bumper year.

Specialists and technical experts explained the apple varieties and a representative from the Food and Drug Administration answered questions in regards to spray residues.

Cuba Agrees To Extradite 2 Americans

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government, after holding two Americans wanted on murder charges in the British Bahamas for five months, has finally agreed to their extradition.

The cabinet announced Tuesday night that Alvin Table Jr., 25, Torrance, Calif., and William Sees, 23, Etowah, Ark., would be sent to Nassau to face trial.

The men are accused of murdering Capt. Angus Boatwright, 55, of Key West, Fla., and pirating his fishing boat, Muriel III.

The pair and Table's wife, Barbara, 18, ran aground in a stolen boat on Elbow Key in the Bahamas last April. The Muriel's mate said that when Boatwright responded to their distress signal, Sees swam out and shot the captain. Sees and Table then made off with the Muriel, leaving the yacht's mate and four passengers and Mrs. Table marooned on the island.

New Styling Marks Dart For 1961

The 1961 Dart, Dodge's entry in the low-price field, offers 29 different models, including the two-door hardtop above.

The Dart is on display at Mackall Motors, Inc., 1503 Pennsylvania Ave.

An automotive newcomer last fall, it begins its second year with completely new styling, a host of engineering improvements and a wider selection of engines.

Dodge General Manager M. C. Patterson, discussing the new line, said significant refinements have been made in the engineering and manufacturing quality.

"We are firmly convinced that our new models are the best-engineered and the most carefully built cars ever to leave Dodge plants," Patterson said.

A choice of six different engines will be offered. All standard six- and eight-cylinder engines perform efficiently and economically on regular grades of gasoline, Patterson continued.

The Economy Slant Six, an advanced-design six-cylinder engine which was introduced last year, again will be available on all new models. This engine, inclined at an angle of 30 degrees, has 145 horsepower and a displacement of 225 cubic inches. Its compression ratio has been reduced to increase its performance while using even the lowest grades of gasoline.

"The improved Slant Six should give Dart owners even better economy than the 1960 version, which delivered 24.74 miles per gallon in the Mobilgas Economy Run this year," Patterson said.

The standard eight-cylinder engine is a 230-horsepower, 318-cubic-inch V-8, which also provides adequate power for every driving need on regular gasoline. This standard engine has a two-barrel carburetor. A 260-horsepower V-8, with four-barrel carburetor, is optional on all models.

Three high-performance V-8 engines are also offered: the 305-horsepower D-500; a 325-horsepower Police Special; and a 330-horsepower V-8 with special ram induction manifolding.

'Better Tone' Reported For Steel Market

NEW YORK (AP)—A slight improvement in orders and a growing conviction inventory liquidation has ended combine to give the steel market a better tone, Iron Age said today.

However, the metalworking weekly added, "any improvement in the steel operating rate will be gradual and probably less than seasonal."

"The percentage operating rate for the fourth quarter," the publication said, "now looks no better than 57 to 59 per cent of capacity. It may reach 65 at the high point, but then return to the 50s.

"This will bring the total steel tonnage for the year to less than 105 million tons, a far cry from the 127 to 130 million tons freely predicted last January, and well below the all-time record of 117 million tons set in 1955."

Iron Age said conflicting theories exist on inventory levels. Many in the industry believe users will enter October with no more steel than they had at the start of the year, having wiped out the post-strike build up.

"On the other hand, some of the major users have adequate inventories, and no upsurge in buying can be expected from them," the magazine said.

Shippingport Firemen Plan Dance Saturday

Mrs. Robert Christy, superintendent of the Children's Department, made the presentations.

Ex-Boxer Due Quiz In Slaying Of Wife

KEYSTONE, W. Va. (AP)—A former boxer from Youngstown, Ohio, is expected to be returned to Ohio soon for questioning in the slaying of his common-law wife.

Police were holding Willie Davis, 45, in jail today in connection with the slaying. Davis turned himself in to police Monday saying he was tired of running after stops in Pittsburgh and Charleston. The 240-pound Davis, whose wife was strangled with an ironing cord, said he once fought former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles.

Mrs. Heitzman was awarded all the property except a hand grinder, her husband's winter clothing, a shelf for her husband's refrigerator, and one chicken crate.

New Styling Marks Dart For 1961

The 1961 Dart, Dodge's entry in the low-price field, offers 29 different models, including the two-door hardtop above.

The Dart is on display at Mackall Motors, Inc., 1503 Pennsylvania Ave.

An automotive newcomer last fall, it begins its second year with completely new styling, a host of engineering improvements and a wider selection of engines.

Dodge General Manager M. C. Patterson, discussing the new line, said significant refinements have been made in the engineering and manufacturing quality.

"We are firmly convinced that our new models are the best-engineered and the most carefully built cars ever to leave Dodge plants," Patterson said.

A choice of six different engines will be offered. All standard six- and eight-cylinder engines perform efficiently and economically on regular grades of gasoline, Patterson continued.

The Economy Slant Six, an advanced-design six-cylinder engine which was introduced last year, again will be available on all new models. This engine, inclined at an angle of 30 degrees, has 145 horsepower and a displacement of 225 cubic inches. Its compression ratio has been reduced to increase its performance while using even the lowest grades of gasoline.

"The improved Slant Six should give Dart owners even better economy than the 1960 version, which delivered 24.74 miles per gallon in the Mobilgas Economy Run this year," Patterson said.

The standard eight-cylinder engine is a 230-horsepower, 318-cubic-inch V-8, which also provides adequate power for every driving need on regular gasoline. This standard engine has a two-barrel carburetor. A 260-horsepower V-8, with four-barrel carburetor, is optional on all models.

Three high-performance V-8 engines are also offered: the 305-horsepower D-500; a 325-horsepower Police Special; and a 330-horsepower V-8 with special ram induction manifolding.

'Better Tone' Reported For Steel Market

NEW YORK (AP)—A slight improvement in orders and a growing conviction inventory liquidation has ended combine to give the steel market a better tone, Iron Age said today.

However, the metalworking weekly added, "any improvement in the steel operating rate will be gradual and probably less than seasonal."

"The percentage operating rate for the fourth quarter," the publication said, "now looks no better than 57 to 59 per cent of capacity. It may reach 65 at the high point, but then return to the 50s.

"This will bring the total steel tonnage for the year to less than 105 million tons, a far cry from the 127 to 130 million tons freely predicted last January, and well below the all-time record of 117 million tons set in 1955."

Iron Age said conflicting theories exist on inventory levels. Many in the industry believe users will enter October with no more steel than they had at the start of the year, having wiped out the post-strike build up.

"On the other hand, some of the major users have adequate inventories, and no upsurge in buying can be expected from them," the magazine said.

Ex-Boxer Due Quiz In Slaying Of Wife

KEYSTONE, W. Va. (AP)—A former boxer from Youngstown, Ohio, is expected to be returned to Ohio soon for questioning in the slaying of his common-law wife.

Police were holding Willie Davis, 45, in jail today in connection with the slaying. Davis turned himself in to police Monday saying he was tired of running after stops in Pittsburgh and Charleston. The 240-pound Davis, whose wife was strangled with an ironing cord, said he once fought former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles.

Mrs. Heitaman was awarded all the property except a hand grinder, her husband's winter clothing, a shelf for her husband's refrigerator, and one chicken crate.

Solicitor Outlines Annexation Issue

The question of annexation or co-existence—facing East Liverpool and many other Ohio cities—was discussed at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday by Atty. Joseph W. C. Cooper.

The city solicitor, in an informal talk on annexation, presented what he called some logical approaches to the issue which concerns East Liverpool and the outlying communities.

THE CITY has annexed very little property in the last 60 years, he said, the last being Fisher Park, Riverview Cemetery, Maplewood, parts of Beechwood and small parts of East End in 1926.

Homeowners in annexed areas benefit from lower fire insurance rates, better police and fire protection, an adequate water supply and garbage and trash service, he said.

City residents also come under jurisdiction of Municipal Court instead of a Columbiana County judge in East Palestine.

But residents of the outlying areas, such as those in Glenmoor and Calcutta, have better streets and are exempt from any municipal income tax if not employed in East Liverpool, Atty. Cooper said.

THERE ARE two ways property may be annexed. The first is by petition from resident freeholders, signed by the majority, and accompanied by an accurate plat. The issue is assigned to county commissioners for legal work, and returned to City Council for its vote.

The second method is by an ordinance passed by City Council to make the community part of the city. The issue is put to a vote to residents in the proposed annexation. If not passed, it cannot be voted on again for five years.

Atty. Cooper used a chart to compare the respective fire insurance rates, public services, and tax rates of East Liverpool, Liverpool Township and St. Clair Township combined with the school district.

THE TAX rates and charges for water and sewage were based on a "typical" home of $12,000 market value, with a tax value of $5,000, and $10,000 fire insurance.

The tax rates were $3.06 for East Liverpool, $2.75 for Liverpool Township and $2.58 for St. Clair and the school district, or an annual cost of $153, $137.50 and $129, respectively.

Water service charges for the city and the two townships, respectively, are $20 to $24, and $22 to $26.40. The garbage and trash collection fee is included in city residents' taxes. Liverpool and St. Clair township residents pay $24 for the services.

ANOTHER chart illustrated the comparative costs of fire insurance on a house and household items and the number of working firemen and policemen in city and township.

Fire insurance rates increase considerably for homeowners living over 1,000 yards away from a water hydrant, the chart indicated. It pointed out that East Liverpool has 31 paid firemen, Liverpool Township has volunteers obligated to answer alarms, and St. Clair Township has volunteer firemen not obligated to answer fire calls. The city has 26 paid policemen, while the 2 townships have three each.

Atty. Cooper's chart listed total cost for taxes, water and sewage rates and garbage and trash fees as $217.25 for East Liverpool residents, $232.85 or $247.70 for Liverpool Township residents, depending on the distance from a fire hydrant, and $244.90 for St. Clair homeowners.

CITY residents also benefit from services of the local Board of Health, he added.

One disadvantage of annexation is that the city must assume all obligations of the territory being annexed. The city also would lose the revenue from the 10 per cent service charge of water and sewer users outside the limits, he added.

The city has no obligation to provide water and sewage services to residents outside the limits, and could raise the rates to 50 or 100 per cent if desired, he said.

IN MENTIONING co-existance, he gave Cleveland as an example as the city is surrounded by 57 villages and other cities, yet receives their waste and supplies them with water.

Atty. Cooper cited the "Age of the Urban Sprawl," where cities, villages and farms lose their identities and the end and the beginning of each are nearly indistinguishable.

The most common problems, he said, are water and sewage, with ranch-type houses, more road and concrete drives causing a faster runoff of water and creating floods. Inability of the ground to soak up the excess water results in sewage problems, he said.

HE LISTED Fisher Park as an example of sudden growth causing defective filter beds and sewage problems. "The problem of annexation or coexistance does not stop at the city and township boundaries, it must be solved," he concluded.

Atty. Cooper was introduced by George Hargraves, president, who presided at the meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

Parker Sends Steelers Through Scrimmage

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers received a surprise Tuesday.

Instead of having a light workout — the usual thing for Tuesdays — Coach Buddy Parker put the National Football League team through a scrimmage.

The Steelers play the Cleveland Browns Sunday at Cleveland. Parker said he is annoyed by the Steelers' leaky pass defense.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Donald Julien, 54, of Columbus, died Tuesday of injuries sustained Monday in a truck-car collision on the Spring - Sandusky traffic interchange here.

'Improved Oklahoma' Team To Face Pitt

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Pitt football scout says the Panthers will be up against an improved Oklahoma team Saturday at Norman, Okla.

"Oklahoma always has speed and now their backs are bigger," Carl DePasqua said Tuesday. "Oklahoma's passing is improved and they are throwing more often than in the past."

DePasqua saw the Sooners lose to Northwestern 19-3 last Saturday.

Ships' Call Drops

CLEVELAND (AP)—So far this season 341 ocean-going ships have called at the Port of Cleveland compared with 411 in 1959 to this date. A strike of dock workers which halted shipping here from May 16 to June 5 was responsible for part of the drop. Tonnage, however, is running close to a year ago, indicating the foreign ships using the seaway this year are larger than in the initial seaway season.

Ford makes automotive history with the trend-setting car of our times . . . a car that goes 30,000 miles without lubrication . . . 4,000 miles between oil changes . . . adjusts its own brakes and is beautifully built to take care of you!

The 1961 Ford, already recognized for its beautiful proportions by a leading international fashion authority, introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you...and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and new lubricants keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. Good-bye grease racks!

It cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's wonderfully efficient Full-Flow oil filtering system lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the brake lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing the panels beneath doors. The bright-metal trim is treated in depth to gleam and stay gleaming longer.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has plenty of punch. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

Best of all, the '61 Ford is beautifully built to take care of you. No windshield dogleg nips your knees. Doors are extra-wide for easy entry.

Man, Wife Can Say 2 Doctors In The House

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP) — After four years of study and constant separation during their five-year marriage Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Hoops can now say there are two doctors in the house.

Hoops graduated with the first class of the Fairleigh Dickenson School of Dentistry. His wife, Lilian, graduated cum laude from the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania.

The English favor the flavor of horseradish with roast beef. To serve horseradish with pot roast, add some to the gravy.

Attention, Burglars! Find New Entrance

MEMPHIS (AP) — If James Harpole has to put up with any more burglars he hopes they find some other way to get into his grocery store.

The one who cut his way in through the roof during a rainy weekend got away with $200. But the real financial blow was that rain pouring in through the hole did an estimated $5,000 damage.

Castro Goes Home Today; 'Flopped' As Statesman

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Fidel Castro goes home today—and so far as his reputation as a statesman is concerned, he should have stayed home in Havana.

He may still be a hero to his revolutionary cohorts at home, but in the eyes of many a delegate to the 96-member U.N. General Assembly, Castro is leaving this country a somewhat battered warrior.

The United States did well by itself Tuesday night. To Castro's interminable tirade of almost five hours, in which he accused the United States of responsibility for every woe Cuba ever suffered, U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth gave a deliberately soft, calm reply.

That reply gave the representatives of the world's nations the impression of an understanding, tolerant uncle soothing a badly spoiled child.

Castro came off second best, by all odds.

U.N. delegates, assessing the impact of the Cuban prime minister's debut before the world organization, indicated they thought Castro might even have created sympathy for the United States where little sympathy had existed before.

It usually is not difficult for a Latin-American speaker to win an attentive audience with an attack on the United States. Among the neighbors to the south there frequently is a certain amount of secret — or even open — satisfaction in watching rich Uncle Sam take it on the chin from one of his less fortunate Latin relatives.

This latent anti-Yankee feeling has been Castro's political capital in Latin America, where he still charms many among the masses and raises hopes among those of the extreme left. But he has frightened many, too, among them the men who at the present time are running Latin America's other governments and domestic affairs. He deepened their fright with his U.N. appearance.

Castro's speech obviously failed to arouse enthusiasm for his violent themes among Latin American delegations. Only the Communists, cheerfully led by Nikita Khrushchev, and an isolated few others joined in bursts of applause for the Cuban's mandering, scatter-shot attack on the United States.

Delegates of young African nations, with a sort of fascination looked on amazed while Castro spoke. Their interest in Castro as a potential neutralist seemed to fade.

How Castro looked to the Communists is not important. Whatever Khrushchev and the Communists think of him in private, they will lionize him publicly as a hero. For the Communists, Castro is a satisfactorily usable young man. That is all that counts to them.

GE Walkout Seen Delayed For 15 Days

NEW YORK (AP)--A nationwide strike threatened for Sunday against the General Electric Co. appears likely to be postponed 15 days.

New hope for averting a strike was raised Tuesday when Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts intervened in negotiations between the company and the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

Furcolo, in a telephone call to union president James B. Cary, offered to get together with the governors of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kentucky at a meeting here "to see if they could be instrumental in averting a strike."

The governors have major GE plants in their states.

Carey replied that if such a conference were arranged he would recommend to the union's conference board that the strike be postponed 15 days.

The conference board will meet here Friday. It is expected to authorize a strike already approved by a majority of the approximately 70,000 IUE members in GE plants across the country. There are about 100 other unions in GE plants. The second largest is the Independent United Electrical Workers (UE).

The company Tuesday night repeated its opposition to Carey proposals for arbitration or a fact-finding board. "Any other type of third party intervention would serve no useful purpose," GE said.

In voting to strike, IUE members turned down the latest company offer for a three-year contract, which included a two-step pay raise. Under the proposed pact, wages would go up 3 per cent upon reaching an agreement and 4 per cent on April 2, 1962. The union says pay now averages $2.30 to $2.40 an hour.

The union has called for an annual wage increase of 3½ per cent, plus other benefits.

Vote Theme Used For Cub Meeting

"Cub Scout Citizens" was the theme for the meeting of Cub Pack 30 Monday night at the Durbin Memorial in Chester.

In keeping with the theme, a "Get-out-the-Vote" project was used, featuring a voting booth and ballot box and a Liberty Bell made by Bill Mon, den dad.

Awards were given to John Chaney for advancement to Lion Scout and one silver and one gold arrow point for lion award. David Shelling and Bobby Gregory received a silver arrow point for the wolf award.

A Bell Telephone Co. movie, "Charlie's Haunt," was screened.

Light lunch was served by the pack committee.

"Fire Detectives" will be the theme for the October meeting.

Checks Sent Estates In Freighter Tragedy

CLEVELAND (AP) — Checks totaling $1.25 million were to be sent out today to the estates of the 33 crew members who died and to two injured survivors of the sinking of the freighter Carl D. Bradley on storm-tossed Lake Michigan Nov. 18, 1958.

U.S. District Judge Charles J. McNamee Tuesday signed a disbursement order, releasing the funds set up by the United States Steel Corp. in settlement of the suits for $16 million that had been filed.

39 To Be Confirmed

SALINEVILLE — Some 39 children and adults will receive the Sacrament of Confirmation at St. Patrick's Catholic Church Thursday afternoon at 3:30 from Auxiliary Bishop James Malone of Youngstown. Fr. Thomas Beldue, pastor, and visiting clergy will assist.

Man Injured Repairing Car

A man injured repairing a car and a farm laborer hurt at work were among seven youngsters and adults treated at City Hospital Tuesday following separate mishaps.

William H. Robinson, 26, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, suffered injuries of the shoulder and chest when a jack slipped while he was working on the rear part of the auto.

Robert M. Wells, 21, of 1338 Dresden Ave. was treated for a back injury received when he lifted apples while working on a farm.

Wayne Madison, 24, of Lincoln St., Salineville, suffered a foot injury when a large stone fell.

In a fall while swinging, John D. Williams, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Williams, 709 John St., received a cut of the scalp.

Fred Flara, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Flara of Chester R. D. 1, suffered a puncture wound of the right hand in a fall on a nail.

Randolph Baker, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baker of Laurel Heights, Chester, was treated for a possible fracture of the right arm received in a fall from a tree.

Mothers Need To Get Break From Noisy Kids, Expert Says

LONDON (AP)—Mothers need a break from their "noisy, dirty, wailing, sniveling" kids, says a leading British child expert.

R. S. Illingworth, professor of child health at Sheffield University, suggested today that for the good of their health wives should have occasional weekends alone with their husbands.

"Too much attention is paid these days to preventing psychological problems in children—and too little to preventing psychological problems in mothers," Illingworth wrote in the British Medical Association Journal "Family Doctor."

Illingworth said husbands could help a lot by giving the harassed mothers time off to get a hair-do or go shopping.

He suggested that occasional weekend separations of parents and children could do the child a lot of good.

"Such a short break helps him to begin to learn independence," the professor explained.

At Oxford, 300 American and British mothers attending the fifth annual conference of American and British Women's Activities agreed that spanking children up to 15 years old often was a good thing.

"We agreed there is a definite lack of discipline among juveniles today," said Nancy Blagg, wife of a U.S. Air Force captain and mother of three young children.

Children over 15, said an American grandmother, Marti Anderson, "need love, understanding, trust and a sense of humor—for them, security is essential."

GE Walkout Seen Delayed For 15 Days

NEW YORK (AP)--A nationwide strike threatened for Sunday against the General Electric Co. appears likely to be postponed 15 days.

New hope for averting a strike was raised Tuesday when Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts intervened in negotiations between the company and the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

Furcolo, in a telephone call to union president James B. Cary, offered to get together with the governors of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kentucky at a meeting here "to see if they could be instrumental in averting a strike."

The governors have major GE plants in their states.

Carey replied that if such a conference were arranged he would recommend to the union's conference board that the strike be postponed 15 days.

The conference board will meet here Friday. It is expected to authorize a strike already approved by a majority of the approximately 70,000 IUE members in GE plants across the country. There are about 100 other unions in GE plants. The second largest is the Independent United Electrical Workers (UE).

The company Tuesday night repeated its opposition to Carey proposals for arbitration or a fact-finding board. "Any other type of third party intervention would serve no useful purpose," GE said.

In voting to strike, IUE members turned down the latest company offer for a three-year contract, which included a two-step pay raise. Under the proposed pact, wages would go up 3 per cent upon reaching an agreement and 4 per cent on April 2, 1962. The union says pay now averages $2.30 to $2.60 an hour.

The union has called for an annual wage increase of 3½ per cent, plus other benefits.

Awards were given to John Chaney for advancement to Lion Scout and one silver and one gold arrow point for lion award. David Shelling and Bobby Gregory received a silver arrow point for the wolf award.

A Bell Telephone Co. movie, "Charlie's Haunt," was screened.

Light lunch was served by the pack committee.

"Fire Detectives" will be the theme for the October meeting.

Mothers Need To Get Break From Noisy Kids, Expert Says

LONDON (AP)—Mothers need a break from their "noisy, dirty, wailing, sniveling" kids, says a leading British child expert.

R. S. Illingworth, professor of child health at Sheffield University, suggested today that for the good of their health wives should have occasional weekends alone with their husbands.

"Too much attention is paid these days to preventing psychological problems in children—and too little to preventing psychological problems in mothers," Illingworth wrote in the British Medical Association Journal "Family Doctor."

Illingworth said husbands could help a lot by giving the harassed mothers time off to get a hair-do or go shopping.

He suggested that occasional weekend separations of parents and children could do the child a lot of good.

"Such a short break helps him to begin to learn independence," the professor explained.

At Oxford, 300 American and British mothers attending the fifth annual conference of American and British Women's Activities agreed that spanking children up to 15 years old often was a good thing.

"We agreed there is a definite lack of discipline among juveniles today," said Nancy Blagg, wife of a U.S. Air Force captain and mother of three young children.

Children over 15, said an American grandmother, Marti Anderson, "need love, understanding, trust and a sense of humor—for them, security is essential."

Pirates Edge Reds, 4-3, In Longest Game Of '60 Season

Syracuse Picked, Buckeyes Favored

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Football is a kicking game. If you don't believe it just listen to some of the alumni. More of them will be grumbling after this week's games. Here are the winners:

Mississippi over Memphis State: This looks like a breeze for the Rebel team but Memphis State statistically, has the second-best offense in the nation. But it wasn't built up against teams of Mississippi's caliber.

Syracuse over Kansas: The score was close a year ago but Syracuse led the Big Eight team in first downs, 32-4. This is the TV morsel for this week.

Washington over Navy: The Huskies see this as a big step toward greater national recognition. The Middies' Joe Bellino will give the Washington fans fits, however.

Illinois over West Virginia: Johnny Easterbrook's passing to make molehills out of the Mountaineers.

Iowa over Northwestern: Dick Thornton, the Wildcats' big gun, is out with a leg injury.

Clemson over Virginia Tech: The Clemson line is one of the best in the south.

Ohio State over Southern California: The Buckeyes' new offensive will make the afternoon a miserable one for the McKeever twins.

Elsewhere:

Georgia Tech over Florida; Tennessee over Mississippi State; Purdue over Notre Dame; Texas over Texas Tech; Alabama over Vanderbilt; Penn State over Missouri.

Friday night

Miami over North Carolina; Louisville over Bradley.

Saturday

EAST: Boston University over Holy Cross, Colgate over Lehigh; Rutgers over Connecticut, Bucknell over Cornell, Penn over Dartmouth, Delaware over Amherst, Princeton over Columbia, Buffalo over Temple, Yale over Brown.

SOUTH: The Citadel over Davidson, Wake Forest over Florida State, Georgia over South Carolina, Auburn over Kentucky, Duke over Maryland, Mississippi Southern over West Texas State, North Carolina State over Virginia, Virginia Military over Richmond, William and Mary over George Washington, LSU over Baylor.

MIDWEST: Colorado over Kansas State, Michigan State over Michigan, Minnesota over Indiana, Nebraska at Iowa State, Oklahoma over Pittsburgh, Tulsa over Hardin Simmons, Wisconsin over Marquette.

SOUTHWEST: North Texas State over Cincinnati, Tulane over Rice, Texas Christian over Arkansas, New Mexico over Texas Western, Texas A&M over Trinity.

FAR WEST: Wyoming over Arizona, Army over California, Colorado State University over Brigham Young, Montana State over Wichita, Montana over Idaho, Oregon State over Houston, College of Pacific over Hawaii, Utah State over Denver, Oregon over Utah.

Rickey May Re-Activate New League

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Branch Rickey hinted broadly today he may re-activate the Continental League if the major league club owners do not live up to their promise to expand.

Baseball's 79-year-old pioneer and president of the short-lived league that threatened for a time to become a third major league, said he planned to call a press conference shortly after the World Series. He said he would demand that the majors fish or cut bait.

"The majors in a meeting with us in Chicago on Aug. 2 promised to act within 30 days," Rickey said. "It is now almost 60 and nothing has been done.

"The American League has made promises, that's all. The National League hasn't met at all. And if they're going to wait for them I think they're going to wait a long time. The National League hasn't even chosen the cities yet."

Rickey is a firm believer in expansion but insists it can be done only by the addition of a third league and not by increasing the present eight-team league setup to 10 or 12 teams.

Schofield Ends Marathon In 16th

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The plot's beginning to perk up in the race for the National League batting title. There are just five days left, but here comes Willie.

While Norm Larker of Los Angeles and injured Dick Groat of Pittsburgh's champion Pirates are tied for the lead at .325, Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants has climbed to .322 in his shot for a second title.

Groat has been sidelined since breaking his wrist September 6. He has only three games left. Larker has five, Willie four.

Groat, who expects to get back into the line-up against Milwaukee this weekend, returned as a pinch-runner as the Pirates defeated Cincinnati 4-3 in 16 innings Tuesday night. It was the longest game of the year in the majors and ended the champions' losing streak at three.

Larker was 1-for-2 and picked up a point for the first-place tie with Groat as the Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals and 21-game winner Ernie Broglio 5-1. Mays gained two points with a double and two singles in four trips, driving in the Giants' run in a 3-1 loss to the Chicago Cubs.

Milwaukee retained a half-game edge over St. Louis for second money in the standings despite a 5-3 defeat at Philadelphia.

In the American League, the champion New York Yankees won their 11th in a row, 5-1 at Washington, as one-time relief ace Ryne Duren tied a modern record by striking out the first five men he faced in his first start in two years. Baltimore belted Boston 17-3 and gained a one-game edge over Chicago for second place as the White Sox lost 2-0 to Detroit. Kansas City beat Cleveland 5-4.

Dick Stuart walloped a three-run homer in the first inning for the Pirates, then opened the 16th with a double off loser Cal McLish (4-14) as they beat the Reds on a follow-up single by Dick Schofield.

Rookie Tommy Davis drove in four runs, three with his 10th homer, as the Dodgers clipped Broglio's winning streak at five. It was his eighth defeat. Roger Craig (8-3) was the winner, allowing five hits and striking out six. That gave the Los Angeles staff a total of 1,080, breaking the major league strikeout record the Dodgers set last season with 1,078.

Four unearned runs with two out in the eighth inning brought the Phils from behind against Milwaukee right-hander Joey Jay (9-8). Dick Farrell (11-16) was the winner in relief of Robin Roberts.

The Cubs and Giants each had six hits, but a two-run homer by Frank Thomas, his 21st, in the fourth inning off Billy O'Dell (8-13) was the difference. Don Cardwell (9-15) was the winning pitcher.

Face Gives Bucs Edge In Bullpen

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — World Series history is filled with stories of brilliant feats by relief pitchers. Larry Sherry added the most recent chapter, leading Los Angeles to victory in 1959.

Elroy Face is most likely to put his name on the list as a result of the 1960 series opening a week from today in Forbes Field. Because the New York Yankees have little to match the consistently brilliant performances of the little Pittsburgh bull pen specialist, the Pirates' pitching staff is given the edge over the New York's.

Southpaws Bobby Shantz and Luis Arroyo have been the Yankees' top relief men. But neither is in the same class with Face, whose 10 victories is as many as Shantz and Arroyo have combined. Face is backed up by Clem Labine, a series veteran with the Dodgers, who turned in an outstanding job after being picked up as a free agent in mid-August.

On the surface, Pittsburgh also appears to have an edge as far as starting pitchers are concerned. The Pirates' big four has won 61 games and lost 38. Vernon Law has a 20-8 mark, Bob Friend is 17-12, Vinegar Bend Mizell 13-8 and Harvey Haddix 11-10.

The Yanks figure to go with Art Dimar (15-9), Whitey Ford (11-9), Bob Turley (9-3) and Ralph Terry (10-8). That's a combined record of 45-29.

Other Yankee pitching eligibles are Eli Grba (5-4), Ryne Duren (3-4), Jim Coates (12-3), Duke Maas (2-1) and rookie Bill Stafford (3-1).

The Pirates will also have available Tom Cheney (2-2), George Witt (1-2), Fred Green (7-4) and Joe Gibbon (4-2).

Golf Shot Gets Gopher

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Lt. Col. Gordon Edgett was an easy winner for the "most spectacular shot" award at Warren Air Force Base invitational golf tournament. One of his drives hit a gopher and killed it.

Westgate Tops Foe By 26-0

Westgate rolled right along in its 1960 opener by blanking East Palestine, 26-0, Tuesday afternoon at Patterson Field.

Halfback Curt Battestelli led the Westgate attack by scoring two touchdowns.

St. Aloysius, Chester Clash On Thursday

St. Aloysius will go after its second straight victory Thursday at 4:30, meeting the Chester Colts at Chester City park. St. Aloysius defeated Midland Presentation School, 12-7, in the opener.

Quarterback Chuck Baker scored one TD and threw for six points. Baker intercepted a pass and made his way to the end zone then end Dave Chetwynd rounded out the scoring when he grabbed a touchdown pass thrown by Baker.

Coach Bill Erlitz's squad travels to Salem Oct. 6.

East Junior High will open its season Thursday at Steubenville Central.

Red Sox Revamp Front Office, Harris Fired

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, experiencing one of their worst years, drastically and suddenly revamped their front office staff Tuesday.

Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris who came out of the Pennsylvania anthracite region and led Washington to a pennant in 1924 as boy manager and who has held numerous managerial and executive posts in baseball, was fired as general manager.

John J. Murphy, better known as "Grandma" when a stout relief pitcher for the New York Yankees, was fired as head of the Boston American League club's farm system.

Harris was not available for comment. Murphy described the action as a complete surprise and didn't want to talk about it.

The Sox named Richard H. O'Connell, who has been business manager the last dozen years, as executive vice president.

Neil T. Mahoney, supervisor of eastern scouting for eight years, was named to succeed Murphy. His title was announced as director of the Red Sox minor league system.

The announcement said only that Harris and Murphy were leaving the Sox.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Tommy Davis, Dodgers, rookie outfielder drove in four runs, three with his 10th homer, in 5-1 victory over Cardinals and 21-game winner Ernie Broglio.

Pitching — Ryne Duren, Yankees, question-mark right-hander, making first start in two years in warm up for World Series relief role, tied modern record by striking out first five men he faced in 5-1 victory over Senators.

UCLA Star Is Top Back

By The Associated Press

Bill Kilmer, a triple threat tailback who fires up UCLA's explosive single wing attack, today was named Back of the Week in the Associated Press' weekly football poll for his dazzling deeds against Purdue Saturday.

The 21-year-old senior threw three touchdown passes — for 76, 70 and 17 yard scoring strikes — ran 11 yards for the fourth TD and had a real ball all afternoon in the 27-27 tie with the Boilermakers at Lafayette, Ind.

The 6-foot, 187-pounder who has been hampered by injuries the past two seasons, completed 9 of 16 passes for 226 yards, carried the ball 13 times for 42 yards net, and punted four times for a 42-yard average.

Outstanding as he was, Kilmer was pressed for the honor by a flock of other Saturday heroes including Dave Hoppman of Iowa State; Dick Thornton of Northwestern; Ernie Davis of Syracuse; Bill McQuirt of Clemson; Ronnie Bull of Baylor; Tommy Mason of Tulane and Wisconsin's Run Miller, among others.

Hoppman scored three touchdowns, passed for another, gained 204 yards rushing and 96 more passing in the Cyclones' 44-21 victory over Detroit Friday night.

The 20-year-old sophomore from Madison, Wis., tops the major colleges in total offense. Kilmer is third.

While Norm Larker of Los Angeles and injured Dick Groat of Pittsburgh's champion Pirates are tied for the lead at .325, Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants has climbed to .322 in his shot for a second title.

Groat has been sidelined since breaking his wrist September 6. He has only three games left. Larker has five, Willie four.

Groat, who expects to get back into the line-up against Milwaukee this weekend, returned as a pinch-runner as the Pirates defeated Cincinnati 4-3 in 16 innings Tuesday night. It was the longest game of the year in the majors and ended the champions' losing streak at three.

Larker was 1-for-2 and picked up a point for the first-place tie with Groat as the Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals and 21-game winner Ernie Broglio 5-1. Mays gained two points with a double and two singles in four trips, driving in the Giants' run in a 3-1 loss to the Chicago Cubs.

Milwaukee retained a half-game edge over St. Louis for second money in the standings despite a 5-3 defeat at Philadelphia.

In the American League, the champion New York Yankees won their 11th in a row, 5-1 at Washington, as one-time relief ace Ryne Duren tied a modern record by striking out the first five men he faced in his first start in two years. Baltimore belted Boston 17-3 and gained a one-game edge over Chicago for second place as the White Sox lost 2-0 to Detroit. Kansas City beat Cleveland 5-4.

Dick Stuart walloped a three-run homer in the first inning for the Pirates, then opened the 16th with a double off loser Cal McLish (4-14) as they beat the Reds on a follow-up single by Dick Schofield.

Rookie Tommy Davis drove in four runs, three with his 10th homer, as the Dodgers clipped Broglio's winning streak at five. It was his eighth defeat. Roger Craig (8-3) was the winner, allowing five hits and striking out six. That gave the Los Angeles staff a total of 1,080, breaking the major league strikeout record the Dodgers set last season with 1,078.

Four unearned runs with two out in the eighth inning brought the Phils from behind against Milwaukee right-hander Joey Jay (9-8). Dick Farrell (11-16) was the winner in relief of Robin Roberts.

The Cubs and Giants each had six hits, but a two-run homer by Frank Thomas, his 21st, in the fourth inning off Billy O'Dell (8-13) was the difference. Don Cardwell (9-15) was the winning pitcher.

Face Gives Bucs Edge In Bullpen

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — World Series history is filled with stories of brilliant feats by relief pitchers. Larry Sherry added the most recent chapter, leading Los Angeles to victory in 1959.

Elroy Face is most likely to put his name on the list as a result of the 1960 series opening a week from today in Forbes Field. Because the New York Yankees have little to match the consistently brilliant performances of the little Pittsburgh bull pen specialist, the Pirates' pitching staff is given the edge over the New York's.

Southpaws Bobby Shantz and Luis Arroyo have been the Yankees' top relief men. But neither is in the same class with Face, whose 10 victories is as many as Shantz and Arroyo have combined. Face is backed up by Clem Labine, a series veteran with the Dodgers, who turned in an outstanding job after being picked up as a free agent in mid-August.

On the surface, Pittsburgh also appears to have an edge as far as starting pitchers are concerned. The Pirates' big four has won 61 games and lost 38. Vernon Law has a 20-8 mark, Bob Friend is 17-12, Vinegar Bend Mizell 13-8 and Harvey Haddix 11-10.

The Yanks figure to go with Art Dimar (15-9), Whitey Ford (11-9), Bob Turley (9-3) and Ralph Terry (10-8). That's a combined record of 45-29.

Other Yankee pitching eligibles are Eli Grba (5-4), Ryne Duren (3-4), Jim Coates (12-3), Duke Maas (2-1) and rookie Bill Stafford (3-1).

The Pirates will also have available Tom Cheney (2-2), George Witt (1-2), Fred Green (7-4) and Joe Gibbon (4-2).

UCLA Star Is Top Back

By The Associated Press

Bill Kilmer, a triple threat tailback who fires up UCLA's explosive single wing attack, today was named Back of the Week in the Associated Press' weekly football poll for his dazzling deeds against Purdue Saturday.

The 21-year-old senior threw three touchdown passes — for 76, 70 and 17 yard scoring strikes — ran 11 yards for the fourth TD and had a real ball all afternoon in the 27-27 tie with the Boilermakers at Lafayette, Ind.

The 6-foot, 187-pounder who has been hampered by injuries the past two seasons, completed 9 of 16 passes for 226 yards, carried the ball 13 times for 42 yards net, and punted four times for a 42-yard average.

Outstanding as he was, Kilmer was pressed for the honor by a flock of other Saturday heroes including Dave Hoppman of Iowa State; Dick Thornton of Northwestern; Ernie Davis of Syracuse; Bill McQuirt of Clemson; Ronnie Bull of Baylor; Tommy Mason of Tulane and Wisconsin's Ron Miller, among others.

Hoppman scored three touchdowns, passed for another, gained 204 yards rushing and 96 more passing in the Cyclones' 44-21 victory over Detroit Friday night.

The 20-year-old sophomore from Madison, Wis., tops the major colleges in total offense. Kilmer is third.

Red Sox Revamp Front Office, Harris Fired

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, experiencing one of their worst years, drastically and suddenly revamped their front office staff Tuesday.

Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris who came out of the Pennsylvania anthracite region and led Washington to a pennant in 1924 as boy manager and who has held numerous managerial and executive posts in baseball, was fired as general manager.

John J. Murphy, better known as "Grandma" when a stout relief pitcher for the New York Yankees, was fired as head of the Boston American League club's farm system.

Harris was not available for comment. Murphy described the action as a complete surprise and didn't want to talk about it.

The Sox named Richard H. O'Connell, who has been business manager the last dozen years, as executive vice president.

Neil T. Mahoney, supervisor of eastern scouting for eight years, was named to succeed Murphy. His title was announced as director of the Red Sox minor league system.

The announcement said only that Harris and Murphy were leaving the Sox.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Tommy Davis, Dodgers, rookie outfielder drove in four runs, three with his 10th homer, in 5-1 victory over Cardinals and 21-game winner Ernie Broglio.

Yankees Mow Down Senators, 5-1, For 11th Victory In Row

Duren Fans Five Straight Batters

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees may be undecided over his starting pitcher for the opening game of the World Series a week from today, but he knows for sure that one-time relief ace Ryne Duren is back in business.

The fast-balling right-hander had managed just one save while losing his only decision in 16 appearances since July 28.

But Duren, making his first start in two years, showed he still had the stuff in a tune-up test for the series Tuesday night, tying a modern record by striking out the first five men he faced as the Yankees whipped Washington 5-1. Duren, who worked four innings, winner Eli Grba and Bob Turley allowed the Senators just three hits as the American League champs won their 11th in a row.

Baltimore walloped Boston 17-3 and took a one-game lead over Chicago in their scrap for second place as Detroit beat the White Sox 2-0 behind Jim Bunning's three-hit pitching. Kansas City defeated Cleveland 5-4.

In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates who had lost three in a row, won their first as champs by defeating Cincinnati 4-3 in 16 innings, the longest game of the season in the majors. Philadelphia defeated Milwaukee 5-3, Los Angeles beat St. Louis and 21-game winner Ernie Broglio 5-1, and Chicago's Cubs defeated San Francisco 3-1.

Duren, showing only a 3-4 record and a 4.60 earned run average after early season arm trouble, became the fourth pitcher in modern times—since 1900—to strike out five in a row at the start of a game.

Grba (6-4) won it with three hitless innings. Turley gave up one single in his two frames.

The Yankees, riding their longest streak since they won 11 in 1956, beat Don Lee (8-7) with two runs in the second on a double by Dale Long, a triple by Johnny Blanchard and an error. Bill Skowron then rapped his 26th home run as a pinch-hitter leading off a three-run eighth.

Jim Gentile drove in five runs for the Orioles, who tagged 18 hits, including four homers, for their one-game scoring high this season. Skinny Brown (12-5) was the winner and Ike Delock (910) the loser.

Bunning (11-14) allowed nothing but singles, two by Sherm Lollar, while pitching his third shutout this season. Early Wynn (13-11) lost it on a two-out wild pitch in the sixth inning.

Jerry Lumpe, who went 4-for-4, belted a home run and drove in two runs for the A's against loser Barry Latman (7-7). Ray Herbert (13-15) won it with 3 1-3 innings of shutout relief by rookie Dave Wickersham.

Wednesday Night TV Fights To End

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Windy City has passed from the scene as a major professional boxing center with dissolution by millionaire Jim Norris of National Boxing Enterprises.

Television, which formed the financial foundation of his boxing empire, finally turned into a Frankenstein monster. The decision by the American Broadcasting Co. to drop the televised Wednesday night fights strangled the main source of revenue for NBE. An embittered Norris Tuesday renounced all connection with the sport.

Tonight, Eddie Perkins of Chicago meets Gene Gresham of Detroit in a 10-round lightweight bout in Chicago Stadium that ends a nine-year history of the Wednesday night fights feature.

"I'm sorry I ever got into boxing," said Norris, owner of the Chicago Blackhawks hockey team a racing stable and part owner, with Arthur M. Wirtz, of the Chicago Stadium.

"I tried my best to bring good boxing to the public of America," continued Norris, who has been under congressional fire for alleged association with shady characters in boxing.

"My enemies—as vague as they were—beat me down. Our organization is quitting an impossible situation. Any usefulness or desire I had in boxing is gone. We put our heart, money and integrity into boxing only to get slapped down. Our belly is now full and we're quitting."

TV boxing will continue on Saturday nights—with most of the bouts in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Norris said Chicago Stadium would be available for boxing promotions, but he didn't expect any topflight fights.

Bucks' Coach Pleased With Tuesday's Drill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Woody Hayes said he was definitely pleased with Tuesday's Ohio State football practice which featured a passing drill for quarterbacks and halfbacks.

The ends worked with assistant coaches to avoid a repetition of the penalties which plagued the Buckeyes Saturday when they whipped Southern Methodist 24-0.

Cincy Signs Agreement With Indianapolis Club

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds have shored up their farm team structure with a working agreement for next season with Indianapolis of the American Association.

The action Tuesday came shortly after Philadelphia's National Leaguers ended a partial agreement with the community-owned Hoosiers.

The Reds promptly assigned six players to Indianapolis, a team that had lost about $40,000 in the past season with declining attendance.

The Reds' assignees are pitcher Don Rudolph and outfielders Joe Taylor and Buddy Gilbert who were with Seattle; pitcher Bobo Krop from Columbia of the Sally League; outfielder Bill Shepherd of Missoula, Mont., in the Pioneer League, and shortstop Frank Obregon who played half the season with Indianapolis.

The Reds' agreement with Seattle is expected to end with imminent purchase of the Pacific Coast League team by Boston's American League Red Sox.

The Reds also have said they will end a working agreement with Nashville of the Southern Association because the league will not allow Negro players.

A Redleg spokesman said also Tuesday night that George Bryson will not announce telecasts of Cincinnati games next season.

The spokesman said Bryson's contract was not renewed. He has been describing televised Cincinnati games for the past five years over WLW and its affiliates in Dayton and Columbus.

Leafs, Colonels Open Little World Series

TORONTO (AP) — The opener of the Little World Series tonight between Toronto Maple Leafs and Louisville Colonels is shaping up as a battle between pitchers.

The International League champion Leafs might have a slight edge if stars mean anything. Right-hander Al Cicotte, scheduled to start on the mound, was the league's top hurler in season play.

And outfielder Jim King won the International League most valuable player award, edging Buffalo Bisons' outfielder Don Ladrum by 221-220 in points.

The Colonels are expected to open with right-hander Don Nottebart.

Cincy Signs Agreement With Indianapolis Club

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds have shored up their farm team structure with a working agreement for next season with Indianapolis of the American Association.

The action Tuesday came shortly after Philadelphia's National Leaguers ended a partial agreement with the community-owned Hoosiers.

The Reds promptly assigned six players to Indianapolis, a team that had lost about $40,000 in the past season with declining attendance.

The Reds' assignees are pitcher Don Rudolph and outfielders Joe Taylor and Buddy Gilbert who were with Seattle; pitcher Bobo Krop from Columbia of the Sally League; outfielder Bill Shepherd of Missoula, Mont., in the Pioneer League, and shortstop Frank Obregon who played half the season with Indianapolis.

The Reds' agreement with Seattle is expected to end with imminent purchase of the Pacific Coast League team by Boston's American League Red Sox.

The Reds also have said they will end a working agreement with Nashville of the Southern Association because the league will not allow Negro players.

A Redleg spokesman said also Tuesday night that George Bryson will not announce telecasts of Cincinnati games next season.

The spokesman said Bryson's contract was not renewed. He has been describing televised Cincinnati games for the past five years over WLW and its affiliates in Dayton and Columbus.

Leafs, Colonels Open Little World Series

TORONTO (AP) — The opener of the Little World Series tonight between Toronto Maple Leafs and Louisville Colonels is shaping up as a battle between pitchers.

The International League champion Leafs might have a slight edge if stars mean anything. Right-hander Al Cicotte, scheduled to start on the mound, was the league's top hurler in season play.

And outfielder Jim King won the International League most valuable player award, edging Buffalo Bisons' outfielder Don Ladrum by 221-220 in points.

The Colonels are expected to open with right-hander Don Nottebart.

Wednesday Night TV Fights To End

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Windy City has passed from the scene as a major professional boxing center with dissolution by millionaire Jim Norris of National Boxing Enterprises.

Television, which formed the financial foundation of his boxing empire, finally turned into a Frankenstein monster. The decision by the American Broadcasting Co. to drop the televised Wednesday night fights strangled the main source of revenue for NBE. An embittered Norris Tuesday renounced all connection with the sport.

Tonight, Eddie Perkins of Chicago meets Gene Gresham of Detroit in a 10-round lightweight bout in Chicago Stadium that ends a nine-year history of the Wednesday night fights feature.

"I'm sorry I ever got into boxing," said Norris, owner of the Chicago Blackhawks hockey team a racing stable and part owner, with Arthur M. Wirtz, of the Chicago Stadium.

"I tried my best to bring good boxing to the public of America," continued Norris, who has been under congressional fire for alleged association with shady characters in boxing.

"My enemies—as vague as they were—beat me down. Our organization is quitting an impossible situation. Any usefulness or desire I had in boxing is gone. We put our heart, money and integrity into boxing only to get slapped down. Our belly is now full and we're quitting."

TV boxing will continue on Saturday nights—with most of the bouts in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Norris said Chicago Stadium would be available for boxing promotions, but he didn't expect any topflight fights.

Bucks' Coach Pleased With Tuesday's Drill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Woody Hayes said he was definitely pleased with Tuesday's Ohio State football practice which featured a passing drill for quarterbacks and halfbacks.

The ends worked with assistant coaches to avoid a repetition of the penalties which plagued the Buckeyes Saturday when they whipped Southern Methodist 24-0.

Saumell Eyes 400th Win

When Jockey Francisco Saumell booted home four winners on opening day of Waterford Park's 1960 fall racing season he served notice that he is out to notch the 400th victory of his career at this West Virginia oval.

Since accepting his first mount at Waterford Park the 31-year-old Cuban had scored with 351 winners at the track and the magic number in his case is now "45."

He is imposing a task upon himself to win so often during the abbreviated fall session, but after driving down in front on 85 winners during the summer meet he would seem to have at least an outside chance to achieve his goal.

Like many other "Latins", Saumell sometimes falls prey to temperament. On such occasions he generally goes into a slump, due to his inner despondency. Mainly, however, he is an exuberant type, confident in his own ability and with an innate will to win.

In most instances, he can be depended upon to make the right moves with his mount instead of the wrong ones, so often the margin between a win and a loss.

Saumell has been clicking locally only since 1957, but since then has gained a measure of national attention. In 1957 his 205 winners, of which 90 were gained at Waterford Park, placed his tenth to national leader William Hartack in point of winners.

In 1958 he was astride 232 winners, 102 of them ridden at Waterford, to place third to top reinsman Willie Shoemaker. Last year Saumell was 18th to Shoemaker with 191 winners, 43 of them locally.

Francisco made his first visit to Waterford Park in the fall of 1954 and rode his initial victor, Great Mogul, on Oct. 12. His achievements for that meeting were far from spectacular, with only two wins to his record, but the succeeding year he did much better with 25.

From there on he was off and running, climazing his local career with his 85 wins at Waterford's summer meet to set an all-time local mark, topping Hartack's previous record of 82.

His four victories on Saturday's opening day program included Lochlain, Stop Thief, Dandy Gen and Sashayin. It was one of the top riding feats turned in by him at Waterford Park.

Nonpareil Membership Campaign Reaches 476

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club authorized a $25 contribution to the newly-organized Potters Ladies Booster Club at its meeting Tuesday night in the YMCA. Nearly 40 attended.

The Ladies Booster Club, for women interested in promoting athletics in the city, has agreed to serve refreshments to the Potter football squad on Thursday and Friday nights as its first project. Membership is open to all interested ladies, and is not restricted to mothers of football players.

Mrs. Alma Hall is serving as temporary chairman and the club is scheduled to meet Monday night at Patterson Field to see movies of the East Liverpool-New Philadelphia game of Friday night.

George Mueller, membership campaign chairman for 1960, reported 476 new Nonpareil members signed. The drive has reached $1,357 to date for club projects.

Hap Tullis was thanked by Ralph Musuraca, president, for serving as chairman of the "Parents Night" held at last week's game with Girard.

Coach Lou Venditti cited the outstanding line play of sophomore Bob Parsons during a talk on the Potter victory over Girard. Parsons took over tackle duties for regular Skip Hall in the second quarter after Hall and an opponent were ejected by referee John Russ.

Venditti also presented information on New Philadelphia, the Potter opponent this week, which has a 27-0 victory over Barnesville and a 14-6 defeat to a Columbus school on its record. The Quakers show an offensive line of average weight, but the defensive line averages 205 pounds, headed by a 235-pound middle guard, Venditti said. Coach Bill Kidd's team also has a strong 200-pound fullback. Movies of the Girard game were screened.

Officers and trustees will meet Monday night at 7 in the YMCA, Musuraca announced. The next regular meeting is Tuesday night at 8, he added.

Local Hound Scores Win At Beagle Trial

White Crest Hans Jr., owned by Charles White of the East Liverpool Beagle Club, won first place at the licensed trial held by the Crowfoot Beagle Club at Murraysville, Pa., Sunday.

The trial was licensed by the American Kennel Club for competition among beagles of all ages.

It marked the first win for the 2-year-old hound. He was handled by professional handler Tom Moore of New Philadelphia.

The World Bank has made an allocation of $70 million to India for improvement and expansion of its railways.

Saumell has been clicking locally only since 1957, but since then has gained a measure of national attention. In 1957 his 205 winners, of which 90 were gained at Waterford Park, placed his tenth to national leader William Hartack in point of winners.

In 1958 he was astride 232 winners, 102 of them ridden at Waterford, to place third to top reinsman Willie Shoemaker. Last year Saumell was 18th to Shoemaker with 191 winners, 43 of them locally.

Francisco made his first visit to Waterford Park in the fall of 1954 and rode his initial victor, Great Mogul, on Oct. 12. His achievements for that meeting were far from spectacular, with only two wins to his record, but the succeeding year he did much better with 25.

From there on he was off and running, climazing his local career with his 85 wins at Waterford's summer meet to set an all-time local mark, topping Hartack's previous record of 82.

His four victories on Saturday's opening day program included Lochlain, Stop Thief, Dandy Gen and Sashayin. It was one of the top riding feats turned in by him at Waterford Park.

Nonpareil Membership Campaign Reaches 476

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club authorized a $25 contribution to the newly-organized Potters Ladies Booster Club at its meeting Tuesday night in the YMCA. Nearly 40 attended.

The Ladies Booster Club, for women interested in promoting athletics in the city, has agreed to serve refreshments to the Potter football squad on Thursday and Friday nights as its first project. Membership is open to all interested ladies, and is not restricted to mothers of football players.

Mrs. Alma Hall is serving as temporary chairman and the club is scheduled to meet Monday night at Patterson Field to see movies of the East Liverpool-New Philadelphia game of Friday night.

George Mueller, membership campaign chairman for 1960, reported 476 new Nonpareil members signed. The drive has reached $1,357 to date for club projects.

Hap Tullis was thanked by Ralph Musuraca, president, for serving as chairman of the "Parents Night" held at last week's game with Girard.

Coach Lou Venditti cited the outstanding line play of sophomore Bob Parsons during a talk on the Potter victory over Girard. Parsons took over tackle duties for regular Skip Hall in the second quarter after Hall and an opponent were ejected by referee John Russ.

Venditti also presented information on New Philadelphia, the Potter opponent this week, which has a 27-0 victory over Barnesville and a 14-6 defeat to a Columbus school on its record. The Quakers show an offensive line of average weight, but the defensive line averages 205 pounds, headed by a 235-pound middle guard, Venditti said. Coach Bill Kidd's team also has a strong 200-pound fullback. Movies of the Girard game were screened.

Officers and trustees will meet Monday night at 7 in the YMCA, Musuraca announced. The next regular meeting is Tuesday night at 8, he added.

Local Hound Scores Win At Beagle Trial

White Crest Hans Jr., owned by Charles White of the East Liverpool Beagle Club, won first place at the licensed trial held by the Crowfoot Beagle Club at Murraysville, Pa., Sunday.

The trial was licensed by the American Kennel Club for competition among beagles of all ages.

It marked the first win for the 2-year-old hound. He was handled by professional handler Tom Moore of New Philadelphia.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Inquiries are coming in regarding the coming trapping season on beavers, Jan. 16 to Jan. 21, in Columbiana, Mahoning and Ashtabula counties.

One question: How will I know in which county the beavers exist along the county boundary lines? The answer is fairly simple. Before you may set your trap for a beaver, the law clearly reads that you must obtain written permission from the landowner. The landowner certainly knows in which county his lands lie, since he has the title. Written permission must be brought along to the game protector before you can obtain a seal of approval making it a legal pelt. This law will be strictly enforced.

THE THING to do if you intend to trap beavers is to contact the landowner now or before the season opens.

One of the reasons for a trapping season on beavers in these three counties rests with the numerous complaints received from the landowners within these counties. A few landowners will strictly forbid any beaver trapping.

To any farmer who wants to get rid of the beavers, now is the time to contact your game protector. I will be glad to send you beaver trappers on a first-come-first-served basis, but I cannot accept any responsibility beyond informing the trapper that you want the beavers removed.

Elmer Matheny of East Liverpool noticed a buck deer thrashing around just off the Bell School road. He stopped to investigate and found his front legs were tangled up in the wire fence.

After keeping away from the razor-sharp back hoofs, he managed a quick snip with his pliers and set the deer free. O.K., Elmer, you did your good deed for the day.

THE INCH-LONG channel cats released in Lake Guilford last year are coming on fine.

Many fishermen are catching them and they have reached about 6 inches in length. All of the fishermen are returning them to the water. About 5,000 more inch-long channel cats were released in Guilford recently. A few whopping big channel cats have been caught in Guilford within the past year. Just goes to prove that not many mature channels exist in the lake, but things should look up within a few years and channel cat fishing should be good.

Don Miller, the Carroll County game protector, reports a few big muskies being taken at Leesville dam.

Smallmouth bass are beginning to bite in Beaver Creek. This is without a doubt a live bait fishing stream. Fishermen using helgramites and small crayfish are having the best luck.

Small crayfish can be found in most any little puddle in most of our little drainage ditches. It is not too difficult to get helgramites.

Take an ordinary minnow sein and let one fellow hold the sein spread out while the other fellow turns up the stones on the riffles ahead of the sein. They can be found in spots by the dozens. An excellent smallmouth bait.

Indians Muff Chance For Fourth Place

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Cleveland Indians again muffed a chance to virtually lock up fourth place in the American League Tuesday night.

For the second straight night, the lowly Kansas City Athletics—usually a soft touch—jumped on the Tribe. This time the score was 5-4.

What made it even tougher, however, was the way a 23-year-old rookie relief pitcher just up from Shreveport stopped the Indians cold. Dave Wickersham halted a sixth-inning rally, then blanked the Tribe over the last three frames.

The Kansas City victory went to Ray Herbert, who permitted three runs in the fifth and one in the sixth before Wickersham came in and stopped Cleveland with a lone hit.

The Athletics scored all their runs in the first three innings off Barry Latman (7-7), a loser for the second straight time after six successive triumphs. Kansas City couldn't score against Jack Harshman nor Frank Funk in the final five frames.

Jerry Lumpe paced the A's with four straight hits—A homer and a trio of singles.

The defeat still left the Indians a game and a half in front of fifth place Washington with only four games to play.

Blanked with three hits for four innings, the Indians came to life for three runs in the fifth. The first was on a double by Bubba Phillips and a single by John Romano. Then Ken Aspromonte singled and Tito Francona sliced a two-run double into the left field corner.

The final run came in the sixth on a throwing error by Herbert, plus singles by Romano and pinch-hitter Bob Hale.

Jim Perry (17-9) again goes after his 18th triumph for Cleveland tonight. His mound opponent will be Ned Garver (3-9).

Big Ten Strong As Ever, According To Tug Wilson

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The financial aid program, expected to cause the decline and eventual fall of the Big Ten as a football power, is working in the opposite direction, says Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson.

Critics of the plan in which a prospective athlete's family helps pay a boy's way through school pointed to the 1960 season as the one in which the Big Ten would start is slide toward football mediocrity, especially after Wisconsin's stunning 44-8 loss to Washington in the last Rose Bowl game.

But four years after the plan was initiated, the Big Ten opened the 1960 campaign with six victories and two ties against major non - conference opposition. And four Big Ten teams are among the nation's top ten.

Not only does the conference show signs of unyielding strength, but many coaches who opposed the plan are claiming their finest sophomore crop in years. And these same coaches hail their 1960 freshmen teams as the best they ever have seen.

Not only has the Big Ten managed to retain its hold as a football power, according to Wilson, but academic standards being set by the athletes are unparalleled in conference history.

"I cannot deny," Wilson told The Associated Press, "that we have lost many so-called 'blue - chip' athletes. But a certain percentage of the boys in our area always has gone elsewhere.

"Judging from our opening schedule and the outstanding talent among our sophomores—and every school seems to have its share—I fail to see any decline in the caliber of our football material."

Why should this be, considering that a star high school athlete can get a free ride at many schools but is forced to have his family pay part of his expenses at a Big Ten school in accordance with that family's financial means?

"Truthfully," said Wilson, "we were afraid we were going to lose many boys from the middle income bracket where a family might have to pay $500 or $600 towards a boy's expenses.

"But that hasn't been the case. The boys want to play in the Big Ten because of its reputation, tradition and advantage of learning under outstanding coaches.

"Last and most important," added Wilson, "the kids are taking a look at educational advantages. There was a time when a school would get 60 athletes. By the end of the first year, 35 would have dropped out or failed in their courses. And the graduating percentage of those remaining was shameful.

"Now, the boys we get are in the upper 25 per cent of their class and they manage to maintain that academic level. The graduation record of our athletes is marvelous."

Browns Are Installed As 7½-Point Favorites

CLEVELAND (AP)—While the bettors are making the Cleveland Browns a 7½-point favorite in Sunday's game against the Pittsburgh Steelers here, Coach Paul Brown thinks his club will lose unless it improves over last weekend's performance.

Brown said the 41-24 conquest of the Philadelphia Eagles was a game in which the Browns "made too many errors."

"They can be corrected by time and experience, but we don't have much time," he added.

About 10,000 Pittsburgh fans are expected to make the trip here for Cleveland's home opener in the National Football League schedule. Last season the Steelers drew the largest crowd at the stadium—68,563.

In the exhibition game at Pittsburgh Aug. 18, Cleveland whipped the Steelers 27-24. But in the regular 1959 season, the Browns lost both games to the Steelers—17-7 at Pittsburgh and 21-20 here.

The Steelers, with only six rookies on the roster compared with 12 for the Browns, have an edge in experience. Cleveland has the advantage in speed.

Bobby Layne, who has replaced Sammy Baugh as holder of the record for most passing yardage in an NFL career, will give a further testing Sunday to the Browns' young defensive backfield.

An interesting slant on this year's Cleveland club was given in an interview by one of the 19 newcomers to the roster — John Morrow. Obtained in a swap of centers with the Los Angeles Rams where he played three years, the former Michigan tackle called the 1960 Browns "a real fine football team". He added:

"The ability of the players to get along together is one important asset of this team. There are no petty gripes.

Before you may set your trap for a beaver, the law clearly reads that you must obtain written permission from the landowner. The landowner certainly knows in which county his lands lie, since he has the title. Written permission must be brought along to the game protector before you can obtain a seal of approval making it a legal pelt. This law will be strictly enforced.

THE THING to do if you intend to trap beavers is to contact the landowner now or before the season opens.

One of the reasons for a trapping season on beavers in these three counties rests with the numerous complaints received from the landowners within these counties. A few landowners will strictly forbid any beaver trapping.

To any farmer who wants to get rid of the beavers, now is the time to contact your game protector. I will be glad to send you beaver trappers on a first-come-first-served basis, but I cannot accept any responsibility beyond informing the trapper that you want the beavers removed.

Elmer Matheny of East Liverpool noticed a buck deer thrashing around just off the Bell School road. He stopped to investigate and found his front legs were tangled up in the wire fence.

After keeping away from the razor-sharp back hoofs, he managed a quick snip with his pliers and set the deer free. O.K., Elmer, you did your good deed for the day.

THE INCH-LONG channel cats released in Lake Guilford last year are coming on fine.

Many fishermen are catching them and they have reached about 6 inches in length. All of the fishermen are returning them to the water. About 5,000 more inch-long channel cats were released in Guilford recently. A few whopping big channel cats have been caught in Guilford within the past year. Just goes to prove that not many mature channels exist in the lake, but things should look up within a few years and channel cat fishing should be good.

Don Miller, the Carroll County game protector, reports a few big muskies being taken at Leesville dam.

Smallmouth bass are beginning to bite in Beaver Creek. This is without a doubt a live bait fishing stream. Fishermen using helgramites and small crayfish are having the best luck.

Small crayfish can be found in most any little puddle in most of our little drainage ditches. It is not too difficult to get helgramites.

Take an ordinary minnow sein and let one fellow hold the sein spread out while the other fellow turns up the stones on the riffles ahead of the sein. They can be found in spots by the dozens. An excellent smallmouth bait.

Indians Muff Chance For Fourth Place

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Cleveland Indians again muffed a chance to virtually lock up fourth place in the American League Tuesday night.

For the second straight night, the lowly Kansas City Athletics—usually a soft touch—jumped on the Tribe. This time the score was 5-4.

What made it even tougher, however, was the way a 23-year-old rookie relief pitcher just up from Shreveport stopped the Indians cold. Dave Wickersham halted a sixth-inning rally, then blanked the Tribe over the last three frames.

The Kansas City victory went to Ray Herbert, who permitted three runs in the fifth and one in the sixth before Wickersham came in and stopped Cleveland with a lone hit.

The Athletics scored all their runs in the first three innings off Barry Latman (7-7), a loser for the second straight time after six successive triumphs. Kansas City couldn't score against Jack Harshman nor Frank Funk in the final five frames.

Jerry Lumpe paced the A's with four straight hits—A homer and a trio of singles.

The defeat still left the Indians a game and a half in front of fifth place Washington with only four games to play.

Blanked with three hits for four innings, the Indians came to life for three runs in the fifth. The first was on a double by Bubba Phillips and a single by John Romano. Then Ken Aspromonte singled and Tito Francona sliced a two-run double into the left field corner.

The final run came in the sixth on a throwing error by Herbert, plus singles by Romano and pinch-hitter Bob Hale.

Jim Perry (17-9) again goes after his 18th triumph for Cleveland tonight. His mound opponent will be Ned Garver (3-9).

Big Ten Strong As Ever, According To Tug Wilson

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The financial aid program, expected to cause the decline and eventual fall of the Big Ten as a football power, is working in the opposite direction, says Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson.

Critics of the plan in which a prospective athlete's family helps pay a boy's way through school pointed to the 1960 season as the one in which the Big Ten would start is slide toward football mediocrity, especially after Wisconsin's stunning 44-8 loss to Washington in the last Rose Bowl game.

But four years after the plan was initiated, the Big Ten opened the 1960 campaign with six victories and two ties against major non-conference opposition. And four Big Ten teams are among the nation's top ten.

Not only does the conference show signs of unyielding strength, but many coaches who opposed the plan are claiming their finest sophomore crop in years. And these same coaches hail their 1960 freshmen teams as the best they ever have seen.

Not only has the Big Ten managed to retain its hold as a football power, according to Wilson, but academic standards being set by the athletes are unparalleled in conference history.

"I cannot deny," Wilson told The Associated Press, "that we have lost many so-called 'blue-chip' athletes. But a certain percentage of the boys in our area always has gone elsewhere.

"Judging from our opening schedule and the outstanding talent among our sophomores—and every school seems to have its share—I fail to see any decline in the caliber of our football material."

Why should this be, considering that a star high school athlete can get a free ride at many schools but is forced to have his family pay part of his expenses at a Big Ten school in accordance with that family's financial means?

"Truthfully," said Wilson, "we were afraid we were going to lose many boys from the middle income bracket where a family might have to pay $500 or $600 towards a boy's expenses.

"But that hasn't been the case. The boys want to play in the Big Ten because of its reputation, tradition and advantage of learning under outstanding coaches.

"Last and most important," added Wilson, "the kids are taking a look at educational advantages. There was a time when a school would get 60 athletes. By the end of the first year, 35 would have dropped out or failed in their courses. And the graduating percentage of those remaining was shameful.

"Now, the boys we get are in the upper 25 per cent of their class and they manage to maintain that academic level. The graduation record of our athletes is marvelous."

Browns Are Installed As 7½-Point Favorites

CLEVELAND (AP)—While the bettors are making the Cleveland Browns a 7½-point favorite in Sunday's game against the Pittsburgh Steelers here, Coach Paul Brown thinks his club will lose unless it improves over last weekend's performance.

Brown said the 41-24 conquest of the Philadelphia Eagles was a game in which the Browns "made too many errors."

"They can be corrected by time and experience, but we don't have much time," he added.

About 10,000 Pittsburgh fans are expected to make the trip here for Cleveland's home opener in the National Football League schedule. Last season the Steelers drew the largest crowd at the stadium—68,563.

In the exhibition game at Pittsburgh Aug. 18, Cleveland whipped the Steelers 27-24. But in the regular 1959 season, the Browns lost both games to the Steelers—17-7 at Pittsburgh and 21-20 here.

The Steelers, with only six rookies on the roster compared with 12 for the Browns, have an edge in experience. Cleveland has the advantage in speed.

Bobby Layne, who has replaced Sammy Baugh as holder of the record for most passing yardage in an NFL career, will give a further testing Sunday to the Browns' young defensive backfield.

An interesting slant on this year's Cleveland club was given in an interview by one of the 19 newcomers to the roster — John Morrow. Obtained in a swap of centers with the Los Angeles Rams where he played three years, the former Michigan tackle called the 1960 Browns "a real fine football team". He added:

"The ability of the players to get along together is one important asset of this team. There are no petty gripes.

No Chance For Hazing After Name's Changed

You'll find new models in the '61 fleet—lower priced, long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive trucks—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on actual owner reports) that Chevrolet's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades!

That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.

Citizen Group Still Without Weirton Aide

Although still lacking a representative from the city of Weirton, the Hancock County Citizens Committee for Better Government is going ahead with plans for a public dinner meeting Oct. 18 when candidates in the general election next month may air their views on ways to promote stronger law enforcement.

Difficulty in finding a layman to represent Weirton marked a meeting of the committee Tuesday night in the First Christian Church there.

Chester has named two to serve as the community's representatives, while Newell and New Cumberland have named one each.

Representing the communities are Carl Graham and Don Chaney of Chester, Alvin W. Eckleberry of Newell, and William Gittings, a steelworker, for New Cumberland.

About 25 attended last night's meeting, with the majority from the northern end of the county. Six were present from Weirton and one from Brooke County.

The committee was organized with the aim of promoting stronger law enforcement after the West Virginia Crime Commission hearings earlier this month aired reports of widespresd illegal gambling and liquor sales in the county.

The Weirton Ministerial Association may meet Monday morning to name a representative to the committee.

Four more candidates are expected to file this afternoon with the County Election Board for posts on a 15-member commission that would draft a proposed charter for Salem's municipal government if voters approve at the Nov. 8 general election.

They are: Mayor Dean Cranmer, John Herman Jr., Perry Township constable; Charles Edwards, an appliance dealer, and John Taylor, former state senator.

Another candidate filed Tuesday afternoon, boosting the total of candidates to 22. He is Robert S. Watterson III. The commission will draft a charter for Salem government if voters approve another question on the same ballot: "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?"

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Communists fired 182 shells at the Quemoy Islands Tuesday night, the Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry reported. The attack was the heaviest in three months against the Nationalist-held offshore islands.

Citizen Group Still Without Weirton Aide

Although still lacking a representative from the city of Weirton, the Hancock County Citizens Committee for Better Government is going ahead with plans for a public dinner meeting Oct. 18 when candidates in the general election next month may air their views on ways to promote stronger law enforcement.

Difficulty in finding a layman to represent Weirton marked a meeting of the committee Tuesday night in the First Christian Church there.

Chester has named two to serve as the community's representatives, while Newell and New Cumberland have named one each.

Representing the communities are Carl Graham and Don Chaney of Chester, Alvin W. Eckleberry of Newell, and William Gittings, a steelworker, for New Cumberland.

About 25 attended last night's meeting, with the majority from the northern end of the county. Six were present from Weirton and one from Brooke County.

The committee was organized with the aim of promoting stronger law enforcement after the West Virginia Crime Commission hearings earlier this month aired reports of widespread illegal gambling and liquor sales in the county.

The Weirton Ministerial Association may meet Monday morning to name a representative to the committee.

Olen Evans of Elkton said two plate glass windows valued at $65 each were struck and Mrs. Grace Gardner of the 6-Motel, west of Lisbon, said glass in her establishment will cost $25 to replace.

Commissioner R. Max Gard, west of Lisbon, reported this morning that a glass in the door of a public telephone booth near his antique shop was shot out about 3 a. m. yesterday, estimated to cost $5.

Rival Laos Regimes Agree To Peace Talks

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The two rival regimes in Laos agreed today to peace talks seeking an end to the 17-day-old civil war.

Top military commanders of Premier Souvanna Phouma's neutralist government in Vientiane flew to the royal capital of Luang Prabang for the meeting.

Gen. Phoumi Nosavan and Prince Boun Oumwghead of the rival right-wing revolutionary committee, were reported flying to Luang Prabang from their headquarters in Savannakhet.

Athletic Association Adopts Beaver Budget

The Beaver Local High School basketball budget, including purchase of new varsity uniforms, was approved by the Athletic Association at a meeting Tuesday night at the school.

Twelve new uniforms are to be obtained.

Plans were also made for observing "Parents Day" and recognizing football squad members' parents, at the grid game with Salineville Saturday afternoon at the field at Williamsport.

Committees were assigned for serving a dinner to county Democrats Oct. 15 at the high school. Lee Kirkland and George VanHorne are co-chairmen. Committees are to report at the next meeting Oct. 12.

4 More Due To Seek Salem Charter Posts

Four more candidates are expected to file this afternoon with the County Election Board for posts on a 15-member commission that would draft a proposed charter for Salem's municipal government if voters approve at the Nov. 8 general election.

They are: Mayor Dean Cranmer, John Herman Jr., Perry Township constable; Charles Edwards, an appliance dealer, and John Taylor, former state senator.

Another candidate filed Tuesday afternoon, boosting the total of candidates to 22. He is Robert S. Watterson III. The commission will draft a charter for Salem government if voters approve another question on the same ballot: "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?"

New Complications Face Traders In Stock Market

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Where to turn in a falling stock market is a headache for traders any time. But today the complications are more than usual—often beyond guessing and some seemingly beyond control.

Many of the traditional defensive stocks are under fire too. In present world and domestic conditions some of them appear less defensive than usual.

The over-all unresolved question is just how bad—or how good—are prospects? Just how defensive does an investor need to be?

Harangues and table pounding at the United Nations are no help to calm investing judgment. Neither are political debates on where the economy is heading or the string of official statistics with contradictory aspects.

In a bear market traders traditionally are supposed to turn from stocks to bonds, or from glamor stocks to utilities, or from stocks that would benefit by further inflation, like growth stocks, to those that would benefit from deflation, like gold shares.

When world peace hopes are shaken, traders traditionally are supposed to turn from civilian goods stocks to those in industries supplying the military.

But this time there are added complications, both economic and political at home and economic and political abroad.

Little help to the stability of the market also is the advent of the time for stock selling and switching for income tax purposes—to register losses, or when possible, to get gains in the better tax year.

In in the big shakeups in the market this month the utilities have held up better than the industrials as a whole. Their earnings and dividends are less subject to sudden spurts or sharp declines. Thus, in a bull market they lack glamor. In a bear market they look safer.

But whether this is a bear market yet or not, utility stocks too have felt the uncertainty about general business conditions that plagues the entire market.

Their prices have slumped, but by a lower percentage than the industrial averages. In The Associated Press stock price averages, the industrials dropped 10.6 per cent from Aug. 24 through Sept. 26 while the utilities dropped 4.1 per cent.

Falling stock prices have improved stock yields—dividend ratio to price—and at the same time easier money policies have dented bond yields.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I patch a hole in a window screen neatly and quickly?

A. Cut a patch from an old screen, a little larger than the hole. Ravel the edges until the patch is only a wire or two larger than the hole. Press the loose wires through the screen around the hole, then bend the raveled ends over. Of course, too, there are commercial patches of this nature available in most hardware stores.

Q. How can I prevent any grease spots on plastered walls from "bleeding through" new wallpaper and ruining its appearance?

A. Before applying your new wallpaper, cover all the grease spots on the walls with shellac, and allow this to dry thoroughly. The shellac effectively seals in the grease.

Q. How can I clean paster casts?

A. Dip the plaster casts into cold liquid starch. When dry, the dirt will come off with the starch, leaving the casts as clean and white as when new.

Boy Asks Librarian: 'Got Any Murders?'

FORT MORGAN, Colo. (AP) — Evelyn Dortch, a librarian, was checking out books to customers. A small boy crowded up close, his hands clutching the desk top.

"What can I do for you?" Mrs. Dortch asked.

The small boy replied in a voice slightly above a whisper:

"Got any murders?"

Woman Convincing, Sentencing Deferred

DOVER, Del. (AP) — When Mrs. Jane K. Conrad was charged with driving 40 miles an hour in a 25 m.p.h. zone, she decided to fight it.

Acting as her own attorney in Common Pleas Court, she insisted that her 20-horsepower foreign car was too small to be clocked by a radar beam, and that the machine had picked up a full-sized car behind her, instead.

Judge Ernest V. Keith was convinced enough to defer sentencing until expert advice could be obtained. He also commended Mrs. Conrad for her research.

For Firing Her, Boss Called 'Flint-Hearted'

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A boss fired his clerk when she refused to report to work on the day of her daughter's bridal shower. The clerk sought jobless benefits.

State Unemployment Commissioner Harold Strauch upheld the clerk. Awarding her the benefits, he said the boss was "flint-hearted" for firing her.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

The Thrill Is Gone

"Distinctive mark of the new series will be shocking climaxes. Tonight's will daze you." I'm reading here from an advertisement to a new series called "Checkmate."

John Crosby

The shocking climax — I don't think I'm revealing anything here since the show is now well past us — revolved around horse stamping a woman to death. I'm afraid, though, it didn't carry much shock. Either I'm getting callous or it wasn't very well done. I rather suspect the latter.

This is going to be a season of shocks or attempted shocks. Shock is large this year and, of course, with everyone getting into the act, it's getting increasingly harder to shock anyone.

The idea will be not simply to kill people but to do it in some odd and interesting way. But with everybody getting into the act, we're getting to be a tough audience.

-:-

"CHECKMATE" is a fundamentally ridiculous idea to start out with. Checkmate, Inc., is an organization dedicated to preventing murder and suicide or other forms of homicide and it is composed of three men of entirely different physiognomies, backgrounds, temperaments and even ages.

The idea is for each to appeal to a different segment of the television audience — your 13-year-old daughter, your maiden aunt and maybe you.

Head of "Checkmate" is Don Corey, played by Anthony George, who is the Bill Holden type of character aimed at titillating the middle-aged woman (anyone over 26).

He's assisted by Jed Sills (Doug McClure), a beardless boy, a sort of blond Kookie who's there to mollify the teen-age crowd.

Then there's Dr. Carl Hyatt (Sebastian Cabot), a bearded character, who'll slay your maiden aunt.

-:-

THE TROUBLE with this sort of slide rule drama — or maybe cook book drama, a pinch of this, a pinch of that, is more apt — is that it's hard to believe these three actors ever met before unless they have the same agent.

It just isn't very plausible.

You know something? I just don't think there is such an outfit as Checkmate, Inc., designed to avert homicides. I mean why would they want to do that? It would put television out of business.

The first episode opened with a long shot of a horse and horsewoman galloping over the countryside and then coming right at the camera. In other words, the direction was awfully noticeable.

The actors would rise from their chairs, cross the room, turn around and then deliver the line — one, two, three, four — like that. Awfully mannered.

-:-

I'M NOT ordinarily bothered by little things, but this show has many things the matter with it.

The interiors, for instance, just seemed wrong for the kind of house being shown. The plot telegraphed itself well ahead of the way the authors planned it.

The trouble is that this sort of third-rate thriller shot for television really isn't good third-rate stuff. One thing you can say about the movie business is that it knew how to do the third-rate very well. Television actually does first-rate dramatic material better than it does the third-rate.

Honesty is its strong suit. It just isn't slick enough for commercial thrillers.

-:-

THE ONLY ONE I saw was a dramatization of the capture of a man resembling Eichmann. It was awfully attenuated and badly organized. The denouement telement telegraphed itself way in advance and that is fatal to suspense.

I have a few other carping complaints. I'm tired — and I bet others are, too — of the handsome blokes in the $400 suits who can punch like Dempsey, think like Einstein and romance like Gable.

I don't believe in these paragons. If they have to have 10,000 of these cops-and-robbers dramas, I bet the first character like Lee J. Cobb who acts as if his feet hurt and who solves the crime by simple plodding is going to be a welcome relief.

What ever happened to the dumb assistant cop, by the way? You remember the guy who asked all the stupid questions, partly for laughs, but mostly so that the smart cop (or private eye) could show off his intelligence?

Dairy Farms Seen Fewer

"Dairy farmers in Western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and West Virginia are becoming fewer in number but larger in size", N. E. Sampson, president of the Dairymen's Co-Operative Sales Association, declared at the annual meeting of the association's General Advisory Council today at New Castle.

Referring to membership figures of the association, he said the average number during the first 7 months of 1960 was 6,740, compared to 7,075 for the same period in 1959. Total production of milk, however, increased 2.17 per cent.

Dollar returns "also increased over the preceding year, but only by 1.28 per cent," Sampson added. This is explained by the larger percentage of the 1960 milk which found its way to manufacturing uses where prices per hundredweight are considerably lower than fluid prices, he said. A total of $26,706,749.70 was the value of DCSA milk marketed from Jan. 1 to July 31.

Members of the association supply most of the fluid milk sold in the Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Greater Wheeling, Clarksburg and Charleston markets. The association was originally organized in 1916 to provide a market for its members. In accomplishing this purpose the DCSA has been the leading stabilizing influence in the dairy industry in these markets, it was said.

Officers and management of the association reported to more than 200 members at the meeting. Business aspects of the association program were considered and members discussed possible ways of improving farm income from milk and of strengthening its program. One hundred local units of DCSA operate in the rural communities of the Tri-State area and each elects advisory councilmen to represent them at this annual meeting.

'Confined' Youth Snubs Probation For Reformatory

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—A 19-year-old boy has decided that an indefinite sentence to the federal training school at Chillicothe, Ohio, is better than three years probation in St. Louis. The reason? He couldn't go out at night in St. Louis.

It happened in U.S. Northern District Court Tuesday. Raymond E. Bartee of St. Louis pleaded guilty to interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

Judge Charles F. Paul Jr. gave Bartee three years probation. Judge Paul said he would arrange with the U.S. marshal to provide Bartee with food money and a bus ticket back to St. Louis.

The youth thanked the judge. But when he left the courtroom, he told the probation officer, Marshall Homer, and his attorney he didn't want probation. Bartee complained he couldn't go out at night in St. Louis.

Judge Paul was called back into the courtroom. He reconvened the court and sentenced Bartee to the Chillicothe reformatory.

Lightning Kills 10 Cattle In Two Years

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — Ryan Smoak, a Tonges Island cattle raiser, has had 10 cows killed by lightning within a two-year period, all within 150 feet of each other.

The first four prize Black Angus cows were killed by a lightning bolt during a thunderstorm. A year later he found three more of his Black Angus and a red cow dead of a lightning bolt. After a recent storm, he wasn't surprised when he found two more dead cows, also struck down by lightning.

Smoak estimates the 10 cows were worth $2,500.

Kashmir Takes Steps For Controlling Floods

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP) — Kashmir is buying dredgers from the United States and shovels from Britain to keep the valley free from floods.

Two dredgers are scheduled to arrive here in early 1961, each with a dredging capacity of 750 cubic feet per hour.

These are part of a state plan to widen and deepen the 19-mile long Outfall Channel of the valley's main river, the Jhelum.

The first phase of the plan is scheduled to cost 80,000,000 rupees ($16,800,000).

Cactus Salesman Gets Bad Start In Nogales

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — A cactus salesman got off to a bad start in Nogales.

He knocked on a door. The home owner listened to his sales pitch and then asked for the salesman's license. He couldn't produce one.

His customer was Mayor Abe Rochlin.

Political Figure Dies

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — Dr. Tibor K. J. Bebek, named by the Republican National Committee last week to its advisory committee on nationalities, died Tuesday. He was a professor of political science in Hungary before fleeing his native land after the Communists took over in 1945.

Truth Tests For Political Leaders Urged By Doctor

By The Associated Press

Truth tests for political leaders, telescopes on the moon, and the real height of hurricane seas engage attention of scientists.

True or False

Psychological tests of national leaders to determine if they are telling the real truth are suggested by a prominent neuro-physiologist, Dr. Ralph Gerard of the University of Michigan.

Force is the ultimate weapon to hange an opponent's mind, he remarks, and misunderstandings, doubt and fear can lead to a shooting war.

"If major national figures could prove that their statements are true indeed, they would allay the disbelief and distrust that normally atend such pronouncements," Dr. Gerard says.

"The stamp of truth could be won if the speaker would submit to examination by lie detector or other truth-detection precedures."

Moon Gazing

One grand dream of astronomers is to place an astronomical observatory on the moon. Telescopes there could look out with startling clarity at distant stars and galaxies, since the moon has no air to distort vision.

But would such an expensive observatory be banged disastrously by meteorites? Man-made satellites are finding space is full of tiny speck-like bits of meteoritic dust.

Yet it appears there may not be very many really large and damaging meteoritic missiles, says Dr. Harrison Brown, geochemist of California Institute of Technology. He estimates there may be only one meteorite weighing one gram (1-28th of an ounce) or more for every 100 thousand billion cubic kilometers of space. A kilometer is a bit over half a mile.

Hurricane Secrets

Some sailors report waves during hurricanes are 100 feet high. Some ocean scientists think 50 feet is about the limit.

The answer will be forthcoming from special devices to measure wave height, installed in floating weather stations or buoys, by the U.S. Navy. One will be anchored off Barbados Island; the other will drift 500 miles east of the Lesser Antilles where hurricanes traditionally spawn.

The new wave-height knowledge is expected to be helpful not only in understanding hurricanes, but also in advising ships about safest and most efficient courses.

Deputies Are Warned To Clean Up Suspects

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — "They're running loose and one of them's naked," cried the woman on the telephone to a Richland county deputy sheriff.

Two deputies went to investigate in nearby Forest Acres and found the culprits — ages 3 and 1½. One, playing beside the road, wore training pants. The other wore nothing.

The runaways were returned to their anxious parents and this footnote added to the sheriff's department offense report:

"From now on, all deputies will carry clean diapers."

Charged With Arson

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — James R. Webster of Colorado Springs, Colo., has been charged with arson and bound to the January term of the Licking County grand jury for allegedly burning three new cars on a sales lot in Hebrom. Officers said Webster told them he had a grudge against a car finance company and decided to set fire to the cars.

Farm Bureau Delegates Set

LISBON — Galen Greenisen of Salem R. D. 3, president of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau Federation, and Mrs. Floyd H. Sidwell of Columbiana R. D. 2, will be delegates to the 42nd annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau in Columbus Nov. 9-11, according to Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes, county organizational director, who will also attend.

More than 2,000 farmers from almost every county are expected at the sessions from which the Farm Bureau's official policies for 1961 will be written. County Farm Bureau groups are holding annual meetings, making policy suggestions to be considered at the state event, Mrs. Hoopes said.

The 15-member state policy development committee will hold its first meeting here Oct. 9. The group will review county policy suggestions and hold open hearings.

In addition to the policy writing, Ohio farmers will hear nationally-known speakers.

Speakers will include Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau; Roy M. Kottman, dean of the College of Agriculture at Ohio State University; Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, and Gov. Michael DiSalle.

Archbishop Alter Marks 50 Years In Priesthood

CINCINNATI (AP) — Age-old rites and church pageantry have marked the 50 years in the Roman Catholic priesthood of Archbishop Karl J. Alter of Cincinnati.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York presided at a solemn pontifical high mass of thanksgiving Tuesday to mark the event in St. Peter in Chains Cathedral.

Along with 15 American archbishops and 60 bishops were Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston who gave the sermon and three other cardinals: James F. McIntyre of California, Albert Meyer of Chicago and Aloysius Muench of The Vatican.

Archbishop Alter has been head of the Cincinnati see 10 years and a bishop for 30 years. His 75th birthday was in August.

Marketing Unit Formed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Agricultural Marketing Association, a group designed to improve the economic position of farmers, has been organized. Ferris S. Owen of Newark, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, said "the purpose of the new marketing association is to bring together and organize Ohio bargaining groups on a commodity basis to improve the economic position of farmers."

By JOHN CROSBY

The Thrill Is Gone

"Distinctive mark of the new series will be shocking climaxes. Tonight's will daze you." I'm reading here from an advertisement to a new series called "Checkmate."

John Crosby

The shocking climax — I don't think I'm revealing anything here since the show is now well past us — revolved around horse stamping a woman to death. I'm afraid, though, it didn't carry much shock. Either I'm getting callous or it wasn't very well done. I rather suspect the latter.

This is going to be a season of shocks or attempted shocks. Shock is large this year and, of course, with everyone getting into the act, it's getting increasingly harder to shock anyone.

The idea will be not simply to kill people but to do it in some odd and interesting way. But with everybody getting into the act, we're getting to be a tough audience.

-:-

"CHECKMATE" is a fundamentally ridiculous idea to start out with. Checkmate, Inc., is an organization dedicated to preventing murder and suicide or other forms of homicide and it is composed of three men of entirely different physiognomies, backgrounds, temperaments and even ages.

The idea is for each to appeal to a different segment of the television audience — your 13-year-old daughter, your maiden aunt and maybe you.

Head of "Checkmate" is Don Corey, played by Anthony George, who is the Bill Holden type of character aimed at titillating the middle-aged woman (anyone over 26).

He's assisted by Jed Sills (Doug McClure), a beardless boy, a sort of blond Kookie who's there to mollify the teen-age crowd.

Then there's Dr. Carl Hyatt (Sebastian Cabot), a bearded character, who'll slay your maiden aunt.

-:-

THE TROUBLE with this sort of slide rule drama — or maybe cook book drama, a pinch of this, a pinch of that, is more apt — is that it's hard to believe these three actors ever met before unless they have the same agent.

It just isn't very plausible.

You know something? I just don't think there is such an outfit as Checkmate, Inc., designed to avert homicides. I mean why would they want to do that? It would put television out of business.

The first episode opened with a long shot of a horse and horsewoman galloping over the countryside and then coming right at the camera. In other words, the direction was awfully noticeable.

The actors would rise from their chairs, cross the room, turn around and then deliver the line — one, two, three, four — like that. Awfully mannered.

-:-

I'M NOT ordinarily bothered by little things, but this show has many things the matter with it.

The interiors, for instance, just seemed wrong for the kind of house being shown. The plot telegraphed itself well ahead of the way the authors planned it.

The trouble is that this sort of third-rate thriller shot for television really isn't good third-rate stuff. One thing you can say about the movie business is that it knew how to do the third-rate very well. Television actually does first-rate dramatic material better than it does the third-rate.

Honesty is its strong suit. It just isn't slick enough for commercial thrillers.

Nevertheless, everyone's trying. NBC has its entry in this sweepstakes called "Moment of Fear," which is supposed the scare the bejabbers out of us.

-:-

THE ONLY ONE I saw was a dramatization of the capture of a man resembling Eichmann. It was awfully attenuated and badly organized. The denouement telement telegraphed itself way in advance and that is fatal to suspense.

I have a few other carping complaints. I'm tired — and I bet others are, too — of the handsome blokes in the $400 suits who can punch like Dempsey, think like Einstein and romance like Gable.

I don't believe in these paragons. If they have to have 10,000 of these cops-and-robbers dramas, I bet the first character like Lee J. Cobb who acts as if his feet hurt and who solves the crime by simple plodding is going to be a welcome relief.

What ever happened to the dumb assistant cop, by the way? You remember the guy who asked all the stupid questions, partly for laughs, but mostly so that the smart cop (or private eye) could show off his intelligence?

Dairy Farms Seen Fewer

"Dairy farmers in Western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and West Virginia are becoming fewer in number but larger in size", N. E. Sampson, president of the Dairymen's Co-Operative Sales Association, declared at the annual meeting of the association's General Advisory Council today at New Castle.

Referring to membership figures of the association, he said the average number during the first 7 months of 1960 was 6,740, compared to 7,075 for the same period in 1959. Total production of milk, however, increased 2.17 per cent.

Dollar returns "also increased over the preceding year, but only by 1.28 per cent," Sampson added. This is explained by the larger percentage of the 1960 milk which found its way to manufacturing uses where prices per hundredweight are considerably lower than fluid prices, he said. A total of $26,706,749.70 was the value of DCSA milk marketed from Jan. 1 to July 31.

Members of the association supply most of the fluid milk sold in the Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Greater Wheeling, Clarksburg and Charleston markets. The association was originally organized in 1916 to provide a market for its members. In accomplishing this purpose the DCSA has been the leading stabilizing influence in the dairy industry in these markets, it was said.

Officers and management of the association reported to more than 200 members at the meeting. Business aspects of the association program were considered and members discussed possible ways of improving farm income from milk and of strengthening its program. One hundred local units of DCSA operate in the rural communities of the Tri-State area and each elects advisory councilmen to represent them at this annual meeting.

'Confined' Youth Snubs Probation For Reformatory

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—A 19-year-old boy has decided that an indefinite sentence to the federal training school at Chillicothe, Ohio, is better than three years probation in St. Louis. The reason? He couldn't go out at night in St. Louis.

It happened in U.S. Northern District Court Tuesday. Raymond E. Bartee of St. Louis pleaded guilty to interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

Judge Charles F. Paul Jr. gave Bartee three years probation. Judge Paul said he would arrange with the U.S. marshal to provide Bartee with food money and a bus ticket back to St. Louis.

The youth thanked the judge. But when he left the courtroom, he told the probation officer, Marshall Homer, and his attorney he didn't want probation. Bartee complained he couldn't go out at night in St. Louis.

Judge Paul was called back into the courtroom. He reconvened the court and sentenced Bartee to the Chillicothe reformatory.

Lightning Kills 10 Cattle In Two Years

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — Ryan Smoak, a Tonges Island cattle raiser, has had 10 cows killed by lightning within a two-year period, all within 150 feet of each other.

The first four prize Black Angus cows were killed by a lightning bolt during a thunderstorm. A year later he found three more of his Black Angus and a red cow dead of a lightning bolt. After a recent storm, he wasn't surprised when he found two more dead cows, also struck down by lightning.

Smoak estimates the 10 cows were worth $2,500.

Kashmir Takes Steps For Controlling Floods

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP) — Kashmir is buying dredgers from the United States and shovels from Britain to keep the valley free from floods.

Two dredgers are scheduled to arrive here in early 1961, each with a dredging capacity of 750 cubic feet per hour.

These are part of a state plan to widen and deepen the 19-mile long Outfall Channel of the valley's main river, the Jhelum.

The first phase of the plan is scheduled to cost 80,000,000 rupees ($16,800,000).

Cactus Salesman Gets Bad Start In Nogales

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — A cactus salesman got off to a bad start in Nogales.

He knocked on a door. The home owner listened to his sales pitch and then asked for the salesman's license. He couldn't produce one.

His customer was Mayor Abe Rochlin.

Truth Tests For Political Leaders Urged By Doctor

By The Associated Press

Truth tests for political leaders, telescopes on the moon, and the real height of hurricane seas engage attention of scientists.

True or False

Psychological tests of national leaders to determine if they are telling the real truth are suggested by a prominent neuro-physiologist, Dr. Ralph Gerard of the University of Michigan.

Force is the ultimate weapon to hange an opponent's mind, he remarks, and misunderstandings, doubt and fear can lead to a shooting war.

"If major national figures could prove that their statements are true indeed, they would allay the disbelief and distrust that normally atend such pronouncements," Dr. Gerard says.

"The stamp of truth could be won if the speaker would submit to examination by lie detector or other truth-detection precedures."

Moon Gazing

One grand dream of astronomers is to place an astronomical observatory on the moon. Telescopes there could look out with startling clarity at distant stars and galaxies, since the moon has no air to distort vision.

But would such an expensive observatory be banged disastrously by meteorites? Man-made satellites are finding space is full of tiny speck-like bits of meteoritic dust.

Yet it appears there may not be very many really large and damaging meteoritic missiles, says Dr. Harrison Brown, geochemist of California Institute of Technology. He estimates there may be only one meteorite weighing one gram (1-28th of an ounce) or more for every 100 thousand billion cubic kilometers of space. A kilometer is a bit over half a mile.

Hurricane Secrets

Some sailors report waves during hurricanes are 100 feet high. Some ocean scientists think 50 feet is about the limit.

The answer will be forthcoming from special devices to measure wave height, installed in floating weather stations or buoys, by the U.S. Navy. One will be anchored off Barbados Island; the other will drift 300 miles east of the Lesser Antilles where hurricanes traditionally spawn.

The new wave-height knowledge is expected to be helpful not only in understanding hurricanes, but also in advising ships about safest and most efficient courses.

Deputies Are Warned To Clean Up Suspects

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — "They're running loose and one of them's naked," cried the woman on the telephone to a Richland county deputy sheriff.

Two deputies went to investigate in nearby Forest Acres and found the culprits — ages 3 and 1½. One, playing beside the road, wore training pants. The other wore nothing.

The runaways were returned to their anxious parents and this footnote added to the sheriff's department offense report:

"From now on, all deputies will carry clean diapers."

Charged With Arson

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — James R. Webster of Colorado Springs, Colo., has been charged with arson and bound to the January term of the Licking County grand jury for allegedly burning three new cars on a sales lot in Hebron. Officers said Webster told them he had a grudge against a car finance company and decided to set fire to the cars.

Farm Bureau Delegates Set

LISBON — Galen Greenisen of Salem R. D. 3, president of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau Federation, and Mrs. Floyd H. Sidwell of Columbiana R. D. 2, will be delegates to the 42nd annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau in Columbus Nov. 9-11, according to Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes, county organizational director, who will also attend.

More than 2,000 farmers from almost every county are expected at the sessions from which the Farm Bureau's official policies for 1961 will be written. County Farm Bureau groups are holding annual meetings, making policy suggestions to be considered at the state event, Mrs. Hoopes said.

The 15-member state policy development committee will hold its first meeting here Oct. 9. The group will review county policy suggestions and hold open hearings.

In addition to the policy writing, Ohio farmers will hear nationally-known speakers.

Speakers will include Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau; Roy M. Kottman, dean of the College of Agriculture at Ohio State University; Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, and Gov. Michael DiSalle.

Archbishop Alter Marks 50 Years In Priesthood

CINCINNATI (AP) — Age-old rites and church pageantry have marked the 50 years in the Roman Catholic priesthood of Archbishop Karl J. Alter of Cincinnati.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York presided at a solemn pontifical high mass of thanksgiving Tuesday to mark the event in St. Peter in Chains Cathedral.

Along with 15 American archbishops and 60 bishops were Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston who gave the sermon and three other cardinals: James F. McIntyre of California, Albert Meyer of Chicago and Aloysius Muench of The Vatican.

Archbishop Alter has been head of the Cincinnati see 10 years and a bishop for 30 years. His 75th birthday was in August.

Marketing Unit Formed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Agricultural Marketing Association, a group designed to improve the economic position of farmers, has been organized. Ferris S. Owen of Newark, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, said "the purpose of the new marketing association is to bring together and organize Ohio bargaining groups on a commodity basis to improve the economic position of farmers."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's father is a widower. Nobody has counted his money but he may be a millionaire for all we know. He hasn't worked in years and lives off the interest of a business he sold in 1952.

My husband is his only heir and we have two daughters. A rather youngish widow has set her cap for my father-in-law and it looks very much as if she may land him. She has three teen-age children.

Since this woman has become friendly with my father-in-law she drives a new car an' dresses like Mrs. Astor's plush horse.

If he marries her his stepchildren may get everything and our children would be left out in the cold. Do you think it would be wise to talk to him NOW? Later may be too late, if you get what I mean.—LOOKING AHEAD.

Dear Looking: Your father-in-law is well aware that he has grandchildren. If he wishes to remember them in his will he will do so without any prompting.

The conversation you have in mind may well give him the impression that he's more valuable to you dead than alive.

Jealous Suitor

Dear Ann: I went steady with this beautiful girl for more than two years. We decided to get engaged last month. She was very proud of the ring I gave her and showed it off to all her friends.

This girl happens to be gorgeous with a great build. She knows she has assets and is always entering them in beauty contests.

Last Saturday she entered a contest and I went with her to the tryouts. She took off her ring and put it in her purse. I told her later this was an insult to both me and the ring. She said I was silly and I had no right to interfere with her career.

She won the preliminaries and will be entered in the finals soon. Shall I insist she wear her ring? —C. O. 7.

Dear C. O. 7: Don't you insult your fiancee by insisting she wear the ring in the contest if she doesn't want to. The important thing is that she conduct herself like an engaged girl, whether the ring is on her finger or in the purse.

Not True Owners

Dear Ann: Will you please help me to convince my husband that if you haven't got a deed to the property, it isn't yours?

My husband's stepfather gave us a small piece of land to build on. The property wasn't worth much until we built on it. It had to be bulldozed and put in shape.

We built a nice seven-room house and have lived here 12 years. In all this time my husband's stepfather has never bothered to make the land legally ours.

My mother-in-law hates me and would like nothing better than to throw us out if her husband should die first.

Please say something.—ALICE.

Dear Alice: There's no point in telling you now that you should not have built on property without first getting the deed—so I won't. For your peace of mind, insist that your husband have a showdown and either get the deed or sell the house.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Adds Belligerent Tone

Nixon Rips Kennedy Talk 17 Million In U.S. Hungry

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's increasingly tough and personal attacks on his Democratic rival added a more belligerent tone to the presidential campaign today.

Nixon, the GOP nominee, turned his attention to New York's 45 electoral votes with a series of speeches in this area after slugging at Sen. John F. Kennedy in Tennessee and West Virginia.

At Charleston, W. Va., Tuesday night, for instance, he accused Kennedy of having made a "false statement" that 17 million Americans go to bed hungry every night. Nixon called it "grist for the Communist propaganda mill" and demanded Kennedy retract it.

Nixon charged that responsibility for not getting action on a bill for the relief of the distressed areas of West Virginia and other states "rests squarely on the Democratic presidential candidate."

That charge was made before a crowd in the Charleston armory that observers said exceeded a turnout for Kennedy eight days earlier.

Immediately afterwards, in an impromptu talk to others who overflowed into an adjoining building, Nixon repeated a previous claim that Kennedy's campaign promises would boost federal spending $13 to $18 billion a year.

"This $13 to $18 billion isn't Jack's money," Nixon said of his opponent, the son of a millionaire. "It's your money he is spending."

"I know what it means to meet a family budget at the end of the month," Nixon continued, "and what a tremendous effort it is for most folks to pay their taxes and meet their bills."

That is why, Nixon told them, he, Nixon, is not trying "to buy the people's votes with their own money."

Earlier, to a big and rain-soaked crowd on the Mississippi riverfront at Memphis, Tenn., also bigger than when Kennedy spoke there, Nixon voiced support of the GOP civil rights plank and said he talked the same about it in the South as in the North, East and West.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Please suggest a quick and efficient method of removing wallpaper?

Q. How can I add a dainty aroma to our blankets, chenille robes, spreads, and the like?

A. When laundering these articles, add some of your favorite bath salts to the last rinsing water, and let them soak for about 10 minutes. They will be nice and fluffy, and daintily perfumed.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's father is a widower. Nobody has counted his money but he may be a millionaire for all we know. He hasn't worked in years and lives off the interest of a business he sold in 1952.

My husband is his only heir and we have two daughters. A rather youngish widow has set her cap for my father-in-law and it looks very much as if she may land him. She has three teen-age children.

Since this woman has become friendly with my father-in-law she drives a new car an.' dresses like Mrs. Astor's plush horse.

If he marries her his stepchildren may get everything and our children would be left out in the cold. Do you think it would be wise to talk to him NOW? Later may be too late, if you get what I mean.—LOOKING AHEAD.

Dear Looking: Your father-in-law is well aware that he has grandchildren. If he wishes to remember them in his will he will do so without any prompting.

The conversation you have in mind may well give him the impression that he's more valuable to you dead than alive.

Jealous Suitor

Dear Ann: I went steady with this beautiful girl for more than two years. We decided to get engaged last month. She was very proud of the ring I gave her and showed it off to all her friends.

This girl happens to be gorgeous with a great build. She knows she has assets and is always entering them in beauty contests.

Last Saturday she entered a contest and I went with her to the tryouts. She took off her ring and put it in her purse. I told her later this was an insult to both me and the ring. She said I was silly and I had no right to interfere with her career.

She won the preliminaries and will be entered in the finals soon. Shall I insist she wear her ring? —C. O. 7.

Dear C. O. 7: Don't you insult your fiancee by insisting she wear the ring in the contest if she doesn't want to. The important thing is that she conduct herself like an engaged girl, whether the ring is on her finger or in the purse.

Not True Owners

Dear Ann: Will you please help me to convince my husband that if you haven't got a deed to the property, it isn't yours?

My husband's stepfather gave us a small piece of land to build on. The property wasn't worth much until we built on it. It had to be bulldozed and put in shape.

We built a nice seven-room house and have lived here 12 years. In all this time my husband's stepfather has never bothered to make the land legally ours.

My mother-in-law hates me and would like nothing better than to th- w us out if her husband should die first.

Please say something.—ALICE.

Dear Alice: There's no point in telling you now that you should not have built on property without first getting the deed—so I won't. For your peace of mind, insist that your husband have a showdown and either get the deed or sell the house.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Adds Belligerent Tone

Nixon Rips Kennedy Talk 17 Million In U.S. Hungry

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's increasingly tough and personal attacks on his Democratic rival added a more belligerent tone to the presidential campaign today.

Nixon, the GOP nominee, turned his attention to New York's 45 electoral votes with a series of speeches in this area after slugging at Sen. John F. Kennedy in Tennessee and West Virginia.

At Charleston, W. Va., Tuesday night, for instance, he accused Kennedy of having made a "false statement" that 17 million Americans go to bed hungry every night. Nixon called it "grist for the Communist propaganda mill" and demanded Kennedy retract it.

Nixon charged that responsibility for not getting action on a bill for the relief of the distressed areas of West Virginia and other states "rests squarely on the Democratic presidential candidate."

That charge was made before a crowd in the Charleston armory that observers said exceeded a turnout for Kennedy eight days earlier.

Immediately afterwards, in an impromptu talk to others who overflowed into an adjoining building, Nixon repeated a previous claim that Kennedy's campaign promises would boost federal spending $13 to $18 billion a year.

"This $13 to $18 billion isn't Jack's money," Nixon said of his opponent, the son of a millionaire. "It's your money he is spending."

"I know what it means to meet a family budget at the end of the month," Nixon continued, "and what a tremendous effort it is for most folks to pay their taxes and meet their bills."

That is why, Nixon told them, he, Nixon, is not trying "to buy the people's votes with their own money."

Earlier, to a big and rain-soaked crowd on the Mississippi riverfront at Memphis, Tenn., also bigger than when Kennedy spoke there, Nixon voiced support of the GOP civil rights plank and said he talked the same about it in the South as in the North, East and West.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) —Estelle Sylvia Pankhurst, 79, militant champion of women's rights and eldest daughter of the British women's suffrage leader, Emmeline Pankhurst, died Tuesday of a heart attack. How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Please suggest a quick and efficient method of removing wallpaper?

A. Wet the bottom of a panel of paper with a sponge, dipped in water, let this soak for about 20 minutes or more, then lift the soaked paper and all layers will dislodge all the way to the top of the wall.

Q. How can I add a dainty aroma to our blankets, chenille robes, spreads, and the like?

A. When laundering these articles, add some of your favorite bath salts to the last rinsing water, and let them soak for about 10 minutes. They will be nice and fluffy, and daintily perfumed.

Q. How can I shine patent leather?

A. Use one-third water and two-thirds vinegar, or use petroleum jelly. After applying either, go over the entire surface with a clean, dry cloth.

Calcutta Firemen To Operate Stand

Calcutta volunteer firemen met Monday night and completed plans to operate a carnival stand in the fall festival of Beaver Local High School Boosters Club Friday and Saturday.

Seventeen attended. The department has accepted an invitation to attend a fire school of the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland Oct. 15.

Chief Laverne Seckman reported on plans to conduct fire training at meetings this winter. Norman Neal, president, has reminded residents that fire permits are needed for outside burning in October and November. The permits are free and are available from Cliff Dunn of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd.

The dance floor in the station is being refinished. A brick front also is being constructed. The next meeting will be Monday night at 8.

Columbiana Concerns Low Bidders For Road

LISBON—Two Columbiana firms submitted apparently the low bid for a State Highway Department project for Carroll County when offers were opened in Columbus Tuesday.

The department said the Harry Miller Excavating Co., Inc., and Earl Newell & Sons asked $743,744 for widening and resurfacing 4 miles of Ohio 43 north of Carrollton.

Three bridges will be replaced. The state estimated $859,009 for the project. The number of projects advertised for contractors' bids has declined sharply with the approach of winter. More bids will be opened Oct. 11, the department said.

Energizing Diet Aids Young Mothers

One overweight, puzzled as to why she cannot stay with a diet long enough to lose 25 pounds, writes:

By Ida Jean Kain

"I seem to fall into a slump after about a week of dieting. I get so discouraged, I go off the diet and soon I'm right back where I started. I now weigh 160 pounds, and I know I would look and feel so much better if I could reduce to 135, which is the right weight for my build.

"I have two children, one is 3 and the baby is 6 months. Many mothers gain too much during pregnancy, as I did. Please tell me how to get back in shape."

All young mothers interested, tune in. Forget about strict dieting. You need to eat for strength and you should exercise to restore tone to stretched muscles.

—:—

IT REQUIRES energy to look after two active children. Eat three good meals a day, but choose protective calories that do double-duty. Fortify yourself with a good breakfast...it helps prevent nibbling.

One homemaker who succeeded in losing 70 excess pounds made a habit of eating a big breakfast, including fruit, two eggs, a slice of lightly buttered toast, and black coffee.

And, do sit down to eat lunch. Perhaps you can arrange to eat a leisurely lunch while the children are napping. Keep this meal to about 350 calories.

Lunch might be soup made with skim milk, a salad with cottage cheese (½ cup) and 2 halves of canned pears or peaches, and a thin slice of high protein bread. Or use leftover meat to make an open-face grilled sandwich; fix a green salad and use a half tablespoon of French dressing; for dessert, have a piece of fresh fruit.

In the late afternoon you'll need an energy pick-up...hot cocoa using skim milk and non-nutritive sweetner; a glass of plain skim milk, buttermilk, or orange juice.

At dinner, eat one helping of everything, but trim the fats, skip bread and butter, and have fruit for dessert. It may be difficult for you to believe, but on this eating pattern you can lose between one and two pounds each week.

Exercise is important. Tone must be restored to the overly-stretched abdominal muscles, or alas, these flabby muscles will become fat-infiltrated. The following exercise helps to restore organs to proper position and tones muscles:

Position: "Stand" on knees, bend forward to get into the familiar knee-chest position, with head resting on folded arms. Hips should be in straight line over knees.

ACTION: Extend right leg up in air, hold for a second and return to knee-bent position. Raise left leg. Repeat six times alternating legs. Later increase to 12 times.

Set a regular time to exercise daily...10 to 15 minutes a day will work wonders.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Away With Middle Spread" and "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parents Often Conflict Over Discipline

Though I receive an occasional letter from a mother reporting that the father pampers the children or even interferes with her when she disciplines them, very often the father is described as too strict or severe. There are some reasons. Far more mothers than fathers read books and articles and listen to talks by child experts about child rearing; mothers hear far more of such talks at their P.T.A. and club meetings. These experts have tended to emphasize persuasive ways of rearing children and have generally warned against too great strictness in home discipline.

Dr. Garry Meyers

BEING WITH the child from his early infancy so much more than the father is, the mother is convinced that her generally milder and more persuasive ways of discipline are better.

Inclined to accept what she reads and hears as the gospel in child rearing, she often tells the more strict father, "You should have heard that," or "You should read this."

Had he heard or read what she had, he might have been more receptive to the milder ideas and ways. But very often he feels that such remarks by his wife suggest her superiority, in which case he may grow more severe with the children.

Then, more often than the mother, the average father sees in his daily work the need of discipline and obedience. More often than the mother, as a rule, he's out of sympathy with what seems to him excessive permissiveness in child rearing, especially in the early years.

AS A RESULT, there is often a conflict between his ideas of good discipline and hers. If he feels much frustration he may, at times, be exceedingly severe with the children.

At such times the mother may subtly or openly come to the child's defense, criticizing the father's severity in the child's presence; or, if she can, forbid him to go through with certain forms of discipline. Then he usually grows more harsh in the long run and she more lenient.

If, on the other hand, she were to stiffen up a bit, he would grow more mild.

They might iron out their differences better if they often talked over the whole matter together in private.

My bulletin "Fathers Are Parents, Too" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.
